GUILT DENIED IN OIL CASE

Fall and Doheny Enter Pleas

Accused Pair in Conspiracy Prosecution Surrounded by Lawyers in Court

Former Secretary Surprises Washington With Haircut and Clipped Mustache

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10. (AP)—Albert B. Fall, rancher, one-time Senator and but recently Secretary of the Interior, came before the bar of justice today and, with his old friend, Edward L. Doheny, California oil man, pleaded not guilty to a charge of having conspired to defraud the government in connection with the Elk Hills (California) naval oil reserve lease.

The proceedings, which lasted but a few minutes, were the initial steps in the criminal prosecution of a case which had its inception in the sensational disclosures before the Senate committee which, in 1924, inquired into execution of naval oil leases by Fall, as Secretary of the Interior, and Edward Harry P. Sinclair.

After the charge was read and both Fall and Doheny pleaded, counsel for the defense and government announced that they were prepared to go to the trial November 22, the date previously set.

Fall appeared in court in seemingly perfect physical condition, even though he was changed in many respects from the picturesque figure he was more than five years ago was a power in Washington's official life. The great shock of curia of his secretarial days had been replaced with a neat haircut, the once flowing moustache was closely cropped and his face lighter by perhaps thirty pounds.

The courtroom was packed with the prominent and lawyers interested in the various litigations against Fall Doheny, entered in a plain brown business suit, came in with Fall, dressed in blue serge, and they immediately took seats at the counsel table while the crowd waited for court to open, the former Secretary and the oil men conversed, apparently oblivious of the eyes turned upon them. When the charge was read, they rose and replied directly at Justice Hoehling.

Doheny replied in a high-pitched voice which shrilled plainly through the room, while Fall hung down the head and allowed his counsel to enter the plea. After waiting for the case to be read to him, Fall replied with a voice full and deep, which might have been answering a roll call in the Senate in more happy days, "Not guilty."

The defendants left the courtroom immediately, Fall departing with his chief counsel, Levi Cook, of Santa Fe, New Mexico attorney. Washington, D. Thompson, and Doheny with Frank J. Hogsh, chief of his legal staff.

Earlier in the day there had been some discussion that the trial might be postponed from the 22nd inst., but Atty. Gen. Stone Pomerene of the government's counsel, declared they were eager for the proceedings to begin.

RAIN SEEN FOR NORTH TODAY

General Downfall as Far as Central Part of State Foreseen by Bureau

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10. (Exclusive)—Northern California looked forward tonight to celebrating Armistice Day under cover when the Weather Bureau forecast the breaking of the dry spell in this section tomorrow. General rains are expected all along the coast of Northern California and may get as far south as the central part of the State. They emanate from a disturbance of marked intensity coming in from the Gulf of Alaska. Meteorologists refused to commit themselves on the prospects of Southern California getting any of the moisture.

ATTEMPT TO WRECK TWO TRAINS FAILS

Signal Lock Broken in Effort to Cause Collision of Limiteds in Arizona

PHOENIX, Nov. 10. (Exclusive)—The work of a train wrecker was foiled last night on the Southern Pacific main line because the Sunset Limited, westbound, was a few minutes behind its schedule. It was due to reach Smurr, five miles west of Gila Bend, in time to take the siding for passage of the eastbound Golden State Limited. But it was not on the siding when the train from the Coast came along, a few minutes before midnight. As the engineer of the Golden State Limited slowed down, his eye caught the fact that the rails led into the side track, though the signal blocks stood for the main line.

Investigation developed the fact that the switch lock had been broken and the switch bar and signals so twisted that a clear tracks was indicated. If the Sunset Limited had been in its usual place or the siding the other train, with unslackened speed, would have plowed into the standing train. About 300 passengers were on the two trains.

Russell P. Kyle, general agent of the Southern Pacific here, has announced a company reward of $1000 for the arrest of the intended wreckers. Belief is expressed that the deed was done by some criminally insane person familiar with the trackage and train schedules.

NEGRO FATALLY STABBED

FLAGSTAFF (Ariz.) Nov. 10. (Exclusive) The Flagstaff Lumber Company has lost two of its expert saw carriage men, both colored. Charles Hall is in jail, awaiting examination on a charge of murder of his working mate, Carl Pleasant. After a street altercation Hall opened a pocket knife, it is said, and stabbed his victim near the heart. Death was almost instantaneous. Illicit liquor is said to have been the primary cause of the trouble.

NORTH POLE LURE FELT

Science to Back New Air Trip

Detailed Study Planned for Arctic Regions by Nansen and Other Explorers

Party Will Drop Boat Down to Establish Vital Data on Land of Endless Ice

BERLIN, Nov. 10. (AP)—Plans for a new polar expedition by airship on strictly scientific lines were set forth by Dr Fridtjof Nansen, president of the International Society for the Exploration of Arctic Regions, at the opening of the international congress of that body today.

The project contemplates flights with numerous stops from Nome, Alaska, by way of the North Pole to Murmansk, Russia, or in the opposite direction. The airship will be manned by a crew of fifty, the men to work in three shifts.

Dr. Nansen declares that the flights of Byrd and Amundsen over the North Pole were great pioneer deeds but from the viewpoint of Arctic exploration, merely preliminary to detailed scientific investigations, necessitating numerous landings, each lasting for hours.

It is not known, for instance, said Dr. Nansen, whether Capt. Amundsen flew over shallow or deep waters. Arctic investigation, he contended, is necessary for an understanding of meteorological, geodetic, geophysical and biological phenomena in other parts of the world.

The dirigible airship already has proved its worth as an instrument of exploration. While the problem of landing on firm ground without aid has not yet been solved, it will be quite possible to drop a boat and crew into the water from the airship, he said.

Capt. Walter Bruns, the society's founder, declared that $500,000 will be necessary for the fitting out of the expedition, not counting the cost of the dirigible, which can be borrowed from some concern building airships. Dr. Eckener has promised to supply the society with a Zeppelin free of charge for two polar expeditions.

EAST COAST GRIPPED BY COLD WAVE

Wind from West Brings in Frigid Wave to New York and Other Points

NEW YORK, Nov. 10. (Exclusive) A cold wave swept into New York from the West today on a brisk wind that drove the thermometer down 11 deg. between 8 a.m. and 2 p.m., and brought freezing temperatures tonight. Reports of freezing weather from cities through the West and Northwest received at the Weather Bureau brought the prediction that a temperature of 28 deg. above zero will be registered here before morning.

From 53 deg. at 8 o'clock this morning, 6 deg. lower than the temperature at the same hour yesterday, the mercury dropped steadily to 42 at 2 p.m. The decline was still more rapid as the day waned.

Overnight in Syracuse the mercury fell 30 deg. to 36 deg. above zero. Another record low mark was reached at Savannah, Ga., where it was 48 above. Baltimore's temperature at 8 o'clock this morning was 44, registering a drop of 18 deg. overnight and showing that the cold wave is sweeping in over a wide front.

At 10 o'clock this morning the edge of the cold belt lay approximately along a line running from Savannah to Baltimore, then inland to a point 100 miles east of Pittsburgh and northwest across New York through Elmira and Utica up along the St Lawrence. Buffalo reported a drop of 20 deg. in temperature to 30 above, with ice forming in the creeks along Lake Erie.

London Bishop in Church Plea to Student Body

PALO ALTO, Nov. 10. (AP)—A plea for the incorporation of Christianity into the lives of students and for a strong support of the church as "an integral part of the plan of God," was made by Rt. Rev. Arthur Foley Winnington-Ingram, lord bishop of London, in an address before a student assembly in the Stanford Memorial Church here today. He described Christianity as the only chance for the world to grow better.

In answer to a number of questions which he said had been asked him, Bishop Ingram expressed an opinion that there is no essential contradiction between religion and science.

BRITISH HINT FILM TARIFF

Imperial Conference Group Discusses Plans to Build Up Own and Fight American Industry

LONDON, Nov. 10. (Exclusive)—The inauguration of a protective tariff against American films was the proposal entertained this afternoon by the committee of the imperial conference which discussed means of shutting out Hollywood's productions from England and the dominions, and the alternative problem of increased British films.

Under pressure of the large film interests here and the dominions of Australia and Canada, the conference is trying to devise an economic program which will put the industry on its feet, enabling British films to compete with American pictures and at the same time promoting the film industry as a means for propaganda through showing pictures made in the dominions in England and pictures made in England in the dominions, illustrating customs, manners and geography, thus serving to link the empire. The complaint is made that the excessive showing of American films instills American ideas in the British dominions.

The film problem was referred to the imperial conference after a special committee of Parliament failed to find satisfactory recommendations in reports submitted two months ago. This report advised three means, namely, adopting a quota system, continuing the present system or government production.

The film industry failed to agree on any terms of the report, the exhibitors opposing the producers' plan to cut down American pictures until the Britishers could produce just as good.

The economic committee's report will be submitted in a few days and it is likely it will recommend legislation providing for both a quota and a tariff.

Meanwhile the press is carrying on a venomous campaign condemning the vulgarity of American pictures, the latest onslaught being against "Ben Hur," just released.

DUKE INVOKES PAPAL AID

Marlborough Asks Pontiff to Nullify Vanderbilt Union So He May Join Catholics

LONDON, Nov. 10. (AP)—The Westminster Gazette understands that the Duke of Marlborough has asked the Pope to nullify his 1895 marriage with Consuelo Vanderbilt, which ended in a divorce after twenty-five years and the birth of two children, so that he can embrace the Roman Catholic faith.

The Duke's present wife, the former Gladys Marie Deacon, is the daughter of Edward Parker Deacon of Boston. He married her in Paris in 1921, a Presbyterian minister officiating, reading the Church of England service, from which the word "obey" was omitted.

The Westminster Gazette quotes an unidentified Roman Catholic authority "who is in possession of the whole details," as saying:

"Our church does not want the Duke unless there is really just cause. The whole matter for the present is held up. If the marriage with the Duke is to be regularized, it will be done privately by a priest. Before the Duke can be received into the church, the stain of his divorce will have to be wiped out and he will have to undergo a period of informal preparation and instruction. Nothing more can be done for a duke than for a tramp."

For some time past the Duke of Marlborough has attended the St. Aloysius Roman Catholic Church at Oxford.

INTENTION LAID TO FIGHT WITH CHURCH

The Duke's reported intention to join the Roman Catholic faith by having the Holy See annul his first marriage might have arisen out of his conflict with the Oxford diocese of the Church of England. Such annulment is a complicated procedure because the sacred rota tribunal often takes years to render a decision.

The much-debated question whether church or state shall control the liberties of individuals became a live issue when in 1922 the bishop of Oxford wrote to the Duke of Marlborough requesting him not to attend the Oxford diocesan conference. The bishop took the ground that he could not admit that the duke had the status of a communicant, because while the duke had been divorced and remarried, the law of the church, as set forth in the common prayer book made it very clear that it does not recognize divorce.

The divorce law reform union, however, took the ground that the church had no right to override the laws of the country outside of its own jurisdiction. The union declared that Marlborough was legally married, whereas the law of the church declared that he had contracted an illegitimate union. The Duke through his solicitors, denied the bishop's statement and authority and asserted that he had the sanction of his parish priests in Oxfordshire and London, with the full knowledge of "the proper ecclesiastical authorities."

German Crown Proposed for ex-Kaiser's Kin

BERLIN, Nov. 10.—Prince Wilhelm Friedrich of Prussia, son of the former Crown Prince, was advocated today as official candidate for the German throne by Gen. Von Cramon, speaking for the German Nationalistic party, in the Kreuz Zeitung.

The Nationalists are willing to offer the crown to the former Kaiser, Gen. Von Cramon says, provide evidence is obtained that the former monarch was coerced into abdication and did not relinquish his rights to the throne voluntarily.

Six of Family Burn to Death in Blazing Home

AUGUSTA (Ky.) Nov. 10. (AP)—Everett Florer, 40 years of age, and five of his children were burned to death in a fire which destroyed their home in Bracken county, twelve miles from here, last night.

Mrs. Florer was severely burned.

HOPES FELT FOR RETURN OF 'HUTCH'

Governor Gets Word That Decision on Bunko King Due Soon in New York

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 10. (AP)—Gov. Richardson still is hopeful that his efforts to extradite E. A. Hutchings, alias "Big Hutch," convicted Los Angeles bunko king, from New York, will be successful.

The Governor today received word from the District Attorney of New York that a decision soon will be handed down by the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court in the case of Hutchings, whose parole was revoked by Richardson.

Hutchings is fighting the extradition application on the grounds that he went to New York with the consent of the State Board of Prison Directors and hence is not a fugitive from justice.

"I feel confident," declared Gov. Richardson, "that 'Big Hutch' will be back in California and when he comes back, I feel confident that he will make revelations which will prove startling and will demonstrate to the people why such a determined effort has been made to prevent his being returned to California."

END COMES TO VICTIM OF CUDAHY

Man Slashed by Packer's Son at Kansas City Home Taken by Death

KANSAS CITY (Mo.) Nov. 10. (AP)—Jere S. Lillis, 63 years of age, retired banker and clubman who attracted nation-wide attention in March, 1910, when he was bound and slashed by the late Jack F. Cudahy, son of Michael Cudahy, millionaire Chicago packer, died here today.

At the time of the attack Lillis was president of the Western Exchange Bank here. He was a bachelor. He moved in the same social circle as the Cudahys. Lillis and Cudahy were warm friends. Returning to the Cudahy home unexpectedly, the packer's son found his wife Mrs. Edna C. Cudahy, with Lillis.

Cudahy was accompanied by his chauffeur. The pair bound Lillis with a clothesline. Then Cudahy slashed Lillis with a knife, inflicting wounds on his face, back, arms and legs. There was no prosecution. The "Cudahy case" received wide publicity.

Later the Cudahys moved to California, where Jack killed himself in Los Angeles in April, 1921, following ill health an financial troubles.

EPIDEMIC FOLLOWS FLOOD

ROYAL IDYL REALIZED

Prince and Astrid on Honeymoon

Leopold and Bride Slip Away to Dream Castle After Gorgeous Wedding

Packed Thousands in Streets of Brussels Cheer Couple After Ceremonies

BRUSSELS, Nov. 10. (Exclusive)—Alone and unobserved for the first time in ten days, Princess Astrid of Sweden and Crown Prince Leopold Belgium's future King and Queen slipped from Brussels tonight on what they hope will be a three months' honeymoon.

Tired after the ceremonies in Stockholm, where a civil union was pronounced, and here, where the church today gave them its blessing, the young lovers asserted the preorogatives not of royalty but of human beings. They have gone where none but their royal parents know, though it is presumably a dream chateau in the Belgian Ardennes, whence they again will slip away to the south of France to a castle loaned them as a lonely setting for a royal idyll there, until now played in the world's eye.

To and from the ancient Cathedral of Saints Michael and Gudule they rode through the streets of Brussels in triumph today in a great royal Berlin, drawn by four horses, with postillions and outriders clad in scarlet.

Princess Astrid, pretty Swedish girl with American frankness and American stride, appeared as a bride out of a legend to her future people. She wore a dress of silver lace, full length veil of priceless Brussels lace, caught tightly around her chestnut hair by a wreath of silver filigree and tiny orange buds and falling on an amazing train carried by four little counts clad in white satin and white plumes.

ROYAL CROWD

In the old cathedral, hung with priceless tapestries, she and Leopold, whose love for each other touched Belgium's heart, knelt before the altar, ablaze with 1000 candles, while two kings and queens, of Belgium and Denmark, thirty-four princes and princesses and lesser nobility and diplomats ablaze with decorations looked on.

Archbishop Van Roey of Malines, Cardinal Mercier's successor, did the best he could—for it was a mixed marriage, requiring the omission of mass and nuptial benediction—blessing, simple exchange of rings and pronouncing the Protestant Princess and Catholic Prince married in the eyes of Rome. Five bishops assisted in the ceremony. Princess Astrid left the church wearing her ring on the right hand, a curious Belgian custom.

Arm in arm, while tens of thousands of persons massed in the narrow streets since dawn cheered and waved handkerchiefs and bands played the Swedish and Belgian anthems and troops presented arms, Leopold and Astrid descended the cathedral's monumental steps under an arch of swords held at arm's length by officers in Leopold's class in military school.

Their progress through the streets and appearance on the high balcony of the royal palace were triumphs, with Astrid all dignity and grace, waving her bride's bouquet of orchids and white lilies of the valley to the crowds.

More than 200,000 persons, it was estimated, were gathered along the

Miss Fuller's Exit Restores Peace as Coloradoans Welcome Marie

Royal Visitor Given Troop and Band Display and Visits Cody Grave

QUEEN MARIE'S TRAIN AT DENVER, Nov. 10 (AP)—Peace and harmony settled over Queen Marie's train again today.

While the royal party was enjoying a hearty reception by Denver residents, the Lote Fuller party, which had become involved in much controversy aboard the special, left for New York.

Miss Fuller, war-time friend of the Queen, left on her own accord, with the understanding that she could remain with the party as long as she wished, as a guest of the Queen and Col. John H. Carroll, host to Her Majesty. Business engagements in New York require her presence there, she explained and she said good-by to the Queen during the morning.

With her went Miss May Bickhead, a press agent, and Miss Gabriele Gloc, secretary. The women were given a special car to take them to New York as guests of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad of which Col. Carroll is general counsel.

FULLER PARTY

The Fuller party, which joined the entourage at Spokane on the westward journey as guests of Samuel Hill, whose Maryhill museum was dedicated by Marie, became identified with the quarrel between Hill and Maj. Stanley Washburn, special aide to the Queen. The dispute concerned the question of command and although Mr Hill left the train at Seattle, the Queen found herself still between two groups of friends who declared they were working in her interest but through opposing channels.

Without taking public part in the controversy, Queen Marie let it be known that she desired a quiet and harmonious tour.

It was at her request that Maj. Washburn remained with the party after bitter remarks had been exchanged with Mr Hill at Portland, and it was with her agreement that Hill left the party at Seattle.

A note of peace and friendship was sounded by the Queen herself today in thanking Denver for its reception.

"We do not come these days as King and Queen to receive gold and frankincense," she said. "We come with another message—a message of friendship. We believe that as the world gets old, we pay more heed to those things which make life sweet for humanity. The message I bring with me is one of peace and love."

DENVER GREETING

Denver greeted Marie with a troop and band display, then took her to Lookout Mountain to see Buffalo Bill's grave and to have lunch at the Charles Boettcher residence. She greeted Denver school-children this afternoon, after a visit to Fitzsimons Hospital, where she talked to patients. Following a review of the Olinger Highlanders at the State capital she was the guest of honor tonight at a banquet given by the Mile-High Club.

There was no development today in the situation concerning J. B. Ayers, representative of the Ford Motor Company, who was expelled from the train in Seattle. The Queen motored in Ford's automobiles as usual today, but if Ayers was present he

HITTITE ROMANCE TRACED

Scientist Finds Records of Proposal by Widow of Tut-Ankh-Amen to Prince of Ancient Days

CHICAGO, Nov. 10. (AP)—An incipient romance of nearly 4000 years ago—a proposal of marriage by the widow of King Tut-Ankh-Amen to a Hittite prince—was revealed today by H. W. Von der Osten of the Oriental Institute of the University of Chicago, who has returned from a year of excavation among buried Hittite cities of Asia Minor.

The Egyptian Queen offered herself as a bridal prospect in a communication to a Hittite King, asking him if he had a son eligible to marry her. The scientist said the Queen was very young at the time, but did not give her age. The answer was not known, but Mr. Von Der Osten had a mass of manuscripts and inscriptions to decipher and these may throw further light on the affair.

These relics, of a powerful race or group of races which mastered all of Western Asia from the eighteenth to the twelfth centuries, B.C. and long have been a puzzle to archeologists and explorers, are expected to throw considerable new light on pre-Christian civilization.

Mr. Von Der Osten, who covered more than 3000 miles of Hittite territory in an automobile, accompanied only by his wife, discovered fifty-one settlements in Asia Minor, against three which previously had been known.

Inscriptions already transcribed by the Chicagoan indicate that the Hittites were the allies of Troy in the Trojan wars and also that they invaded Babylon ten centuries before the great Babylonian conquest recorded in the Bible. Other writings led to the belief that the race did not spring from Armenia, as once believed, but came into their lands from the south of Russia. The capital was called Mattushish, but the exact location was not determined.

NEW FINDS IN TOMB OF CHEOPS'S MOTHER

CAIRO, Nov. 10. (AP)—Dr. George A. Reisner, assistant professor of Egyptology of Harvard University, has issued a report describing the work he has done on the tomb of Queen Netepheres, mother of King Cheops and wife of Senefru, first sovereign of the fourth dynasty. The report says the identification of the tomb is based on two inscriptions in gold hieroglyphics on the back of a carrying chair.

Dr. Reisner asserted that he found evidence that Netepheres died some time after Cheops came to the throne and was buried at Dashur, on the west bank of the Nile and directly south of the great pyramids. The tomb was rifled by thieves and when the violation was discovered Cheops's secretary transferred the body to a new tomb at the entrance of the pyramid Ghiza. This tomb is a vertical shaft cut 100 feet through the limestone with the chamber opening from the bottom. Everything in the former tomb was brought out, even the things the thieves had smashed.

The discoveries included a bed and three chairs, still intact, fifty implements and tools, six of which are solid gold, fifteen of copper and the remainder of flint; a dozen wooden panels with inlaid floral designs and faience, framed in gold; household vessels, including three gold cups, a copper basin, twenty-eight alabaster vessels and five boxes of linen, almost entirely disintegrated.

Many of the vessels found represent the traditional types of the third dynasty. Perhaps the most impressive discovery was a gold-cased jewel box bearing the Queen's name and containing twenty silver anklets, graduated to fit the leg upward. Each anklet set with calachite, lapis lazuli and cornelian.

Dr. Reisner has now begun to remove the canopy on the alabaster sarcophagus, together with the panels bearing the name of Senefru. The canopy's framework is an astonishing piece of work. All the tenons and mortices are sheathed with copper. It has copper attachments for curtain or doors. The sarcophagus will probably be opened in December.

CLERIC'S 'PETTING' TRYST IN CHURCH ROOM RELATED

Maid Witness in Hall-Mills Case Tells of "Blundering in;" Evidence Held Hidden

SOMERVILLE (N. J.) Nov. 10. (Exclusive)—Love-making between Rev. Edward W. Hall and his choir singer, Mrs. Eleanor R. Mills, was described by Barbara Tough, maid in the Hall home, at the trial today of Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall and her two brothers, Henry and Willie Stevens. The three are on trial for the murder of Mrs. Eleanor Mills and Dr. Hall, Episcopal church minister, who were slain four years ago.

Miss Tough also testified in significant vein that Mrs. Hall and Willie Stevens were "out" during the evening of the murder of Dr. Hall and Mrs. Mills beneath a crabapple tree in DeRussey's Lane near New Brunswick, N. J.

She said she had known Mrs. Mills six years and was a member of the church guild. She testified that four years before the murder, one evening, on a night when the guild was not meeting, she had "blundered into the Sunday-school room."

"I knew Dr. Hall had preceded me from the house," the former maid testified. "As I entered the room, Mrs. Mills jumped from Dr. Hall's knees."

ENJOYS MEMORY

Barbara enjoyed telling her story. It was obvious that she liked to recall the spectacle of the lovers' confusion and the pretty choir singer abruptly leaving the rector's knees.

"What happened after she jumped off his knee?" asked Special Prosecutor Alexander Simpson.

"Eleanor began to laugh hysterically. 'Oh, it's only Barbara,' she said. Dr. Hall looked angrily at me. Then Eleanor and I walked out to go to the meeting and Dr. Hall followed us."

Barbara knew the gossip about the rector and the church janitor's wife, even if Mrs. Hall, as the defense claims, did not. Simpson wanted to prove Mrs. Hall's knowledge of the affair, in order, thereby, to prove a motive for the slaying of Mrs. Mills, for which Mrs. Hall and her two brothers are being tried.

"Well, by this time gossip was beginning—" started Barbara with great zest.

STORY INTERRUPTED

Senator Case, for the defense, interrupted. He looked long and pityingly at the white-haired woman, sitting erectly in her chair, hearing from the lips of a servant how her husband's kisses were given another woman.

And for once Case became almost eloquent.

"I object to this, your honor. The whole world might have known, or the whole world might have heard gossip about Dr. Hall's illicit relations with another woman. And yet it is entirely within human experience that Mrs. Hall might not have known. And it is a fact that she did not know."

Mrs. Hall held her head high. "Four years ago," she said, "her husband's love was the most beautiful thing in life. If her heart ached today as her former maid recited his philanderings, she gave no sign.

The court decided Barbara should tell on.

TOO FRIENDLY

"Well, I knew that Eleanor Mills was very fond of Dr. Hall, both as a minister and as a friend. I could see in the guild that she was one of his favorites. For two or three years everybody had gossiped about how friendly they were — thinking them a little too friendly for a minister and his parishioner."

Miss Tough told her story rapidly and almost without interruption. It dealt in the main with the small-town gossip which circulated among members of the church guild and the servants of the Hall household. Sometimes she discussed the affair with Louise Geist, nother maid; at other times she was present when members of the guild whispered of rumored happenings.

Mrs. Minnie Clark, frequently reputed to have preceded Mrs. Mills in the pastor's affections, was a member of the guild, the questioning brought out. Her cousin, Mrs. Marie Demarest, was not.

Tracing her movements on the day of the murders, the former maid said she left about 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon for the Parker home and after a two-hour visit went to dinner with a cousin. She drove about during the early part of the evening and returned to the house at 10 o'clock.

NOT AT HOME

"It was 10 o'clock sharp," she said, "because I heard the big clock downstairs.

"Didn't you see Mrs. Hall or Willie at home?" Simpson asked.

"No, I didn't see them. The lights in the hall, kitchen and library were on, but I didn't put them out. Usually the last person in did that and the cook was still out."

About 2 o'clock in the morning she heard Mrs. Hall walking about on the floor below, she testified. She was able to fix the hour of this occurrence by the striking of a clock a few minutes later.

The rest of the night was one of complete rest and quiet for her and she arose to her household tasks without seeing Mrs. Hall until about 9:15 o'clock the next (Friday) morning. During the morning she did not hear Mrs. Hall make a telephone call, although her mistress told her that Dr. Hall had not been home that night.

ASKS FOR HUSBAND

"About 7 o'clock Friday night," the witness continued, "Mrs. Hall came to me and said, 'Oh, Barbara, where is Mr. Hall?'

"I told her I wished I could tell her," the witness continued. "About a half-hour after that she called up Mrs. Storer, the church organist, and said Mr. Hall would not be at choir practice that night as he was out of town.

"The next morning she came from her room and said 'Well, this is another day.' Then she retired to her room and came out again with a pair of white silk socks she wanted me to wash."

"Were the socks for burial purposes?" Simpson asked.

The defense counsel unanimously indignant, started a vigorous protest and the question was lost.

The questioning then switched briefly to the activities of the Hall family in the summer before the murders. The former maid testified that Mr. Hall was away during July for three weeks at a boys' camp and that both he and Mrs. Hall were away for the same period in August.

QUESTIONED ON STEVENS

Then the questioning returned to Henry Stevens.

It occurred frequently that Henry Stevens went to Mrs. Hall without seeing Dr. Hall when he called, Barbara testified.

The witness was asked if the two men were friendly.

They were friendly in a cold sort of friendly way, seeing they were brothers-in-law, she replied.

Barbara also told of a telephone call which she said Mrs. Hall received on Friday, the day after the murders, and in the course of which she said:

"Mr. Hall is out of town. Don't tell me anything over the telephone."

Miss Tough was still on the stand when court adjourned until Friday.

Earlier in the day a prosaic-looking bus driver, Charles J. Alpaugh, came to the witness stand to tell what he had seen outside DeRussey's Lane on the night of the murders.

His contribution was only a link in the chain of evidence the State is working on. But it has its part and it caused obvious uneasiness today among the eight lawyers that clutter up Mrs. Hall's side of the counsel's pit in the crowded trial chamber.

TELLS OF CARS

Alpaugh was driving a bus from New Brunswick to Somerville. He passed DeRussey's Lane in Easton avenue shortly before midnight. There, twenty feet back of the notorious trysting road he saw a Dodge sedan and a Cadillac coupe. Persons were sliding down the bank, as if preparing to get into the cars.

Four years ago Mrs. Hall owned a Dodge sedan.

There was Dr. E. I. Cronk, too, a sallow little man with keen dark eyes. Four years ago he had a healthy curiosity about the manner in which the corpses of Mrs. Mills and Dr. Hall were being rushed into the ground without an autopsy. His curiosity got the better of him on Sunday, the day after the bodies were found.

He was in the John V. Hubbard undertaking parlor in New Brunswick. A mysterious telephone call came from Senator Florence, Mrs. Hall's attorney then, now dead. He did not hear the whole conversation; he did not know what Senator Florence said at his end of the wire.

Hubbard asked the doctor to identify the bodies of the lovers, since he had known them both in life. They already had been identified the day before by relatives, as it happened. When Dr. Cronk went into the funeral parlors to make a technical identification, he decided to satisfy his curiosity.

OPENS WOUNDS

There was a wound in Mrs. Mills's abdomen. He opened it "to see whether any organs were missing."

And why this strange conduct on the part of a man not officially called into the case? Dr. Cronk explained it in his quiet way.

"I knew there was concealed evidence in the dead and I wanted to see whether there was any in the abdomen. I knew there were three bullets in Mrs. Mills's head. And for two of them there were no exit holes. So I knew the bullets were still in there."

Although he had been told an autopsy had been conducted, Dr. Cronk said he knew that was mere hearsay. He knew no autopsy had been held and that a woman was going to be buried with evidence in her brain that the authorities should have.

Later he informed Prosecutor Joseph Bityeker, since dead, of this unusual proceeding.

After hearing these amazing statements, Senator Simpson tried frantically to get Hubbard, the undertaker, to court. He was reported ill. After court adjourned a bench warrant was issued for him, requiring his presence when the trial is resumed Friday.

Thirty-two at Susanville Given Pasteur Serum

RENO, Nov. 10. (AP) — Thirty-two persons are being given the pasteur treatment for rabies in Susanville, Cal., about ninety miles northwest of here, following a week in which mad dogs bit that many.

As the period of incubation is anywhere from three weeks to six months there is no instance of the period of danger having passed. The attending physicians, Drs. George S. Martin, Dan Coll, R. W. T. Gardner and G. R. Forston are administering the treatments and state that there is little danger of infection. Serum is arriving daily from a Berkeley laboratory.

Officials of Lassen county point out that the greatest danger lies in persons who have been bitten by canines who have not reported the incident. In most instances the bites inflicted by the dogs were not deep, but sufficient for infection.

INDIAN BUYS NINE CARS WITHIN THREE YEARS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10. (AP)—The palm for twentieth century spending was awarded by the Interior Department to an Indian brave. Records placed before department officials showed that an Osage, who has just reached 21, is facing outstanding debts of $30,000. In three years he has bought nine automobiles, has put first and second mortgages on all his land and has become jointly indebted with his father and a brother in various enterprises. The young man has accumulated oil royalties amounting to $45,000 to his credit, however, and department officials will undertake to untangle his liabilities.

FRENCH ARMY WILL TOTAL 678,000 MEN

PARIS, Nov. 10. (AP)—The total effectives of the French Army, both at home and abroad will number 31,029 officers, 647,436 men and 157,300 horses, under the provisions of the War Ministry's budget. In these figures are included 47,418 native colonials, 96,449 North Africans and 11,989 "Irregulars." Roughly the French army will be composed of 678,000 officers and men, of which 230,000 will be stationed in the colonies, 60,000 on the Rhine and 440,000 in France.

UNKNOWN DEAD TO BE HONORED

Service to be Conducted at Arlington Cemetery

President Will Share in Missouri Observance

Friends to Assemble at Tomb of Wilson

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10. (AP)— While President Coolidge rode swiftly westward tonight to speak for all his countrymen their share in the high pride with which Missouri will honor the valor of her own World War dead tomorrow, preparations were completed in Washington for the Armistice Day observance at the tomb of the Unknown Soldier in Arlington National Cemetery.

It is the first time since the interment of the Unknown Soldier in 1921, that the President has not gone in person to lay a wreath upon the tomb that gives the day its new significance in American hearts. No engagement but one of honor to the dead of the great war would have been permitted to interfere with the annual patriotic pilgrimage, and in the absence of the President and Mrs. Coolidge, a wreath from the White House still will be among those that will cover the simple resting-place of this lonely warrior. It will be placed there for the President by Capt. Leaven C. Allen, his military aide.

NO SET FORMULA

Aside from the military honors to be paid the war dead by living comrades at all army posts or stations, there is no set formula for observance of the day. At Arlington, those who will, may come to lay their tributes at the Unknown's tomb. A half-score of patriotic organizations have reserved time for such ceremonies at the tomb.

At Fort Meyer, the garrison ceremonies common to all army posts will be observed. From sun-up to retreat, the garrison flag will fly at half-mast. Just at 11 o'clock, troopers and gunners who make up the command will be paraded at attention for a single minute of motionless silence in salute. Then the guns will crash out in solemn tribute to the hour eight years ago when they were hushed for the first time in more than four years of warfare.

RITES AT WILSON TOMB

Another simple service of remembrance will be enacted at the tomb of Woodrow Wilson in the great cathedral looming slowly into being in the western heights. A group of those who style themselves just friends of the war President will gather to pay him honor.

At the Capitol, a new touch will be given when the colors rise at sun-up over the chambers of the Senate and the House. For the first time there will be companion flags on each staff, rippling just below Old Glory. They will be service flags of the World War, bearing the blue stars for all those who served and the gold stars of those who died for the flag in France.

Fugitive Taken to Face Charge of Manslaughter

RENO (Nev.) Nov. 10. (AP)—John Bondoras, wanted in Susanville, Cal., on a manslaughter charge, in an outcome of a fight with officers in that place early today, was captured in a hotel in that city tonight, according to dispatches to the Nevada State Journal.

Bondoras was badly bruised about the body as a result of an automobile accident which occurred while he was pursued by the town marshal after he and two women companions escaped while a fourth man, Frank Haderhauer, was being arrested. When the prisoner's car turned over, Lula Bondoras was fatally injured and Helen Edwards badly hurt.

The three were being taken to a Susanville hospital when Bondoras jumped from the automobile and escaped. Bondoras is asserted to have started a fight with several patrons of a resort and his three companions joined in. Officers were called to stop the quarrel.

BERLIN SINGER DIES

Joseph Schwarz Formerly With Bay City Opera Company

BERLIN, Nov. 10. (AP) — Joseph Schwarz, leading baritone of the Berlin Civic Opera, and former member of the Chicago and San Francisco opera companies, died during an operation for kidney trouble. He was 46 years of age.

Mr. Schwarz's widow was Mrs. Sielcken, whose first husband was known as the "coffee king." The Sielcken estate at Baden-Baden was the rendezvous for many visiting Americans.

Mrs. Schwarz received about $3,500,000 from the estate of her first husband, August Sielcken, in addition to a considerable fortune acquired by her father, the late Paul Isenberg, in the Hawaiian sugar industry.

MIDWEST GREETS COOLIDGE

President's Special Train Surrounded at Every Stop En Route to Missouri by Admirers

ON BOARD PRESIDENT'S SPECIAL TRAIN EN ROUTE TO KANSAS CITY, Nov. 10. (AP)—The Middle West gave the President and Mrs. Coolidge a friendly greeting today as they passed on their special train bound for Kansas City, where the President will deliver an Armistice Day address.

Only occasional operating stops were made by the train, but in each case groups of railroad men and citizens gathered about the observation car to extend a welcome.

The train, which left Washington late last night, ran almost immediately into cold weather and this morning found snow falling lightly. Mr. Coolidge, however, with Mrs. Coolidge, appeared without his overcoat on the platform to acknowledge the greetings early today at Pittsburgh. Then in the forenoon during a brief stop at Dennison, O., and again this afternoon at Columbus, O.

In Columbus the Presidential party was greeted by United States Senator Willis and Representative Speaks. The President posed for several pictures with Mrs. Coolidge, Senator Willis and Mr. Speaks.

ROSES FILL CAR

Mrs. Coolidge wore a blue and tan crepe gown, matched by a blue turban. The Presidential cars were massed with pink roses, but the First Lady wore a lone yellow rose.

Brief stops also were made at Urbana and Greenville, O., and Richmond, Ind., and Indianapolis this afternoon. Another stop was made at Terre Haute, Ind., this evening, the home of Secretary Sanders, who had the opportunity to greet friends there.

Crowds surrounded the observation car at the stations and set up a cheer at the appearance on the platform of the President and Mrs. Coolidge. Both nodded and smiled their acknowledgements and posed for photographs, but the President made no speeches. At Richmond, flowers were put on the train as a gift from the city to Mrs. Coolidge.

The President spent most of the day resting in his private car.

He did not bring a stenographer with him, since he planned to transact no government business on the trip but he spent considerable time in conference with Secretary Davis of the War Department and Everett Sanders, secretary to the President.

At other times Mr. Coolidge studied with deep interest evidences of industrial development and active business conditions along the way and heard with satisfaction, as indicative of the generally prosperous conditions, of the millions of dollars of improvements the Pennsylvania Railroad is putting into the line over which he rode.

SEES OHIO RIVER LOCKS

Again, when he crossed the Ohio River, he was shown a passing barge and told by Secretary Davis of the system of locks the War Department is building to improve navigation on that waterway.

Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge planned to have a motion-picture show in their private car this evening.

Both the President and Secretary Davis, who is a Missourian, will speak tomorrow forenoon at the exercises in Kansas City, dedicating the Liberty Memorial, erected in honor of the men of the World War. The cornerstone of the memorial was laid by Mr. Coolidge five years ago, when he was Vice-President.

After the exercises, the President and Mrs. Coolidge will attend a public luncheon and then will go by automobile to the adjoining city of Kansas City, Kan., for a brief visit and a sightseeing trip. It will be his first visit to the soil of Kansas. They will arrive in Kansas City tomorrow morning, and after a visit of seven hours, will leave in midafternoon for the return trip to Washington.

On the special train of six cars are military and naval aides to the President, secret service men and Washington newspaper correspondents.

GET BAY CITY TERMINAL

Hill Lines Reported to Have Bought Large Area as Part of Plan to Enter California

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10. (Exclusive)—Arthur Curtiss James, owner of controlling interest in the Western Pacific Railroad and one of the largest stockholders of the Great Northern, Northern Pacific and Burlington roads, will be in San Francisco Wednesday morning of next week.

His visit to San Francisco, particularly at this time, when admissions have been made by him that negotiations are under way for the consolidation of the three Hill roads, is most interesting, particularly in view of the fact that it would be logical to include in the $1,250,000,000 combine both the Denver and Rio Grande and the Western Pacific.

It is reliably reported that the Hill railroads have been the purchasers of huge acreage extending north of the Key System pier to a point west of the city of Berkeley. The lands will be used as the terminus on San Francisco Bay for the Great Northern and possibly for the Western Pacific, according to the report.

The property was purchased from the Spring Interests of Berkeley early this year. An announcement of plans to improve the property, which has been surveyed for some time, is expected soon.

Just how the Great Northern could come into San Francisco from the north is a matter of conjecture, although its plans to build as far south as Klamath Falls on the California-Oregon border are already under way. A line could be built from there to Chico, and the tracks and right of way of the Sacramento Northern and Sacramento Short Line could be used the rest of the way to San Francisco.

The Sacramento Northern is almost totally owned by the Western Pacific, while the Short Line is under contract to the Western Pacific, covering the major portion of its lines at the present time. The Great Northern could either obtain joint trackage rights or negotiate the purchase of the Western Pacific interests in both roads, without much trouble, as James controls both of the two transcontinental lines.

ELLIOTT DENIES

ACTUAL MERGER PLANS

NEW YORK, Nov. 10. (AP)—No workable plan of consolidation for the Hill railroads of the Northwest has yet been involved after years of discussion and none is in prospect until the Transportation Act has been amended, Howard Elliott, chairman of the Northern Pacific, said today in denying reports that a merger of this road with the Great Northern and Burlington actually was under way.

Mr. Elliott's statement was prompted by the prediction of Arthur Curtiss James, the country's largest individual holder of railroad stocks, that the three Hill systems ere long would be united, leading to the belief in some quarters that plans for the merger were nearing completion.

"The directors, executive officers and counsel of the three roads have discussed the question of consolidation ever since the Transportation Act of 1920 was passed," Mr. Elliott explained. "In the six years that have elapsed a workable plan for consolidation has not yet been developed and probably some amendment of the Transportation Act will be necessary before anything definite can be accomplished.

"Personally I have always been in favor of greater unification of these three roads believing that such unification will make of them a railroad system that will be of greater service to the West and Northwest than is the present arrangement, and will in time produce saving that will be very helpful to the important part of the United States served by these railroads and also the owners of the securities.

"No one can say today what the position of the Interstate Commerce Commission will be nor how rapidly any greater unification than exists today can be made effective."

Agrarian Acts Protested by United States

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 10. (Exclusive) —The American State Department's note protesting against the invasion of the Hacienda El Potrero in the State of Vera Cruz by agrarians was handed to the Mexican Foreign Office yesterday. This is the largest sugar property in Mexico. It is owned by Mrs. D. H. Lawrence of New York.

The State Department's note set forth that the agrarians invaded the property, taking 250 acres of improved land. They were armed and threatened to kill anybody who interfered with their possession. Charge d'Affaires Schoenfield, who transmitted the note to the Foreign Office, asked that military protection be given the property.

Bribing Mayor in Smuggling of Liquor Charged

CHICAGO, Nov. 10. (AP)—Edward Ritz, New Jersey customs inspector, today testified before a United States Commissioner that Cecil Kinder, asserted New York bootlegger, told him that he had paid more than $50,000 to the Mayor of Edgewater, N. J., for protection privileges in liquor smuggling. The government seeks to return Kinder to New York to face charges of conspiracy to violate the prohibition law.

Ritz further testified that Kinder tried to bribe him and other officials and that arrangements were being made to trap Kinder in bribery until Kinder found Ritz was a customs man and refused to do business with customs agents.

made no application to train officials for permission to get aboard.

While their mother is resting in Washington for four days after completing the transcontinental section of her tour, Prince Nicolas and Princess Ileana will make a trip to Chicago to see the Army-Navy football game, the 27th inst. They will travel in two special cars, chaperoned by Mrs. Stanley Washburn, John H. Carroll, Jr., general freight agent of the Baltimore and Ohio, and the children's aide and lady-in-waiting.

Arrangements were made to take the Queen's train out of Denver ahead of schedule tonight so she will be able to have fifteen minutes in Omaha tomorrow in which to greet Rumanian residents before moving on to Kansas City.

SPEEDING BY PARTY OF QUEEN PROTESTED

SPOKANE (Wash.) Nov. 10. (AP)—Unanimous protest against reported speeding by Queen Marie's party in Spokane last Sunday was voted today by the Chamber of Commerce accident committee.

The action followed reports made to the committee that the police escorted a party of the Rumanian Queen which drove about parts of the city at sixty-five miles an hour. The chamber committee protested against allowing "any alien" to violate laws for which American citizens would be arrested.

National Convention of Hobos Invites Marie to Share Luncheon With Them Today, Declaring Her Free Rides Entitle Her to Some Consideration

OMAHA, Nov. 10. (AP)—Now that Queen Marie of Rumania has met and conversed with the American farmer and the Sioux Indian during her tour of the United States, she has an invitation to lunch with American hobos.

At the national convention of the hobos here today, James Eads How, "millionaire hobo," and trustee of the national hobo organization, invited Her Majesty to take lunch with the convention delegates during her fifteen-minute stopover here tomorrow noon, en route to Kansas City. It is certain, however, that the invitation can not be considered. A reception committee of prominent Omahans will take up the brief period greeting Queen Marie and her party.

"We want Queen Marie to visit us," How told the delegates. "Maybe we can do her a lot of good. But we consider ourselves better than any Queen. The invitation does not imply that the Queen is considered a member of the National Hobo Association, although she is riding free."

A deficit of 89 cents in the treasury of the national organization, the problem of getting high-caliber officers in some eastern chapters to take the place of those who absconded with funds ranging from $8 to $18, and a program to educate the American public that the hobo must have better working conditions were the principal topics of discussion at the convention today.

"In many instances a hobo comes to a strange town and even offers to pay 75 cents for a higher-class room to get away from the bugs and dirt, but the hotel keeper refuses him lodging, telling him to go down to the dirty end of town," one of the leaders of the convention explained. "When the American public helps the American hobo and gives him a chance to better conditions, it will understand us better."

WAR MEMORIAL POEM IN STONE

Mighty Kansas City Throng to Greet Coolidge

President Will Dedicate Gigantic Shaft

Armistice Day Speech to be Broadcast

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 10. (AP)—A giant limestone shaft, thrusting heavenward a huge bowl of perpetual fire, will be the central point of a mighty throng tomorrow when the Liberty Memorial is dedicated to the memory of this city's heroic veterans dead and living of the World War.

A tribute from the humble and the rich is the ode in stone that will be dedicated by President Coolidge, who with Mrs Coolidge and party, will arrive from the national capital on a special train tomorrow morning.

GUNS TO SALUTE

More than $7,000 persons contributed more than $2,000,000 to the construction of the memorial.

Atop Memorial Hill, opposite Union Station, the shaft pierces the sky and commands a vista of the city and a portion of the Missouri Valley. The buildings that flank the shaft will be used for a war museum and a memorial hall for the American Legion.

A battery of French 75's of the Missouri National Guard will bark out a salute of twenty-one guns as the President and party emerge from the Union Station on their arrival.

November 1, 1921, President Coolidge was present as Vice-President when the site was dedicated.

The Presidential party will be taken over a parade route, through decorated streets, to the Muehlebach Hotel, where the President will rest until the dedication program begins at 10:30 a.m.

An address at the memorial by A. A. Long president of the Liberty Memorial Association, will precede that by Mr. Coolidge, the armistice hour of 11 o'clock will be tolled by a bell that will be heard over the country, for its vibrant tones will be broadcast by radio to the corners of the nation. Its tolling will usher in a moment of quiet tribute. A disabled veteran will toll the bell.

QUEEN ALSO DUE

The President's address will follow also to be broadcast. It is expected to take half an hour. The ceremonies will close at high noon.

On the day's crowded program is a Presidential luncheon at 1 p.m. at the Hotel Muehlebach. Then the Presidential party will take a brief motor tour of Kansas City, Kan.

The tour of the city completed, the party will return to the Missouri side and soon thereafter leave on the return trip to Washington.

A host of distinguished guests began arriving today for the event, which concludes tomorrow night with a visit by Queen Marie of Rumania. Hardly will the President's train have departed for Washington before the special bearing the royal party arrives from the West for a brief stop. The Queen will place a bronze wreath at the base of the shaft.

A crisp bright autumn day is forecast.

BASEBALL "IRON MAN" OF EARLY DAYS DEAD

PEORIA (Ill.) Nov. 10. (Exclusive) George B. Pinkney, who won the title of the "Iron Man of Baseball" by playing 578 consecutive games with American Association teams back in the '90's, is dead at his home here. He began his baseball career with the Peoria Reds team and then went to Cleveland and later joined the "Brooklyn Bridegrooms," a major league outfit so-called for having several newly married players. His baseball career was cut short by an injury and he became a railroad official here.

FORD PLANS FOR RAIL EXTENSION REPORTED

NEW YORK, Nov. 10. (AP)—Henry Ford is reported in the financial district today to be considering a plan for the extension of the Detroit, Toledo and Ironton Railroad into the Elkhorn coal fields of Kentucky where he has several hundred thousand acres of coal in Clay, Perry, Pike and Letcher counties. Such an extension, it further was reported, would enable the Ford railroad to hook up with the Virginian railroad, whose western terminus is at Deepwater, W. Va.

Russia Makes No Move for British Treaty

LONDON, Nov. 10. (Exclusive)—No progress has been made toward a settlement of the British financial claims against Russia, Sir Austen Chamberlain stated in the House of Commons this afternoon.

Replying to a query, Sir Austen admitted the Russian Foreign Office has made proposals for negotiations to put the relations between the two countries on a better footing and he had indicated conditions as a precedent to successful negotiations.

The chief condition is a guarantee that the political clause embodied in the trade agreement will be kept. This reference apparently concerned official propaganda activity.

Aluminum Company Head Testifies at Trade Commission Hearing

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 10. (AP)—The Aluminum Company of America acquired the property of the Southern Aluminum Company at Baden, N. C., during the World War to speed up production of war material, A. V. Davis, president of the Aluminum Company of America, testified today at the Federal Trade Commission hearing into charges of monopolistic practice by the company.

The deal for the purchase from French owners of the Baden property, which has figured in previous testimony, Davis said, was made at the request of the French government. By taking over that plant, the aluminum head added, his concern was able to increase production of aluminum for the Allies and later for the United States when this country entered the war.

Davis termed "ridiculous" any statement that the aluminum company has a monopoly on water power in the United States.

Estate of Mrs Ross to be Divided Among All of Heirs

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10. (AP)—A $95,000 estate left by Mrs. Bettie Ross, who died in Santa Clara county in June, 1923, will be divided among heirs as though she died intestate, as the result of a California Supreme Court decision handed down here today.

Reversing a Superior Court decision, the higher court held that James Marco Gorman, a nephew, who claimed approximately $46,000 of the estate, had produced insufficient evidence to prove the existence of a "lost will," naming him the principal heir.

The asserted "lost will" was contested by Mrs. Ella Taylor, sister of Mrs. Ross, and four nephews and nieces.

COOLIDGE FROWNS ON OTTAWA SUGGESTION

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10. (AP)—President Coolidge does not lend any particular favor on suggestions of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee meet at Ottawa at some future date with the Council of British Premiers. The White House disclosed yesterday that the President did not believe the Senators should undertake such a trip, or that any contribution toward world peace would result. The President's attitude was called to the suggestion as a result of the speech made in London by Premier Stanley Bruce of Australia urging closer co-operation between the two countries on world peace questions.

ORDER HELD AID TO PRIVATE INDUSTRY

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10. (AP)—Increased opportunity for private development of Philippine industry is expected here to result from the order of Gov.-Gen. Wood dissolving the Philippine Board of Control.

Under legislation passed many years ago, the island Legislature proposed development of coal, petroleum and cement industries through companies in which the majority stock was to be owned by the Philippine government. The voting of the stock rested in the hands of the Board of Control, consisting of the Governor-General, the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House.

Gen. Wood questioned the validity of the Board-of-Control plan in April, and the Judge Advocate-General of the Army held that executive powers granted the Governor-General by Congress in 1916 had been repealed. In an opinion dated September 22 last, and signed by Wilfred J. Donovan, as Acting Attorney-General, this view was upheld.

ON TIA JUANA

ures Plans in Motion to Stop Horse Racing

tusive)—Rudolph Spreckels, leading pro- amendment defeated at the recent elec- uana "out of business" so far as racing is concerned.

In fact, Spreckels said today that he "is going" to put Tia Juana "out of business" and he intimated that the method by which this is to be accomplished has been so perfected that realization of his purpose is only a question of how long it will take certain official routine to eventuate in effectiveness.

Spreckels was reticent when it came to disclosing his plans, but admitted that they are based on having elected by the Federal government regulations governing control of the border so stringent as to make it virtually impossible for persons to cross into Mexican territory unless they have some object other than that of pleasure.

The Spreckels activity in getting behind the movement is understood to be prompted by a desire for revenge. In speaking in behalf of the proposed race-track measure, before election, he made the statement that the interests behind Tia Juana had subscribed $75,000 to the campaign fund of those who opposed racing in California to the accompaniment of legalized betting.

"Further than to admit that I am working to the purpose that racing for profit will be impossible in Tia Juana, I must decline to discuss the subject," Spreckels said today. "My plan is based on the enactment of government regulations for crossing the border."

Spreckels said that his plan will not become operative until after the racing starts the end of this month.

"It will be time enough to let them get started," he said.

FILIPINOS FIGHT WOOD'S ORDER

Abolishment of Board of Control Protested

Ruling on Legality May be Contested in Court

MANILA, Nov. 10. (AP)—Filipino leaders were attempting tonight to find a method of counteracting Gov.-Gen. Wood's order of today abolishing the Philippine Board of Control.

The unexpected announcement of the unexpected announcement found them unprepared. It Wood follows the policy indicated by the opinion of U. S. Atty.-Gen. Sargent and Judge Advocate-General Davis, he will appoint all directors and officers of the various government-owned corporations, including the Philippine National Bank.

The Governor-General's order, issued in accordance with the opinions rendered by the board created by the Philippine Legislature was illegal and unconstitutional, will have far-reaching effect, Filipino leaders said, in that they would not venture an opinion as to the final outcome. It was agreed by some that the order ought to be tested in the courts, but they did not contemplate such action at present.

Wood did not indicate he would make any radical changes at present, but if his order is contested in the courts, it is admitted he has the power to make changes in personnel and frequently were opposed by Manuel Quezon, President of the Philippine Senate, and Manuel Roxas, leader of the House. Quezon and Roxas, other members of the Board of Control, often overrode decisions of the Governor-General, its ex-officio member.

Some legislators suggested that the Legislature might pass a new law creating another Board of Control consisting members of the Legislature, eligible to membership. Atty.-Gen. Sargent's opinion indicates that the Philippine Legislature may create another board by statute, which would recognize that the duties of the board were executive, and subject to the provisions of the Organic Act of the Philippines relating to executive functions.

WOOD HELD AID TO PRIVATE INDUSTRY

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10. (AP)—Increased opportunity for private development of Philippine industry is expected here to result from the order of Gov.-Gen. Wood dissolving the Philippine Board of Control.

Under legislation passed many years ago, the Island Legislature provided development of coal, petroleum, iron and cement industries through agencies in which the majority interest was to be owned by the Philippine government. MOTHER IN GRIEF FINDS BOY ALIVE

Letter from Him Comes as She Identifies Victim of Auto as Son

OAKLAND, Nov. 10. (AP)—A postman making his rounds rang up the curtain on a strange drama when he pressed the doorbell of Mrs. Ramona Miller yesterday. He presented Mrs. Miller a letter from her son Robert McDonald, 15 years of age, runaway school boy, saying he was "broke" in Yreka, and wanted some funds to get home.

An hour before, Mrs. Miller had recognized a battered boy form at the morgue as that of Robert. The boy had been killed in an automobile accident at Dixon, Solano county, and was identified as Robert McDonald through an unmailed letter signed by that name and addressed to Mrs. Miller, which was found in his pocket.

Mrs. Miller had completed plans for the funeral of the boy she had identified as her son, when the postman came with the letter from Robert, written after the Dixon tragedy.

The body of the dead boy was returned to Dixon, where, after further investigation, he was found to be C. Vine Coons, who had been working on a ranch near Yreka and who was on his way to visit an uncle in San Diego when killed. It is supposed that he was a companion of the McDonald boy at Yreka, that young McDonald had given him the letter to Mrs. Miller to mail, and that he had forgotten to do so.

Deserted City Threatened as Quake Result

LENINAKAN (Armenia) Nov. 10. (AP) Sufferers from the recent earthquake, despairing of their ability to rebuild their homes, have left for more promising parts of the Caucasus. Each person carried a blanket bearing the label "A gift from the American people."

Earth shocks of moderate intensity have continued for a week past. The authorities fear that if they persist the city shortly will be entirely deserted.

American relief workers are appealing to families in the United States to send old clothes, shoes and blankets for the distressed population. With the advent of winter and zero weather they are suffering bitterly. Masses of destitute Armenians are streaming across the border from Turkey, having lost everything they possessed.

QUIZ ON IN GANG MURDER TRIAL

Chicago Acquittal Denounced by Authorities

Application for Reopening of Case Planned

New Evidence Reported in Hands of Police

BY J. P. GALLAGHER
"Times" Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, Nov. 10. (Exclusive)—Investigation of the acquittal of Joe Saltis and Frank (Lefty) Koncil, tried for the murder of a rival gang leader, John (Mitters) Foley, was started today with a conference in the chambers of Judge Miller, who presided over the case, between Charles A. McDonald, special State's Attorney; James C. O'Brien his first assistant, and Samuel Bilger, foreman of the Saltis-Koncil jury.

It was stated on reliable authority that Mr. McDonald would formally apply to Judge Miller for a reopening of the case with a summary investigation of the jurors. Acc rding to rumors it has been intimated that some one on the jury had been "planted" there by the defense and had worked so effectively for the release of the defendants that the first vote stood 9 to 3 for acquittal.

In another quarter it was said that Chief of Detectives Schoemaker, almost a daily attendant at the trial with a picked lot of detectives, had a lot of information on the case he was prepared to lay before the judge.

VERDICT DENOUNCED

Coming out of the conference with Judge Miller, Mr. McDonald flatly characterized the verdict as a "miscarriage of justice."

"When men act as cowards it is perhaps time to get women on our juries," said McDonald. "Gangland has a strangle hold on the men of this community." Prosecutor McDonald continued. "The high courage of Mrs. Ruth Brown who witnessed the murder of Foley, the beer gangster, by Saltis, the beer gangster boss, and who identified Saltis in court, is to be lauded and it is a pity we could not have women of her type on the jury instead of spineless men.

"Gangland has invaded the temple of justice and has used the attaches of the courts to defeat the end of justice. This was possible because of the mediocre men on the jury which was all we could get because naturally any high-class man had an opinion that Saltis was guilty.

"The jurors we had to take were undoubtedly peers of Saltis. The jurors didn't give Saltis a fair trial. They didn't give him any trial. They put Chief of Detectives Schoemaker and the State's witness on trial.

"And today they offer the flimsy excuse that they thought Mrs. Brown and John Adams were too far away from the murderers to recognize Saltis. What they did was deliberately, the word of disreputable characters against that of a decent woman and a decent man."

EVIDENCE COMPLETE

Prosecutors, police and even Judge Miller expressed dissatisfaction with the verdict.

"I think the evidence warranted a verdict of guilty," said Judge Miller after he had discharged the defendants.

The trial of Saltis and Koncil was the first ever held in a murder traced directly to the powerful gangsters whose activities have cost more than 100 lives alone in Chicago.

"We regarded the evidence against Saltis and Koncil the most certain ever collected in a gang-war murder," said Special State's Attorney Charles A McDonald, former judge, who conducted the prosecution, although he did not participate in the court proceedings. "If we could not get a conviction where we had positive identification against a flimsy alibi, it looks like a hopeless task to suppress gangland activities in Chicago."

IDENTIFICATION POSITIVE

Two witnesses had positively identified Saltis as the murderer of Foley and other witnesses to the murder gave corroborative evidence which showed that Saltis, Koncil and others had waited for Foley to leave his home on August 6, last, the day of the murder, and then to have shot him in broad daylight at Sixty fifth and Rockwell streets.

While the investigation of the acquittal was under way Saltis, as he moved through the doors of the County Jail to freedom, stepped into one of Uncle Sam's men, who had a warrant for his arrest on charge of conspiracy to violate the Volstead Act.

The charge against Saltis was made after Peter Miksha proprietor of a saloon at 2301 West Fifty-first street, had told government officials that he had been buying beer from Saltis, and his gang at $60 a barrel "with protection." Miksha and a number of others were arrested in a raid that resulted in the arrest also of Saltis a short time before the Foley murder.

The police found the saloon to be a veritable arsenal for the asserted gangsters, and confiscated shotguns, rifles, revolvers and ammunition found in the place.

Six Carpenters Free on Bail in Strike Slaying

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10. (AP)—Six union carpenters charged with murder and assault in connection with the death of C. W. Campbell, a nonunion carpenter, as the result of a strike riot, were liberated on $25,000 bond each today.

The men won the bail order on habeas corpus proceedings after the District-Attorney's office announced that it had no evidence to present against them other than that given to the grand jury. They are Archibald Mooney, organizer for the International Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners; Paul Clifford, Albert Moore, Christopher O'Sullivan, Samuel Moore and J. J. Cannon. Trial of the men and others accused with them has been set for December 14, next. All have pleaded not guilty.

BLAST INJURIES FATAL

MESA (Ariz.) Nov. 10. (Exclusive) James L. Webb, 42 years of age, has died of injuries received while at his work for the Water Users' Association. He had stepped back a short distance after firing a charge of dynamite, and was immediately above a second charge which was exploded by the detonation of the first. Surviving are a widow and two children.

SEMINOLES METE JUSTICE

Tribal Council in Everglades Fastnesses Orders Slayer Killed With Club He Wielded

MIAMI (Fla.) Nov. 10. (AP)—In the everglades country the immutible justice of the Seminoles has meted out the penalty of death to a tribal murderer to atone in part for the life of a slain brave. Past the barriers of Indian stoicism the fragmentary tale was brought here last night by a half-breed interpreter.

Two weeks ago the boom of tocsin and tom-tom resounded through the glades, heralding the first celebration of the Seminole nation since the gala marriage festival of Chief Tony Tommy and Edna John Osceola in June. Decked in their glittering finery and bright-hued apparel, the remnants of the vanishing race assembled.

Far into the night the braves and their squaws sang and danced. In the early hours of the morning, Pashey Billy, in a drunken flash of temper, clubbed a friend and companion to death. Pashey Billy escaped in the excitement which followed and remained hidden for a week in a secluded hammock. Then his fellow-tribesmen closed in and captured him.

At old John Willie's camp, the death sentence was pronounced on Pashey Billy by the Council of Elders, under a canopy of blue sky, between walls of cypress and marsh grass. The court heard and rejected the defense plea that Pashey Billy had imbibed too freely of "kiohmi," the powerful native beverage.

Charlie Tigertail, a leader in the affairs of the tribe, was delegated to take the life of Pashey Billy in the same manner and with the same cudgel as used by the convicted brave.

MRS. CHILD DIVORCED BY PARIS COURT

Details in Separation of ex-Ambassador and Author from Wife Suppressed

PARIS, Nov. 10. (Exclusive)—Mrs. Richard Washburn Child today obtained a divorce from the former American Ambassador to Rome, author and former personal friend of President Coolidge.

The decree was issued in Paris without affording a single thrill or scandal. The courts today suppressed completely all details of the charges. The official report stated simply that desertion was charged and Mrs. Child was given the custody of their children.

Over a year ago it became known that Mrs. Child and her husband were living in separate hotels in Paris and reports were circulated that divorce action was pending. The rumors were promptly hushed up by Mr. Child, who declared the report was not true. Thereafter he deleted his own name from the lists of all social functions he attended, taking every precaution to prevent the remark that he was not reconciled with his wife.

Mrs. Child, herself a prominent writer, returned to the United States when her husband's suit was filed but later it was mysteriously withdrawn following a private understanding that she would sue in Paris, thus avoiding publicity. Although the French law provides that a residence must be established before a divorce may be had, which is granted only according to the laws applicable to the home State in America, Mrs. Child had no difficulty in getting her decree, starting the action when she returned to Paris in September, 29, last.

Suit Points to Rose Stokes as Co-respondent

NEW YORK, Nov. 10. (Exclusive)—An echo of the divorce that ended the marriage of Rose Pastor Stokes to J. G. Phelps Stokes, millionaire Socialist, was heard in Supreme Court. Mrs. Stokes, a radical, was named as co-respondent in a divorce suit by Mrs. Sarah Grossman against Irving Grossman, a hotel owner of Sharon Springs, N. Y.

At the trial of Stokes's suit last year witnesses testified Mrs. Stokes said she intended to marry Grossman, whom Stokes designated as interloper. The millionaire charged the pair with misconduct at Grossman's hotel.

Mrs. Grossman asks $150 alimony pending determination of her action. The former Mrs. Stokes and Grossman have twenty days to answer the charge.

Recoverer of Many Drowned Persons Dies

STILLWATER (Minn.) Nov. 10. (AP) "Fisherman" John Jeremy, 41 years of age, who recovered 500 bodies of drowned persons in all parts of the United States, is dead here.

He imparted his secret method of recovering bodies to a 12-year-old nephew just as he obtained the knowledge from his father before the latter died eight years ago.

John Jeremy, Sr., also known as "fisherman," had recovered nearly 1000 bodies.

BULGARIAN RED CROSS GETS AMERICANS' AID

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10. (AP)—A gift of $5000 has been made available to the Bulgarian Red Cross by the American Society to aid in caring for refugee children in that country. This amount, forwarded through the State Department and the American Consul at Sofia, brought the American contributions for this purpose to $25,000. It was appropriated on the basis of reports from the league of Red Cross societies and from American Red Cross representatives abroad that funds were sorely needed to provide food. About 3600 must be fed until April, it was estimated, at a cost of $20,000.

PASTOR QUITS POST OVER SLANDER SUITS

MUSKEGON (Mich.) Nov. 10. The resignation of Rev. George Harness from the pastorate of the Forest Avenue Church of Christ has been accepted. It was tendered yesterday after the pastor had indicated his desire to drop damage suits he has filed against four Muskegon women, charging them with making slanderous statements about his conduct with other women.

Mr. Harness sought to dismiss suits, but the women refused to sign stipulations, declaring they wished to have the cases go to trial that they might be vindicated. Each of the women is a church member, three being members of the Forest-avenue church.

TRADE LOSS IN WAR GIGANTIC

"Might Have Been" Exports Put at $210,000,000,000

World Commerce Stunted by Conflict of 1914-18

Even United States Still Far Behind in Schedule

NEW YORK, Nov. 10. (AP)—The world has fallen short by more than $210,000,000,000 of the total of merchandise exports it would have added to international trade if it had not been for the World War, according to estimates contained in an "Armistice Day accounting" issued by the National Foreign Trade Council.

Due to the "economic dislocation" caused by the war, says the accounting, which is based on the foreign trade of seventy nations, which do more than 90 per cent of the world's export trade, the world succeeded only last year in getting back to a 1913 basis for the first time since the war.

These nations had an export trade in 1913 valued at $19,426,000,000. Last year the figure was $29,270,000,000, but at 1923 buying power, this amounts to $19,950,000,000.

The amount of world trade there would have been if there had been no war was reckoned by the rate of advance from 1900 to 1913, which amounted to 6½ per cent annually.

To meet the setback caused by the war, it was said, world trade now has accelerated its pace and for the last three years the advance has been more than 10 per cent annually. Even at this rate, however, it will take thirty years to make up for what has been lost.

Even this country, which has gained almost 33 per cent in real exports since 1913 and has made the greatest gain of all nations in volume of trade acquired, is still more than $2,000,000,000 behind the export trade it would have had if the prewar gain had been uninterrupted.

CALIFORNIA FIRST IN GAS TAX TOTALS

Research Figures Show Two States Making Levy of Five Cents Per Gallon

CHICAGO, Nov. 10. (Exclusive)—Motorists in South Carolina and Kentucky pay 5 cents tax on every gallon of gasoline purchased, while those buying "juice" in Illinois, New York, New Jersey and Massachusetts find no tax assessed, according to the latest bulletin on the subject issued here by the American Research Foundation.

"Gasoline service stations in forty-four States and the District of Columbia last year collected $148,236,087 in taxes, averaging 2.26 cents a gallon on 6,457,783,294 gallons," the bulletin states. "Nation-wide distributors of gasoline like Standard and Sinclair not only provide stations in every part of the country where the motorist can get the high-compression gas he wants and exactly the right kind of oil for his engine, no matter where he may find himself, but they turn over millions of dollars in gasoline taxes collected without expense to the State.

"Complete States tax list is: Five cents—Kentucky, South Carolina; 4½ cents—Virginia; 4 cents—Arkansas, Florida, Nevada, North Carolina; 3½ cents—Georgia, Utah, West Virginia; 3 cents—Arizona, Idaho, Indiana, Maine, Mississippi, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Oregon, South Dakota, Tennessee; 2½ cents—Wyoming; 2 cents—Alabama, California, Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, District of Columbia, Iowa, Kansas, Louisiana, Maryland, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, New Hampshire, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Vermont, Washington; 1 cent—North Dakota, Rhode Island, Texas; no tax—Illinois, New York, New Jersey, Massachusetts.

"California led the list in taxes collected with $14,956,789. Rhode Island collected the smallest amount, $318,357."

GEM CLAIMS STAKED

Beryl, Semiprecious Stone, Will be Mined in Winnipeg

WINNIPEG, Nov. 10. (AP)—Discovery of beryl, a semiprecious gem, in the pegmatites of Bird River, 100 miles north of here, has led to the staking out of two claims, comprising 104 acres, by the discoverer, Kenneth Miller of Winnipeg, it was learned today. He reported twenty-five to thirty outcroppings in 1000 feet.

Beryl crystals, when cut and polished, are worth from $5 to $20 a carat. The only other known beryl deposit on the continent is being worked in Maine.

A Three-Days Cough is Your Danger Signal

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist.—[Advertisement.

BUSINESS SEEKS SLASH IN TAXES

Trade Associations Welcome President's Suggestion

Repeal of Corporation-Levy Increase Sought

La Follette Followers Dissent from Plans Offered

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10. (Exclusive) Immediate repeal of the increase in the tax on corporation earnings, which was provided in the 1926 revenue act and such further reduction in tax rates as is warranted by the condition of the Treasury, was urged by formal action today of a conference of representatives of more than thirty national trade associations.

The trade-association spokesmen welcomed the action of the administration in favoring some sort of tax relief at the coming session of Congress, but they took the position that the temporary cut in individual and corporation income taxes proposed would not entirely meet the situation.

WOULD CUT DEEPER

It was the opinion of the conference that in view of the large surplus in prospect, Congress ought at least to restore the 12½ per cent rate on corporation earnings, which was in effect for several years prior to the increase to 13½ per cent in the recent act as a substitute for the capital-stock tax. Such further "temporary and permanent relief as the fiscal circumstance of the Treasury may justify," was also favored.

The trade-association conference voted to request the House Ways and Means Committee for a hearing on the proposition.

James A. Emery, general counsel of the National Association of Manufacturers, presided at the conference. Under Secretary of the Treasury Winston presented an informal statement on the Treasury's position on tax reduction.

That the La Follette group will oppose the tax programs of both the Republican and Democrats was indicated today in a statement by Basil M. Manly, director of the People's Legislative Service, which was organized by the late Senator La Follette.

PLANS OPPOSED

Mr. Manly contended that both the administration and the Democrats are seeking to play politics. He said that the only ones who would benefit by the administration plan would be a few millionaires and large corporations, while it was manifest that there was insufficient time to make a comprehensive revision of the revenue law at the short session as proposed by the Democrats.

Mr Manly challenged the Democrats to force an extra session of Congress next spring.

The La Follette group, as a result of the recent elections, will then hold the balance of power in the Senate

"If the Democrats have a sound scheme for getting rid of the absurd corporation taxes, automobile sales taxes and other taxes that are simply passed on to the long-suffering consumer," said Mr. Manly, "let them force an extra session of the new Congress, in which they will have some real power and show their stuff."

GARIBALDI MUST FACE COL. MACIA

French Police Hope to Get Data on Catalan Plot by Meeting of Pair

PARIS, Nov. 10. (AP)—Ricciotti Garibaldi, grandson of the Italian patriot, and Col. Francisco Macia, former Spanish deputy, tomorrow will confront each other as a result of investigations by the French police into the recently discovered Catalan conspiracy

The French police today said that they had documentary evidence connecting Garibaldi with the plot to wrest Catalonia from Spain, but Col Macia has denied this. The French authorities hope that considerable light may be thrown on the Catalan conspiracy and on recent Fascist and anti-Fascist activities along the Franco-Italian frontier through the meeting of the two men. Col Macia, it is charged, was the leader of the Catalan conspirators, in whose ranks some Italians were found.

The Spanish government appears to have been well guaranteed against the possible success of the Catalan separationists movement, which was broken up by the French police. According to secret service men the latest evidence shows that an Italian emissary, whose name is being withheld, warned the Spanish government that a revolutionary push was coming from France just before the Catalan "expeditionary" force began moving toward the Spanish frontier.

The Spanish government, thus aware of what was going on, was ready to meet the emergency, but the French police were ready and gathered the conspirators in before they could cross the frontier. The Italian emissary has been missing ever since he notified Spain of the plot and the French police have failed to find any trace of his movements although they assert they have documentary proof of his mission.

PEACE HELD CHURCH'S AIM

Pastor Asserts League of Nations Needs Backing of World's Religious Forces

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 10. (Exclusive)—"The most practical problem before the churches of the world today is the prevention of war," said Dr. Henry A. Atkinson, general secretary of the World Alliance for International Friendship Through the Churches, in a report presented this afternoon at the eleventh annual meeting of the organization attended by representatives from nearly every part of the civilized world.

"International good will, world peace," said Dr. Atkinson, "is one platform, perhaps the only one at councils in every European country whatever their differences of doctrine, can stand together. I say this after a year spent in travel in nearly every part of the United States and Europe. The World Alliance now has Councils in every European country except Russia. We also have branches in China, Japan, Australia and New Zealand, and shortly we expect to be established in Egypt and India. The influence which holds together these allied organizations, representing peoples many of whom are wide apart in every other way, is the hatred of war and desire for permanent peace

BALKAN SITUATION

"Our European councils are vitally interested in bringing about better relations among the Balkan states. At a meeting of the committee of management of the World Alliance at Lausanne last September, the leading speakers said that peace in the Balkans to endure must be based on the principles of religion. Since in all the Balkan countries the eastern orthodox church is the predominating religious organization, it should not be difficult to find a common agreement on this ground. The Balkan problem is just as acute as ever. Jugo-Slavia embraces within her borders outside of the mixed nationalities of Macedonia a strong Teutonic block antagonistic to everything the Slavic people desire. In Macedonia there is a medley of races such as can be matched in few other places. Across the border is Bulgaria, smarting under defeat and the terms of the peace which have left her defenceless and at the mercy of her enemies and conquerors! Rumania has double her area and has more than twice her prewar population but no former training nor superior ability to govern. Russia is a menace to her on one borcer and Hungary on another abets the insurgence of 2,000,000 of her former nationals now under the Rumanian flag living in Transylvania. Greece, Turkey, Albania are all interested in Thrace and the question of the Adriatic and its ports. The problem is also complicated by the actions and attitude of the great powers. The Balkans and Turkey are pawns in a colossal game of chess with the destiny of millions of people and the peace of the world as the stakes."

During the coming year, the World Alliance plans to call two or three regional conferences in Europe; one in the Scandinavian countries, one between Germany, France and Belgium and perhaps another somewhere in the Balkan states.

EUROPEAN PROBLEMS

Speaking in general of the European political situation, Dr. Atkinson said, "There is a hard road ahead for the League of Nations. The Council is a difficulty and all agree that while it would be inadvisable at present to suggest any radical changes, sooner or later the structure of the League will oe altered so as to give the Assembly greater power and at the same time lessen the possibility of the old-time diplomats working their selfish games. The question of debts of tariffs, of immigration, emigration, colonies, access to trade routes and control of raw materials these and other similar economic problems are the ones causing most concern at present, with the debts owed to the United States as the most important. If Europe pays our debts over a period of sixty-two years, it means that she must sell more goods than we do to the rest of the world during that period and it is hardly likely that when the agreements are reached and the industrial wheels begin to revolve that the creditor nation will be admitted as a competitor.

"The question is not at all easy of solution. It needs more than sentimental consideration and should be taken wholly out of the range of political machination. America could yet be the savior of the world's economic life and help immensely in laying a firm foundation of peace if she would only take the initiative in asking for an economic conference where all of these and allied questions could be discussed in the spirit of good will. What the world needs right now more than anything else is an economic Locarno.

"The League of Nations needs the backing of the religious forces of the world. It is impossible to divorce spiritual interests from it. They are bound together in a union that can not be broken except to the detriment of the higher life of mankind and to the utter confusion of all material values; therefore, the churches are thinking more and more in terms of the common life of humanity, and in spite of failures and the over emphasis of a narrow nationalism that often hinders the work of the church, I believe that today the churches are more alive to their responsibilities and in nearly every nation are doing more to promote better international relations and are making it more a crusade than any other thing to which they have set their hand in our generation."

Three Banks in Kansas Closed by Directors

TOPEKA (Kan.) Nov. 10. (AP)—Three banks in North Central Kansas, all a part of the estate of the late C. G. Cochran, were closed today by their boards of directors. They are the Citizens' State Bank of Hays, the Ellsworth State Bank of Ellsworth and the Farmers' State Bank of Walker. Only the Hays bank operated under the depositors' guaranty laws.

"Depleted reserves," said W. S. Kennedy, Assistant Bank Commissioner, caused the banks to close.

AIR LINER ARRIVES AT KANSAS CITY SAFELY

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 10. The ship will remain here overnight. Col. Paul Henderson, general manager of te National Air Transport, Inc., who recently completed a contract with the American Railway Express for the carriage of the express between New York and Chicago and Chicago and Dallas, was accompanied by a party of six passengers and a pilot.

SHAKE-UP IN SALVATION ARMY NEAR

Complete Reorganization in America Planned by Evangeline Booth

NEW YORK, Nov. 10. (Exclusive) Plans for the complete reorganization of the Salvation Army in the United States are to be announced tomorrow by Evangeline Booth, who has been commander of that organization in this country for twenty-two years. What those plans will be Commander Booth will not say in advance of the announcement, but it is understood that they do not involve a secession from the main body of the Salvation Army, which her brother, Gen. W. Bramwell Booth, rules from London, although her tiffs with the international commander have become more frequent in recent years.

Several times Evangeline Booth has been ordered by her brother to "prepare her farewell to the United States," but each time her departure has been averted by an avalanche of protests from wealthy Americans whose contributions during the twenty odd years of control have aided the Salvation Army in amassing property throughout this country now worth more than $30,000,000. She does not now intend to leave the organization, but the announcement is expected to contain word to her brother, Gen. Booth, that he "follow more in the footsteps of our father, who founded the Army."

Gen. William Booth before he died in 1912 named his son, Gen. W. Bramwell Booth, to succeed him, and it is understood the present general has named his own son, Wycliffe Booth, now his private secretary, to succeed him. Gen. Booth is 70 years of age. Last spring Evangeline Booth had her latest argument with her brother about her impending farewell. She reminded him of the work she had done in building up the Salvation Army until America has become its largest and richest field.

METHODIST BISHOPS DELAY FUND DECISION

DENVER, Nov. 10. (AP)—Unable to reach a definite decision regarding the program of the Methodist Episcopal Church with regard to the recommendations of the world service commission, the board of bishops in final session today delayed final action until next week. This final action with regard to the raising of a budget of $300,000,000 for the carrying on of the work of the church at home and abroad for the ensuing year will be taken at South Bend, Ind., where, on next Monday, the board will confer with the members of the home missions board of the church.

BRITISH OFFEND INDIAN PRINCES

Rajahs Miffed at Exclusion From Parley

Protest Reported Dispatched to London

Imperial Committees Work Quietly

LONDON, Nov. 10. (Exclusive)—The Indian ruling princes who had hoped to gain a special status in the British Empire through the treaties their ancestors made with the crown are furious over their noninclusion in the invitations to attend the Imperial Conference.

It is understood that a protest was sent to the British government against its failure to appoint a single ruling prince at the conference, as well as against the general attitude taken by the government of India toward the princes

MAHARAJAH

Maharajah Badahur of Burdwan, who represents India and who is a landholder in Bengal with hereditary titles, is not a treaty chief or prince with administrative powers, and the other princes claim that he does not represent them. The Maharaiah of Bikaner, who is Chancellor of the Indian Chamber of Princes, and who represented India at the last Imperial Conference and also represented it in the Imperial War Cabinet and at the League of Nations recently called a meeting of the Indian princes for an important conference which has just broken up without the issuance of any reports on what was considered.

It is understood that there will be further strong resolutions moved when the princes' chamber meets again at Delhi.

COMMITTEE WORK

The activities of the Imperial Conference yesterday were confined to committee work and again no information was allowed to leak out about the vital discussions going on among the members of the Committee on Imperial Relations. No plenary session is likely until next week owing to the social functions incidental to Armistice Day, which will take up the Prime Minister's time.

The Tongs had warred for a year past and seventeen, tongmen had given their lives from one end of the Coast to the other in the reign of factional hate.

PUBLISHERS HEAR IDEAL EXPLAINED

Second Autumn Meeting Opens in French Lick for Three-Day Session

FRENCH LICK (Ind.) Nov. 10. (AP) Urging publishers of America's newspapers to keep their devotion to the welfare of the community and nation above desire for selfish profits, John Stewart Bryan of Richmond, Va., president of the American Newspaper Publishers Association, today opened that body's second annual autumn meeting here

"Publishers are measured by leadership, not lineage, by courage, not circulation," President Bryan declared.

Leading the convention in paying a memorial tribute to the late Frank G Bell, who for years was publisher of the Savannah (Ga.) Morning News, President Bryan declared that Mr Bell had always been true to the highest ideals of newspaperdom

Approximately 200 publishers from all over the United States and Canada have arrived for the three-day convention, making the attendance more than double that recorded last autumn. L. B Palmer of New York City, the association's manager, said.

GREAT PICTURES TO BE EXHIBITED

American Paintings to Be on View in Bay City

Famous Sargent Portrait to Be Included

Many Museums Contribute to Collection

SAN FRANCISCO Nov. 10. (AP)—An exhibit of selected American paintings, said by critics to be the greatest yet attempted, will be opened here on Sunday at the Palace of the Legion of Honor, a monument to California's war dead, and will continue until the end of January. There will be 200 paintings in the grouping from all parts of the country.

Notable among the paintings will be John Singer Sargent's double portrait of Mrs. Augustus Saint-Gaudens a Venetian interior, also by Sargent; Winslow Homer's "The Wreck," and J. J. Shannon's "Miss Kitty."

EIGHT FROM NEW YORK

There will be eight contributions from the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York City, including Theodore Robinson's "Girl With Cow," Carl Melcher's "Madonna and Gardner Symons's "Opalescent River." The Detroit Institute of Art has sent a like number of pictures by such men as Thomas B. Dewing, Maurice Sterne and Leopold Seyffert.

The same number has been sent from the Worcester Art Museum, including Hassam's "Breakfast Room," Gaertner's "Venetian Girl," and De Camp's "Sally." The Albright Art Gallery of Buffalo, N. Y., has sent seven paintings, while six pictures have come from the City Art Museum of St. Louis.

Cleveland Museum is sending Kenyon Cox's great picture "Tradition" and the Hackley Art Gallery of Muskegon, Mich., has loaned six pictures, among them Whistler's "Study in Rose and Brown."

TEN FROM CINCINNATI

The Cincinnati Museum has sent ten paintings and the John Herron Art Institute of Indianapolis and the Fogg Museum, Harvard University have also contributed.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Fleishhacker and Mrs. Alma De Bretteville Spreckels of San Francisco are notable contributors, as is W. K. Bixby of St. Louis. The Milch Galleries of New York have grouped an exhibition of forty-six canvases representing most of the great American artists. Numerous California painters are represented.

CEDAR RAPIDS (Iowa) Nov 10. (Exclusive)—Had it not been for Lady, a German police dog, Mrs. E. J. Shanklin might be without a home today. The dog discovered burning paper under a gasoline stove at the Shanklin home in the country, dragged it out and tore it to pieces. Its nose and paws were badly scorched in battling the burning paper. Mrs. Shanklin was in the basement when she heard the noise. The dog buried its head in her lap when she sat down in the kitchen. Lady has always hated fire, Mrs. Shanklin says.

SOUTH WORRIED ABOUT COTTON

Larger Consumption of Staple Urged

Feminine Preference for Silk Criticised

Price Problem Held Question of Quantity

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10 (Exclusive)—In the Middle West and West record-breaking crops of the principal agricultural products spell prosperity for the farmers. In the South a banner crop of cotton is a tragedy for the cotton growers, the ill effects of which are also felt by cotton manufacturers. This is one of the anomalies of economics and industry of which the country is now having an acute experience. What to do about it is engaging widespread attention throughout the country, but more particularly in the cotton-growing States and in the textile districts of New England. President Coolidge has appointed a commission, headed by Eugene Meyer, Jr., to study the problem and to co-operate with State officials and industrial organizations in working out a plan of relief.

Already much has been accomplished toward meeting the immediate emergency. Cotton prices are firmer, and growers of the banner crop who saw its value drop $400,000,000 to $500,000,000 within a few days after the government crop estimates were made public, are not so panicky as they were. They can draw a full breath now without wondering what may happen to them before they have time to exhale it.

DOMESTIC CONSUMPTION

Throughout the country a strong public sentiment has been aroused that finds expression in a movement to bring about a larger domestic consumption of the products of this great American crop. This movement is in a measure comparable with the "Buy-a-bale-of-cotton" campaign of 1914-15 when disaster threatened the cotton grown through the demoralization of their best market by the European War.

A drive is on in many sections that is illustrated by the action of the students of a woman's college in Missouri who agreed to give up wearing silk garments of all kinds and wear nothing but cotton fabrics. Women's organizations in other States have taken the lead in urging similar action. Cotton manufacturers are aroused to the necessity of creating a larger domestic demand for their wares and are initiating concerted efforts that give promise of fruitful results.

ANTI-SILK THEORY

Some years ago some one coined a saying that gained wide-spread circulation. It was to the effect that if one inch could be added to the length of the Chinaman's shirt or coat the market for cotton would be doubled.

Much the same idea is back of the theory that if American women will stop wearing silk and adopt cotton fabrics as their national garb the troubles of the American cotton grower and manufacturer will all be over. Sometimes facetiously, but often quite seriously, it has also been suggested that when American women take to wearing cotton they can absolutely insure the prosperity of our cotton industry if they will but add four to six inches to the length of their skirts and return to the use of the good old cotton petticoat, the petticoat being a garment that has become practically obsolete since the ascendancy of the short and skimp dress and the advent of the silken bloomers or other unmentionables.

However, there is one fundamental fallacy in both the theory about the Chinaman and that about the American woman. You can't make the oriental add an inch or a fraction thereof to the length of his shirt or coat, and you can't make the American woman abandon silk, lengthen her skirt or wear petticoats.

SILK PREFERRED

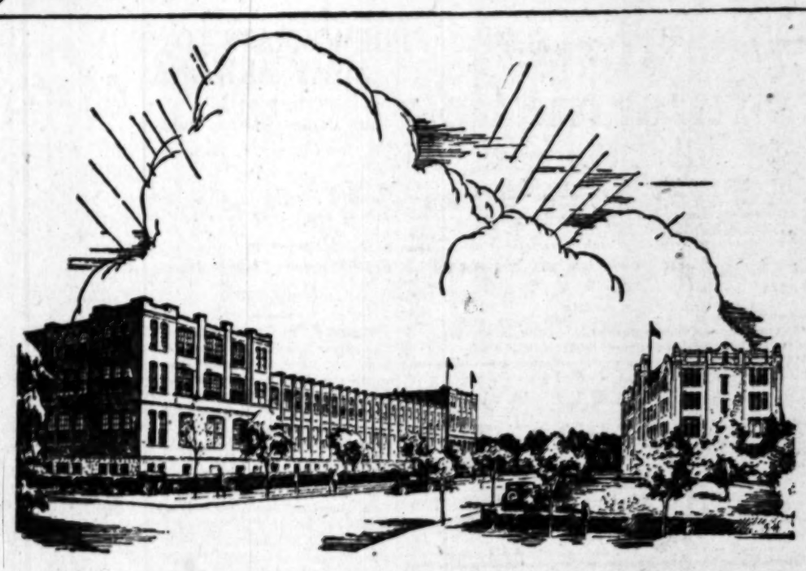
In a great emergency many American women might consider it their patriotic duty to wear cotton more extensively, if not exclusively, but they would do that only temporarily and no permanent benefit would accrue to the cotton industry, the problems of which demand a permanent solution. The American woman wears silk because she prefers it, finds it more comfortable, believes it to be more attractive, knows it to be more convenient and more adaptable to her purposes, and finds it to be in some respects more economical, and she is not likely to abandon it until cotton or some other fabric is offered her that has all the qualities and utilities she now sees in silk. Cotton fabrics are certain to come into greater use, but that will be because the manufacturers concentrate on making those fabrics constantly more attractive and on giving them qualities not possessed by silk, or superior to those of silk.

In support of the antisilk theory it has been argued that because we spend several hundred millions of dollars annually with Japan and China for raw silk all that money might be diverted to cotton and at present prices would be sufficient to buy almost 40 per cent of the cotton crop, or approximately 6,800,000 bales. That, too, is fallacious.

QUESTION OF QUANTITY

That amount of cotton, in addition to the amount that now is used in domestic manufactures for domestic consumption, would make so much fabric that it could not be consumed each year if in addition to its present uses it were made a substitute for wallpaper. It is a question of quantity, rather than of cost. Government experts say that if cotton were to be used as a substitute for all the silk and rayon that are now used in this country it would not create a demand for an additional 500,000 bales a year and that it would have no appreciable effect on the cotton market. And in making that statement they call attention to the fact that we use silk for many purposes besides garments for women, hence what women might accomplish through abandoning silk is further minimized.

It is not to be understood that anybody is discouraging the movement to bring about the use of cotton instead of silk by American women. On the contrary, it will be encouraged and stimulated in every possible way, both by government officials and by the cotton interests, and it will be helpful. It is desired, however, that no false public impression be created as to the degree to which it will relieve the present situation, or like future situations should they develop.



"Service Beyond Price"

TRAINING men in industry to become more skilled workmen and helping men and women promote their knowledge of business is service.

Service in the International Correspondence Schools goes beyond the enrolment of students. It is a matter of pride with us to be able to give the student more than the written terms of the scholarship. We view the student as a friend as well as a student.

Between friends there must be more than a mere business relationship. Between friends there must be loyalty and interest in all things affecting one or the other. The interest of the I. C. S. is the interest of a friend.

The student has come to our institution in the hope that we can serve him. That hope is bred of praiseworthy ambition. Such a student is an educational ward of our Schools.

It is our duty to go to the uttermost to maintain this ambition and to help the student in every way at our command to master the course. That we cannot—will not—do half-heartedly. The brains and the educational resources and facilities for service of the International Correspondence Schools belong to the student.

We are not content with the service we give, we aim all the time to give more. Our texts must be the best we can obtain; our examination and correction of studies as perfect as human machinery can make them; our students must have prompt service; our viewpoint must ever be forward-looking; ours must be genuine sympathy with the ambition of the student to go onward and upward.

We want no student to stop. We want all students to finish their courses so that they may secure the practical reward that follows increased knowledge, and the satisfaction and strength that come of having mastered something worth while.

So to help ambitious men and women over the boulders and barriers is a fine and constructive work. That is our mission. That is what we mean when we speak of "service beyond price."

SHOULD HUSBANDS DO HOUSE WORK?

How Mrs. Dyer Solved the Problem.

Mrs. Mildred Dyer was lucky. She had a good-natured husband who helped her with much of her housework. Because she was in ill health for five years, it was often necessary for him to do this. But it bothered Mrs. Dyer. She felt that he had to work hard enough anyway. The time he spent in doing her work was needed for his own. She determined to find the road to better health.

She writes: "I think Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is simply wonderful. My health is better than it has ever been. I am getting stronger and gaining in weight."

The Dyers live at Redlands, Calif., Route A, Box 183.

How often does your husband have to do your housework? No matter how willing he is, no woman feels comfortable about it. Perhaps you, too, will find better health through the faithful use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Stop Bad Breath

People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

Olive Tablets bring no griping, pain or any disagreeable effects.

Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after 20 years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with the attendant bad breath.

Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Take nightly for a week and note the effect. 15c, 30c, 60c. All druggists.—[Advertisement.

Do This when you first Sneeze

When a sneeze suggests that a cold has started, it is easily headed off. It need never develop. But the only way to prevent it is to have the right help on hand.

If a cold has developed, check it quickly. You can do that in 24 hours. But do more than that. Stop the fever, open the bowels, eliminate the poisons, tone the entire system. Then you will probably feel much better than when the cold began.

The best help is HILL'S. It combines the helps needed—all of them modern discoveries. One of the world's largest laboratories developed it as the utmost help for colds. It is so efficient, so complete that we paid $1,000,000 for it. The use has grown and grown, until millions now employ it.

You will always know what to do for cold when you once try HILL'S. But don't delay. Conquer that cold by tomorrow.

DEMOCRATS TO SWAY ARIZONA

Must Assume Responsibility for Legislative Acts

Control Senate 17 to 2 and House 34 to 9

Few Women Listed Among Lawmakers

PHOENIX, Nov. 10. (Exclusive)—The next Arizona Legislature will have the Democratic party almost wholly responsible for its membership and actions. The Senate will have only two Republicans, the same number it had two years ago. These Senators are Wayne Thornburg of Yavapai county and Walter Runke of Coconino both re-elected. A considerable number of the membership has been re-elected, this being true also of the House.

Fred T. Coulter comes back as Senator from Apache county. It is understood that, though he is president of the Highline Association, his main work is expected to be to obtain a better State highway between Rice and McNary. Fred Sutter, after a lapse of years returns to the Senate from Cochise county. In former Legislatures he was a foe to the Hunt element. J. B. Wiley, re-elected from Cochise, also is considered a conservative Democrat.

HUNT SUPPORTER

Gov. Hunt probably will be supported by Alfred Kinney and John R. Lyons, re-elected from Gila. T. S. Kimball, from Graham county is strong for Hunt and also for the Highline. H. W. Hill will represent Greenlee. Maricopa will be represented by Dan P. Jones, speaker of the late House of Representatives and by Harlow Akers, one of the managing staff of the Phoenix Gazette. Charles W. Waters will represent Mohave, having won in the primary from Kean St. Charles, who for years was Senator from the county and a strong advocate of the Colorado River compact. G. W. Nelson is from Navajo county and Thomas N. Wills, a pioneer, from Pinal. T. W. Donnelly was re-elected from Pima and will have William Joyner as colleague. In Santa Cruz, Leslie Hardy, last year's House member, was beaten in the primary by Andrew Betting, a strong Hunt partisan. A. H. Favour and Wayne Thornburg were re-elected from Yavapai as was Mulford Windsor of Yuma, who was president of the last Senate. The Senate has a total strength of nineteen.

The House has a membership of forty-three, a gain of one over two years ago and will have nine Republicans, compared with five two years ago. The Republicans are: Coconino, Fred W. Perkins; Graham, William Nelson; Maricopa, W. S. Norwel, Elijah Allen, Robert L. Finch, re-elected; Navajo, S. N. Rogers and C. J. McQuillan; Pima, F. E. A. Kimball and Thomas M. Peters.

The Democrats are: Apache, Jacob Hamlin, re-elected; Coconino, Earl C. Silpher; Cochise, W. Oxsheer, A. J. Morgan, Thomas Copperthwaite, William Coxon and three who were re-elected, William G. Jones, H. E. Pickett and Norman Abell; Gila, M. F. Murphy, re-elected, John McCormack, re-elected J. Knox Kent, re-elected, and William J. Rosenbaum; Graham Sam O. Williams; Greenlee, M. J. Hannon, re-elected, and Clarence Lynch; Maricopa, Joseph M. Holub, C. Emmett Newton, Fred W. Norton, M. V. Decker, M. J. Francis, John P. Orme, re-elected, W. D. McBrayer, re-elected R. T. Mahon, C. A. McKee, Homer C. Ludden, re-elected, Vernettie O. Ivy, Guy L. Jones and S. H. Gibbs; Mohave, W. P. Cars; Pima, John H. Morgan, R. Kennedy, Dr. Oliver Platon and G. T. Olds; Pinal, Fred A. Griffin and Charles H. Dudley; Santa Cruz, Mrs. Gladys Walker; Yavapai, Frank W. Boville, re-elected, T. Hilliard T. Brook, re-elected, A. M. Crawford, re-elected, and W. W. Rhodes, re-elected; Yuma, Mrs. Nellie Bush, and William Wisner, re-elected.

WOMEN LAWMAKERS

Mrs. Vernettie O. Ivy of Maricopa county was in the Legislature four years ago and is a strong Hunt supporter. This year she defeated George P. Brown, Republican, who took the office from her two years ago.

Mrs. Nellie Bush, from Yuma, also has former legislative experience but is a strong conservative. She is from Parker, where she is practicing attorney and banker, also holding a pilot's license for navigation of the Colorado River, on which she and her husband for years have operated a motor ferry and a motorboat freight service. Mrs. Gladys Walker of Nogales is new to the Legislature.

"Times" Daily Short Story

Merry Christmas

By SOPHIE KERR

"My sweet little pink satin mules that match my negligee get on your nerves, do they?"

HE HAD always had the reputation of being a rather original-minded and superior young man, but during his courtship he had been so wildly in love, so blindly, so humbly, so eagerly, so passionately involved in the difficult business of getting Martie to say yes that these two qualities—of which he was, perhaps a trifle vain—had been quite dormant. But now that the marriage was six months old and Martie was no longer an unobtainable goddess, but a very human girl, he was beginning to feel again the stirrings of originality and superiority the more so as Martie had never given the least sign of knowing that he possessed any of either.

They were talking about Christmas, which was only a few days away. Martie was on the sofa, a very becoming place for her, for the sofa was deep blue velvet and Martie had on a slim white dress. When she put her head back against the blue, it turned her yellow-brown hair to real gold, gave her soft skin an added peachiness, deepened and brightened the sapphire of her eyes. It was hard for Jim to remember what they were talking about while he looked at her.

"But I want to give you something unique," she was saying—"something that could be given only to the perfect husband by his doting wife."

"The only thing you say you need is some new golf stockings. I won't give you golf stockings for Christmas. You can play 'round barefoot before I'll do that. Too stupid!"

It was then some mocking devil urged him to be original and superior. "I tell you Martie," he said, laughing, "you make me a present of one of your little faults and failings. Make me a present of never taking any of my books and leaving it face downward anywhere again. There'd be something like a Christmas gift."

There was a strange silence in the room, then Martie asked gently. "Does it get on your nerves, the way a mistreat your books, Jimmie dear?"

"Why, yes, it does, rather. You know how I cherish my books. They're like living people to me. And when I come on one of them lying about with his leaves crumpled and his back broken, it hurts me in a queer way."

HERE was another little silence. Then Martie said, still very gently, "Suppose I get a pencil and paper and you can tell me any other little things I do that bother you, Jim. And I'll put the list in your Christmas stocking with 'Never again' written in big letters across the top. What about it?"

"It's an idea." He fished about in the table drawer for memo pad and pencil. "I'll begin it this way: 'Never again abuse any of Jim's books.' How's that?"

"That's fine. What else?"

"Here's a good one: 'Never again use Jim's fountain pen on his desk.' You know it ruins a fountain pen if somebody else uses it—the pressure and the slant's different in every handwriting."

"Oh, it does! I'll try to remember that. Well, what else? This isn't all, is it?"

"I may seem very picky and critical, Martie, but I wish to heaven you'd get some bedroom slippers that would stay on your feet and not go scuff—scuff—scuff over the floor when you walk. Those backless things—mules, d'you call 'em?—sound so sloppy."

"Write it down," said Martie.

He did so, and regarded the items with satisfaction. He was feeling more and more original and superior every minute. "I'll tell you something else too," he said, smiling again. "Don't have any more rice pudding for dessert for a year at least. I'm sick to death of it."

At this point Martie rose up and snatched the pad and pencil from his hands. "Is that so, Jim Liddell!" she cried. "You hate rice pudding and you don't want any more for a year when it happens to be the only dessert Huldah can make decently and you don't earn money enough for us to have a good maid and you certainly ought to eat nourishing things, skinny and bony as you are! Oh, if I'd had any idea I'd married a man who was watching every least thing I do, and despising me! Think more of your old books than you do of me! And I'm not to use your fountain pen even when a messenger boy or a delivery boy's in a hurry and it's the only thing downstairs to write with. And my sweet little pink satin mules that match my negligee get on your nerves, do they? Well, what about you? Don't you think you ever do anything that gets on my nerves? What about that silly little couch you get every time you go to say something! I'll make you out a list too, I will. There: 'Never again give that silly little cough!'

"'Never again be late at meals!'

"'Never throw cigarette butts and ashes on the hearth instead of in the ash tray!'

"'Never again go around not shaved on Sunday mornings!'"

She had been writing violently on the pad as she spoke, and now she tore off the sheet of paper and thrust it toward him. "There!" she cried again. "Give me those things for a Christmas gift before you begin to be so smart about my abusing your old books and—and your horrid old fountain pen and—and scuff—scuff—" The blue sky of her eyes was drowned out by a rainstorm of tears. "Oh," she sobbed, "I never was so abused—nor so insulted—and to think that you—you of all people—"

BUT he had seized her in his arms. "Martie, Martie dear," he protested in anguish. "How can you take it so seriously darling? Don't you know it was all a joke? Why, my dearest love, I wouldn't have you change a single thing you do for anything in the world. You—you're perfect, just the way your are. Martie—please—dearest—don't cry. I don't know how I could have been so stupid, so horrid. Do forgive me—do! Please—there—there—kiss me—"

Gradually she was soothed. She lay tremulous in his arms, a pathetic little figure, lashes still wet, mouth still grieved. "Give me that silly old list and I'll burn it up," he said.

He took the crumpled sheet from her limp hand. He put it on the fire. "There, love," he said, "now everything's all right, isn't it?"

They watched the paper burn. It did not occur to him that he was also burning up forever his originality and superiority. But he was. And they had a very merry Christmas.

Jeffries Gives Texas Bond on Charges Here

DALLAS (Tex.) Nov. 10. (AP)—Elmer B. Jeffries and Charles E. Forbes, arrested here several days ago on Federal warrants from Los Angeles, where they were indicted on charges of using the mails to defraud, were released today on bond pending outcome of an appeal. A removal order authorizing their return to Los Angeles was issued here.

Elmer B. Jeffries and Charles E. Forbes are two of more than a dozen men indicted here two weeks ago in connection with the sale of stock in the Jeffries Automatic Service Company, dealers in a lunch-vending machine. Nearly $3,000,000 in stock in the company is said to have been disposed of in Los Angeles prior to the time the government authorities opened an investigation nearly two years ago. George M. Pettet and Herbert G. Danforth, two of the men ...sted here, later were released under $15,000 bail.

Laborer Killed as Blast Hurls Rock Into Cabin

GRASS VALLEY (Cal.) Nov. 10. (AP) Charles Kern, a laborer on a water-development project at Lake Bowman, forty miles from here, sat peacefully smoking in his cabin today when a blast was set off some distance away.

A fragment of rock crashed through the roof, striking him on the head and killing him.

Beavers Bother Wisconsin Land and Railroads

MADISON (Wis.) Nov. 10. (Exclusive)—Beavers are becoming so numerous in sections of Wisconsin that it is probable that a bill will be introduced in the next session of the Legislature to have an open season for the trapping of the animals.

The habit of beavers to build dams across streams is raising much havoc and bringing many complaints, with the dams that spring up overnight flooding railroad right of ways, highways, fields and woodlands. It recently cost the State $80 to blow up a dam that result in the flooding of a railroad right of way. The dam was rebuilt by the animals in twenty-four hours.

SERIES OF SHOCKS FELT AT SANTA ANA

SANTA ANA, Nov. 10. (Exclusive)—An earthquake shock consisting of three distinct temblors in rapid succession made chandeliers sway in Santa Ana homes at 9:29 a.m. today. The quake was one of a series felt in Orange county cities during the past few days. The first seismic disturbance was felt Sunday morning, another quake was felt at 9:50 o'clock Sunday evening, and a third at 2.45 a.m. Monday. Apparently the quakes were not felt in other Southland communities.

EMBEZZLEMENT CHARGED

TUCSON (Ariz.) Nov. 10. (Exclusive)—Delores C. Romero has been indicted by a Federal grand jury, charged with embezzlement of $7133 from the First National Bank of Nogales, with an attempt to injure the bank's standing and with conspiracy to defraud.

WOMAN TELLS FEDERAL VIEWS

Mrs. Langley Wins Husband's Seat in Congress

Plans to Introduce Federal Education Bill

Stands for Continuance of Sheppard-Towner Act

LEXINGTON (Ky.) Nov. 10. (Exclusive)—Mrs. John W. Langley, whose election to Congress from the Tenth District makes her Kentucky's first Congresswoman, expects to introduce a measure for a Federal Department of Education. Her intention was made known in her answers to a series of questions addressed to all candidates for office in the recent election, by the Kentucky League of Women Voters.

Mrs. Langley also declared she favors the continuation of the appropriation of the Sheppard-Towner Act for two years, and asserts she opposes any decrease in the appropriations for Federal agencies dealing with matters of special importance to women, such as the Children's Bureau, Women's Bureau and the Home Economics Bureau.

Mrs. Langley was also asked if she favored the improvement and extension of the civil service to include the employees of prohibition enforcement and her reply was: "When this matter is brought before Congress I shall give it my earnest consideration," a similar reply being made to a query as to her attitude in regard to development of Muscle Shoals as a national asset and what method she might think should be adopted. To the question as to whether Mrs. Langley favored official participation of the United States in conferences for reduction of armaments and various other international movements for peace by cooperation and federation no reply was given.

Mrs. Langley is preparing to go to Washington soon. It has been expected that her husband, who is serving a sentence in Atlanta penitentiary on a charge of conspiracy to violate the national prohibition laws, may soon be paroled. Inquiry into his case was held at Atlanta several weeks ago, immediately after he became eligible for release. It is thought Langley will go to Washington after a short rest at his home at Pikeville, Ky. Langley held for twenty-eight years the place in Congress to which his wife has been elected. Both he Langleys see in her victory vindication of the family name. Langley had always protested innocence of the charges made against him.

WALES STOCK BOUGHT FOR CALIFORNIANS

CALGARY (Alta.) Nov. 10. (AP)—Sheldon and Carruthers, owners of the Kirkwood farm of California, have purchased fifteen head of Shorthorn stock owned by the Prince of Wales at his ranch near High River, Alta., W. L. Carlyle, manager of the Prince's ranch, announced today. The shipment consists of nine cows and heifers and six yearling bulls, one a champion at western fairs last summer.

CHINA TO HAVE DOUBLE REGIME

North and South Racing to Form Governments

Both Will Seek Recognition of Other Nations

Chang Urged to be President of Peking Region

SHANGHAI, Nov. 10. (Exclusive)—That China shortly is to have two governments, one supported by the northern militarists in Peking and the other supported by the Cantonese forces in Hankow, is indicated tonight in dispatches which say the northern and southern militarists and politicians are racing to form separate governments to bid for foreign recognition.

While Wellington Koo is urging Marshal Chang Tso-Lin the Manchurian war lord, to accept the Peking Presidency Gen Chiang Kai-shi, commander of the Cantonese forces in the Yangtze Valley, is urging the Kuomintang (Cantonese) speedily to remove the southern capital to Hankow. Marsha. Chang, proceeding to Peking from Mukden, was met at Teh-tsin by Peking emissaries, who tried to induce him to accept the Presidency as the only means of satisfying the north and preventing the Cantonese from sweeping the whole nation.

Reports from Canton tonight say the Kuomintang officials are drawing up plans for an early transfer of the southern governmental headquarters to Hankow in order to be in a position to bid for foreign recognition and continue their campaign against the north.

Sain-Fu, capital of Shensi Province, which was besieged by Marshal Wu Pei Fu's troops for two months during which time they imprisoned thirty foreign missionaries, was relieved today by the Kuominchun (national army) forces under the Christian general, Feng Yu Hsiang, who drove off Marshal Wu's troops, thus becoming master of both Kiangsu and Shensi provinces. The Christian general now is mobilizing for a drive on Honan to unite with the Kuomintang at Hankow.

Gen Sun Yuan Chan, commander of the lowe. Yangtze area, still is making his last stand at Nanking against Gen Chiang Kai Shek, Cantonese leader, but it is believed he will be forced to abdicate soon.

Serious labor troubles have arisen in the British and American cigarette factories at Hankow, where three Britons and two American managers have been imprisoned for three days.

GIRLS, WE RE IN THE ARMY NOW

MOSCOW, Nov. 10. (AP)—Women as well as men students of Russian universities will be required, by order of the Commissariat of War, to take 180 hours of military training during a four-year course. The girl cadets will be exempt from two months' summer field practice and nine months' service in the army or a year in the navy required of the men, however.

TRAINS RUN AGAIN ON ESPEE MEXICAN LINE

NOGALES (Ariz.) Nov. 10. (Exclusive)—Trains again are being operated over the full length of the Southern Pacific West Coast line. After a month of blockade the first mail from Tepic was of 600 pouches and sacks for Nogales and other American points. Lack of this mail has been a serious matter for the banks of Nogales, which do most of their business in Mexican exchange. The first trains also brought in hundreds of travelers who had been marooned in the south by the washing away of bridges.

Navy Plans to Quit San Diego if Bridge Built

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 10.—Threatening a removal of naval activities from San Diego to San Pedro, naval officials of San Diego opposed the construction of the San Diego-Coronado transbay bridge when a public hearing concerning the matter was held here today by Maj. H. A. Finch, United States Army. Many civilians spoke in favor of the bridge.

"Construction of the bridge would seriously hamper navy activities in San Diego Harbor," said Rear-Admiral Josiah H. McKeen, commandant of the eleventh naval district.

Case Submitted in Rhinelander Retrial Appeal

NEW YORK, Nov. 10. (AP)—The Appellate division of the State Supreme Court reserved decision today at the conclusion of the arguments of an appeal for a new trial in the Leonard Kip Rhinelander suit for annulment of his marriage to Alice Jones.

Court Upholds Large Bequest for University

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10. (AP)—A $46,000 bequest to the University of California by the late Henrietta Elizabeth Purington to establish a scholarship fund is legal and the money will remain in the hands of the University, the California Supreme Court ruled in a decision handed down here today.

The decision, which affirmed a San Francisco Superior Court ruling, held that funds left to a State university are not charity, because, although the money is for students, it is held by the university and is for the institution's good.

Mrs. Purington died in February, 1924, leaving an estate of approximately $70,000. Her heirs sued to break her will, contending that in leaving the major portion of the property to the university it violated the State law limiting charity bequests to one-third of the estate.

Attorneys here expressed an opinion that today's decision will have a wide effect on pending litigation of a similar nature.

SHIP BOARD PLANS TO BLOCK UNFAIR RATES

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10. (AP)—Announcement that the Shipping Board will take steps to prevent any unjustified changes in ocean freight rates which "may appear detrimental to American farmers, manufacturers and shippers," was made by Chairman O'Connor yesterday after a meeting between the board and the fleet corporation's traffic department.

RACE TRACK GRAFT TALE STARTS QUIZ

Inquiry Into Bookmakers' Methods Follows Loss of Teller's Peculations

NEW YORK, Nov. 10 (AP)—An investigation of race-track bookmakers is to follow a story of trickery told today by C. Russell Morton, one of the three Bowery Savings Bank tellers under arrest for embezzlement of $45,000.

The action against the bookmakers was promised by Dist.-Atty Banton, to whom Morton related how he had been cheated of $52,000 winnings.

Morton said he began "playing the ponies" about two years ago, and when the bookmakers learned he was a bank teller they wrote him letters in which they threatened to tell on him unless he increased his bets.

To comply with the demands of the bookmakers, Morton said he took $5200 from the bank and placed it on a "10-to-1 shot." The horse won, but when Morton appeared to collect his bet the "bookie," he related, told him he had not placed the money on the horse because he had been confidentially informed the horse would not win.

Instead of returning his $5200, Morton said, the bookmaker put $3000 of it on a "25-to-1 shot," which did not win. The remainder of the $5200 was lost in an effort to recoup.

Morton, who tried to commit suicide by leaping from a window in the District Attorney's office when arrested Tuesday, was held in $50,000 bail with Clarence Oliver, Reginald Losee, the third teller, was released on $5000 bail.

Final Evidence Given in Chicago Rum-Plot Case

CHICAGO, Nov. 10. (AP)—The last evidence in the Mason-Owen prohibition conspiracy case was placed before the jury today but because tomorrow is Armistice Day, arguments to the jury and its deliberation were postponed until Friday.

Lowell B. Mason, "dry" Senator, concluded testimony for the defense yesterday with a denial of all accusations against him, and the government introduced three witnesses today in an effort to rebut that evidence, as well as that of Maj. Percy O'en, co-defendant, who formerly was prohibition director in Illinois.

The government asserted that more than 1,000,000 gallons of sacramental wines fraudulently found their way into commerce for graft payments of thousands of dollars, and introduced nearly a score of witnesses who outlined a gigantic conspiracy which involved Owen and Mason as recipients of graft.

PETITION FOR FEES AND ALIMONY FAILS

RENO (Nev.) Nov. 10. (AP)—A petition for attorneys' fees amounting to about $25,000 and a monthly alimony of $2000 while a divorce suit against her was pending, was denied Mrs. Beatrice J. Eisman, in District Court yesterday. Her millionaire husband Ralph J. Eisman, former head of a public utility company in New York State is suing for the divorce and resisted all efforts of his wife to obtain any money from him, except for the support of a 6-year-old child.

WHERE FARMING PAYS
Biggest Profits
YEAR IN AND YEAR OUT

Successful farming depends on certain factors that are well recognized. These include first-class land bought at a reasonable price...an abundance of water for irrigation at low cost...growing season and soil conditions that make wide diversification of crops possible...accessible markets and transportation facilities for reaching them.

But in most of the best farming districts it is seldom possible to buy good land excepting at a high price ...often prohibitive to the man looking for farm land.

Highly developed and productive farms are gilt-edge from a property investment standpoint if they are located in the right kind of a district.

The Land Opportunity of a Generation

That is why the sale of Miller & Lux holdings in the West Side District of the San Joaquin Valley offers an opportunity unequalled in California in recent times for the purchase of the best irrigated farm land in tracts of any size. The West Side District is one of the richest dairying and diversified farming sections of the state. Irrigation water is abundant and cheap. Big yields of alfalfa and all field and fruit crops. Farm wealth is increased annually by many millions of dollars.

Miller & Lux lands...including thousands of acres in heavy-bearing alfalfa, beans, cotton, corn and other field crops...are being sold at wholesale prices. You can buy the best land at less than half the price asked for similar land in many districts in the state. And you can buy this land on easy payments over a ten-year period.

This bargain land sale results from the breaking up of the largest privately-owned farm land estate in California...acquired more than half a century ago by the late Henry Miller and used for decades for live-stock raising. Decision of his heirs last spring to place this immense acreage on the market for immediate sale has created an opportunity for land buyers that can hardly occur again in California.

Full information concerning these lands may be had at any of our offices, with prices and terms, or by mailing the coupon for illustrated booklet on Miller & Lux lands.

END FULLERTON FARM SESSIONS

Many Improvements Indorsed by Delegates

Clearinghouse for Fruits Chief in Importance

Governor-Elect Young Talks on His Plans

FULLERTON, Nov. 10.—The California Fruit Growers' and Farmers' convention at its close this evening passed five resolutions, the chief of which was an indorsement of the proposal to establish a clearinghouse for interstate shipments of deciduous fruits.

The measure was adopted after lengthy discussions at both morning and afternoon sessions in which the necessity of controlling the crop movements was stressed by prominent growers in central and southern sections of the State.

Another resolution urged the Secretary of Commerce to send a special trades representative to the Orient to investigate possibilities for development of a market there for California fruits.

The delegates also went on record as favoring the shipment of and marketing of only clean healthful fruit. This was directed to the Federal authorities as was another resolution which embodied the views of California nurserymen on quarantine regulations and asked that the present stringent rules on bulbs and other imports be continued and strengthened.

The Secretary of Agriculture was urged in another motion to segregate the research department as a separate unit.

The Fullerton Chamber of Commerce, Kiwanis and Rotary clubs and other city and county organizations were lauded for their hospitality and entertainment of delegates.

Mayor S. C. Evans of Riverside stressed Southern California's water requirements. In commenting on the Boulder Canyon project on the Colorado River he said power could pay for he construction of the dam but that water alone could not do so.

He said that it was here in Fullerton that the scheme for harnessing the waters of the river was first conceived and discussed. He referred to the efforts of the late W. M. Irwin, postmaster, in this connection.

Paul Bailey, State Engineer, spoke of the official problems in connection with the development of water for irrigation. He spoke of the San Joaquin Valley water problem along the same lines as that of the Southland.

The movement of California's perishable crops is more than a farmer's problem, R. N. Wilson of the California Development Association, told the delegates. He emphasized the need of dissemination of more information about crops and demands in order that they may cope with the bugbear of overproduction and resultant losses for their labor.

Soil conditions and suggestions for their improvement was the theme of a talk by Horace Dunbar of the California soil improvement committee. He advocated soil surveys as an aid to the tillers.

The convention started its second day's deliberations with more than 500 delegates in attendance. The visitors included. Governor-Elect Young, who was a guest of honor at a banquet last night; Senator Boggs and a number of noted State and Federal agricultural authorities.

Much of the discussion was on experts' suggestions for overcoming marketing problems.

C. C. Teague, president of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange, told of the progress made in the distribution of citrus crops during the year. He stated that although there was a large overproduction of lemons this season in California, restricted shipments enabled the growers to receive a profit on their output. He indicated that a similar check on oranges was possible in the near future.

Charles E. Virden, chairman of the Pacific Coast Transportation Advisory Board, made an urgent plea to the deciduous fruit growers of the State to unite and form a clearinghouse to regulate their crop movements. He alluded to the fact that more than 1000 cars were on the track in the East, owing to the lack of regulatory measures. Glutted markets hurt the producer, he pointed out.

Chris L. Christensen, chief of the United States Division of Co-operative Marketing Department of Agriculture, outlined the growth of the co-operative movement in this country and told of what the government was doing to aid the farmers. He said that California ranked as a pioneer in this respect.

R. L. Adams, chief of the division of markets for the State Department of Agriculture, gave a brief resume of the work that his division is doing along the same line.

Governor-Elect Young told local Rotarians at a luncheon this afternoon that he was planning the appointment of a special commission to revise the State taxation system and that an ad valorem tax might be imposed. He said that the interests of agriculture would be safeguarded by naming a farmers' representative on this body. He stated that he planned to extend the Richardson system of budgeting so as to include all State expenditures.

HUMBOLDT COUNTY GLENDALE AROUSES JEALOUSY OF LOS ANGELES COUNTY GLENDALE

GLENDALE, Nov. 10.—The existence of a community boasting the name of Glendale, up in Humboldt county, has stirred L. M. Fisher of Glendale, in Los Angeles county, to protest.

In letters to the Glendale City Council, and to the Chamber of Commerce, he has declared that the presence of any other Glendale on the map than that in Los Angeles county is something that cannot be tolerated, and he asks the local authorities to initiate a movement to have the Humboldt county Glendale change its name, pointing out that confusion is liable to arise over the delivery of mail and telegrams and parcel post packages.

Another danger that he envisions is that which may arise when the entire State of California begins filling up more thickly with newcomers, and two Glendales will simply confuse everyone who comes to the State.

The City Council referred Mr. Fisher's letter to the Chamber of Commerce, and the latter body has found that the Glendale in Humboldt county is merely a sign post along the railroad and that it has not yet developed to an extent that constitutes a menace to the fastest growing city down here in Los Angeles county.

Besides, the people up in Humboldt county get their mail at Arcata, and not at Glendale, and the postal authorities are said to frown on any plan to have two postoffices of the same name in the State, so it is probable that nothing will be done about it.

SIX INDICTED AT FRESNO

Sheriff Jones Files Criminal Libel Charges and Grand Jury Acts on His Evidence

FRESNO, Nov. 10.—Six secret indictments were returned today by the Fresno county grand jury after an investigation into allegations of criminal libel filed by Sheriff W. F. Jones against several Coalinga citizens who are charged with having circulated a statement to the effect that Jones was under the effect of liquor at Coalinga on August 20.

Photostatic copies of a written statement making this charge against Jones were obtained by him and were presented to the grand jury today and several Coalinga citizens were subpoenaed in the investigation. The statement bore signatures purporting to be those of Ralph Kelsay, deputy city marshal; M. B. Smith, laborer; J. W. Neucum, furniture dealer; Thornton (Bob) Roelle, editor of a Coalinga paper, and W. W. Harrison, Coalinga oil worker.

In addition to those whose names appear on the statement, grand jury subpoenas were issued for Rev. C. M. Mason, Coalinga Baptist minister; Rev. L. D. Davis, Dr. Charles E. Brown of Lator, Julius Hansen, Fresno attorney who is representing those involved in the investigation; Sheriff Jones, Dr. C. W. Benedict, and W. E. Montgomery, deputies of the County Health Officer; Clarence Houser, county identification expert; Mrs. Houser, Mrs. Jones, wife of the Sheriff, and John Euless, Fresno insurance and real-estate man, and an admitted leader in Fresno of the Ku Klux Klan. Hansen was also campaign manager for Sam B. Williams, who opposed Jones in the Sheriff's race during the recent election.

During the course of the grand jury investigation which consumed virtually the entire day, Jones issued a public statement in which he denied the accusation and said that while he was in Coalinga on the date stated that he was not under the influence of liquor.

SUBWAYS URGED FOR HIGH-POWER LINES

HUNTINGTON PARK, Nov. 10.—Huntington Park's Board of City Trustees has introduced an ordinance regulating the construction of high-power lines in the city. Under its provision all power lines constructed in the future to carry more than 15,000 volts must be placed in subways. The city of Los Angeles at the present time is attempting to construct a line of steel towers along a strip of the residential section of this city. They propose to carry 260,000 volts. The ordinance introduced here carries with it a penalty for violation.

FUND PROVIDED TO KEEP ROAD IN SHAPE

LAGUNA BEACH, Nov. 10 — The State Highway Commission has appropriated $53,000 for the work of protection of the slopes and fills along the coast highway between Laguna and Corona del Mar from erosion with the coming of winter rains. The fund has been placed in charge of R. L. Thomas, resident engineer, to expend in the work. It will be used in establishing proper drainage and the placing of rock macadam shoulders to the highway.

LIQUOR POSSESSION CHARGE DISMISSED

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Nov. 10.—A charge of possession of liquor against Glenn Cole of this city was dismissed yesterday on motion of D. G. Wettlin, Deputy District Attorney, when the case came up for trial. Cole was arrested recently and pleaded not guilty at the trial. It developed that the liquor found on Cole's place had been discovered in a trash can on the rear of the place. Officers could not prove that Cole knew anything about the liquor.

NEW PHONE OFFICE TO OPEN

INGLEWOOD, Nov. 10.—Inglewood's new telephone central office will go into use December 4, next, Fred W. Smith, manager of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company, stated today. To make possible the change to the new telephone building, a new directory will be needed. There will be 4700 copies of the new book, an increase of 700 over the number required for the September issue.

DEATH JURY FREES CLIFTON

Angeleno Tried After Girl Killed in Motor Crash as Couple in Search of Marriage License

SANTA ANA, Nov. 10.—Debating the question nearly four hours a jury in Superior Court freed Paul Clifton, 23, of Los Angeles, who had been charged with manslaughter in connection with the death of Melba Fields, 22, his fiancee.

The girl was killed in an automobile wreck on West Fifth street near Santa Ana after she and Clifton had visited the Courthouse to obtain a marriage license and had failed because the license bureau was closed.

Whether Clifton or J. W. Kennedy, owner of the wrecked automobile, was driving at the time of the accident was one of the issues presented at the trial. Clifton and Kennedy each claimed the other was driving. Testimony by other witnesses that a man with a straw hat was driving saved Clifton. It had been testified by both Kennedy and Clifton that Kennedy was wearing the straw hat. He claimed that Clifton had taken the wheel just before the wreck took place.

The jury retired to deliberate at 4:16 p.m., and returned its verdict at 8:03 p.m. Mrs. Nora Mullinix, foreman of the jury, read the verdict. Clifton immediately was released. Attorney O. A. Jacobs, Santa Ana, defended Clifton at the trial and Chief Deputy District Attorney C. N. Mosley conducted the prosecution.

Pasadena Greets New Citizen by Shower of Rocks

PASADENA, Nov. 10.—Earl Peters, 20 years of age, dusky denizen of Louisiana took up his residence in Pasadena last night for the first time, but the celebration over his arrival did not occur till this morning. But when it came, it was some celebration.

Peters was sleeping soundly at 213 West Green street, when a terrific explosion rent the morning air. The glass of his bedroom window shattered and a heavy missile hurtled through, striking his leg. His wound bleeding, he leaped from bed and called the police. An ambulance rushed him to the Emergency Hospital.

Investigation revealed the fact that the contractor who is tearing up West Green street preparatory to its widening had not only blasted out a tree, but had blasted a thirty-pound rock through Peters's window.

Manufacturer of Mattresses Picks Burbank

BURBANK, Nov. 10.—Another industry has been added to the already large list of factories established in Burbank. The new one is a mattress factory and renovating plant. The owner is W. C. Payne of Coffeyville, Kan., formerly of Kansas City.

Mr. Payne has taken a long-time lease on the old Mayo Building at First street and Tujunga avenue. The building is to be entirely remodeled and decorated. Machinery will be installed and the plant ready for operation by December 1.

The owner is a veteran of the mattress business and is part owner of a plant in Oklahoma. The Oklahoma factory probably will be moved to this city later and combined with the local branch, making this the headquarters of the company.

HEARING EXTENDED

New Telephone Rate Plan at Pomona To Last Longer

POMONA, Nov. 10.—With witnesses for the Pomona Valley Telephone and Telegraph Union still straining in support of the company's proposed toll charge to surrounding cities on calls to or from the Pomona exchange which they hope to substitute for the present free service, indications late this afternoon were that the hearing before Commissioner Whitsell of the State Railroad Commission, would be continued another day for presentation of arguments by opponents of the company's plan. The latter had not yet presented a witness in support of their counter flat-rate increase plan when time for adjournment was at hand.

Finances of the telephone company were contained in an exhibit presented this afternoon by Carl Lorbeer, manager, he being on the stand during the major part of today's hearings.

FOUL PLAY FEARED FOR MISSING PAIR

HERMOSA BEACH, Nov. 10.—Continued failure to find any trace of 15-year-old Lois Marie Naylor of Hermosa Beach and Burns Germaine, 17-year-old Compton boy, has convinced relatives of the missing youth that the couple have met with foul play, an uncle, B. Y. Termaine, Redondo Beach real estate man, said today. Burns Termaine is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Termaine of Compton, was attached to his home and interested in his school work. He had no coat or hat when he left home, Mr. Termaine said, and scarcely any money. The missing pair had been school friends and disappeared from the girl's home in Hermosa when they left for a short ride early in the evening of October 28.

AIR MAIL INCREASES FOR SAN FERNANDO

SAN FERNANDO, Nov. 10.—Volume of air mail at the San Fernando postoffice has grown from one and two pieces a day a few months ago to fifteen a day, according to Postmaster H. C. Caldwell. Under the present system, letters, mailed before 5 o'clock in the afternoon reach Salt Lake City at 2:30 the next afternoon.

Silver Peak Guest Ranch, Walnut, Cal., is now receiving guests. For reservations phone Pomona Suburban 8.—[Advertisement.

HELD ON BAD-CHECK CHARGE

Recalls Sensational Murder Case

Mrs. George M. Schick

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 10.—Sarah M. Schick, the death of whose husband, George M. Schick, sent E. Drew Clark to a life term in Folsom Prison, is being held in $1000 bail here on a worthless-check charge. The check, made out for $150, was cashed at a local store.

Mrs. Schick was a figure in one of the most sensational murder cases in the annals of San Diego county. According to the testimony, Clark, a trusted friend, caused the death of Schick and supplanted him in his home. Mrs. Schick was arrested with Clark but was acquitted of complicity in her husband's death.

Arrest of Shaky Suspect Affords Police Surprise

ALHAMBRA, Nov. 10.—When C. T. Tanner, Pasadena, entered a cafe today, an officer standing on the corner noticed that he walked in an uncertain manner. "He looks shaky," thought the upholder of the law.

A few minutes later Tanner emerged from the restaurant. The officer, observing from a closer vantage point, noted an increase in his shakiness. As Tanner stumbled to his car, he was placed under arrest for being drunk.

When searched at the police station the cause of Tanner's shaky condition was learned. In his pocket were four salt shakers, the property of the cafe, it was asserted. The officer, however, declined to enter a charge of petit larceny.

The restaurant man got his shakers back.

BAKERSFIELD FARM BUREAU WORK TOLD

BAKERSFIELD, Nov. 10.—Predicting a farm bureau membership here of 1000 persons by the first of the new year, T. W. Taylor, farm adviser for this county, outlined the work accomplished by the bureau during the past year, at a meeting of regional directors here. The existence of a cotton sales agency has enabled local growers time and again to top the prevailing market. For the benefit of the growers and buyers alike, a cotton-classing agency is in operation here under the State Department of Agriculture, with a cotton expert to do the grading. This protects both the grower and buyer. Another division of the farm bureau has established a pure cotton-seed agency for the selection of the best seeds of each year's crop for the planting of the succeeding crop.

Colorado River Level Declared to be Very Low

EL CENTRO, Nov. 10. (AP)—Frank Adams, professor at the University of California, held an extended conference with the directors of the Imperial Irrigation District last night, pertaining to the levels of the river in Mexico, where the levees are built. Prof. Adams has been designated by Reclamation Commissioner Elwood Mead to make a report on the levee conditions south of Pescadero Cut, following an agreement between the irrigation district board and California bankers to that effect. In reply to questions last night, Chief Engineer Dowd made the startling statement that the river levels at Pescadero Cut are lower than they were two years ago. The bankers in their conference had stated that they are higher and that the valley on the American side is more seriously menaced. Dowd gave the figures to Adams.

SHOVELER OF SAND SMOTHERED IN PIT

ROSCOE, Nov. 10.—An inquest was conducted today over the body of J. A. Castro, 27 years of age, a laborer in the employ of the Sheldon plant of the Consumers Rock and Sand Company, who was smothered to death in a sand pit. According to police report, Castro jumped on a pile of wet sand in order to hasten it down a near-by chute. He missed his footing and slid with the sand, which piled on him and wedged him in the chute. Castro's body was not recovered for about two hours, at which time he was dead. Before the body could be found and extricated, a large hole had to be cut in one side of a large sand bin leading from the chute. The body was taken to the undertaking establishment of Noble Brothers, San Fernando. Interment will be in Oakwood Cemetery, Chatsworth.

BEATRICE M. WATERBURY

VAN NUYS, Nov. 10.—Funeral services for Beatrice M. Waterbury, 50 years of age, wife of Dr. J. E. Waterbury, will be conducted Friday at the Van Nuys funeral parlors. Interment will be in the Odd Fellows' Cemetery at San Luis Obispo. Mrs. Waterbury was motoring with her husband when she suffered a heart attack. She was hastened to the office of Dr. A. W. Swehson on Van Nuys Boulevard, where she expired soon after. The husband and three sons survive.

CHARTER VOTE PLANNED

Santa Monica Commissioners Considering Numerous Amendments to City's Basic Law

SANTA MONICA, Nov. 10.—Amendments to the Santa Monica city charter were being considered today by the commissioners, following preparation of ten weeks by a committee of twenty-one representatives of civic organizations, headed by the Santa Monica-Ocean Park Chamber of Commerce. The amendments were designed to go before the voters at a special election to be set by the Council.

Of chief interest are the amendments providing civil service for municipal employees, establishment of a relief and pension fund for police and firemen, fixing of city commissioners' salaries at $6000 a year, establishment of a library advisory board, fixing the salary of police judge at $3600 a year, and provision for the establishment of primary municipal elections.

Of widespread interest because of the reputation Santa Monica has gained through its community advertising, is a proposed amendment petitioned by Ed B. Conliss, Fred S. Wilson and M. C. McKenney for an additional 3 cents on each $100 of taxable property for general municipal advertising, increasing the present fund for that purpose to 5 cents per $100 in tax levying. Another proposed amendment provides for a tax levy of 2 cents for the care of needy persons and prevention of epidemics. Vesting of powers now held by the health, police and fire boards in the commissioner of public safety who is ex-officio mayor, is sought through abolishing the boards referred to. Abolition of the boards of park and water commissioners is proposed, their duties to be vested in the commissioner of public works.

Making the city commissioners a board of public utilities, controlling construction, maintenance and operation funds of all city owned income utilities funds is proposed. The commissioner of public works under another amendment, would have control of all public playgrounds, recreation centers and summer camps, subject to the City Council, and in co-operation with the school board.

JURY FAILS TO PLACE BLAME

Finds Pasadena Woman Died from Skull Fracture

Question as to Who Operated Car Left Unsettled

Man Booked on Suspicion of Manslaughter

PASADENA, Nov. 10.—A Coroner's jury today failed to name the driver of the automobile which crashed into a boulder on North Foothill Boulevard at 4 a.m. Sunday, killing Mrs. Zada Fern Stagner, 772 Cypress street, and injuring slightly her companion, J. G. Morgat, 298 South Marengo avenue. The inquest was held at the Clyde Wilson undertaking rooms here this morning.

Morgan, who was booked on suspicion of manslaughter at the police station as well as on an intoxication charge, failed to take the stand to repeat his previous declaration that Mrs. Stagner was driving when the spectacular accident occurred.

J. M. Christlaw, 298 South Marengo avenue, testified, however, that Mrs. Stagner had been driving when he was with the couple earlier in the evening. He admitted that there had been drinking in the party. Mrs. Stagner, 23 years of age, was the mother of three children and had been separated from her husband about six months.

Her husband, O. J. B. Stagner, two brothers, Glen A. Phair and Lester D. Phair, and her room-mate, Miss Winifred Anderson, testified today that she had never driven an automobile and had expressed very slight interest in learning to drive.

Morgan said, "I was the driver," according to the testimony of N. S. Brewster and Carroll Wadell, who stopped in at the Emergency Hospital here after the accident when Morgan and the woman were brought in. Detective Sergeant Mansell and Officer Ripley of the police department, declared on the other hand that Morgan's speech was incoherent and that his ultimate statement was that Mrs. Stagner had been driving.

Morgan was being held at the County Jail this afternoon, following the jury's indefinite finding. The verdict merely stated that death was due to a skull fracture, without naming the driver of the car.

Large Crowd to Attend Rodeo at Van Nuys Today

VAN NUYS, Nov. 10.—Between 10,000 and 15,000 spectators are expected here tomorrow to witness the Armistice Day rodeo celebration under the auspices of members of the American Legion in San Fernando Valley, with members of the local Legion post in charge of arrangements.

Some of the best riders, cowboy and cowgirl rope throwers and steer bulldoggers will figure in the various events. One of the principal features will be a band of twenty Cossacks, whose last engagement was at the Sesquicentennial at Philadelphia. They will vie with the western cowboys in hazardous and trick riding. Preceding the rodeo will be a parade containing two bands, veterans of wars, a score of decorated floats, Boy Scout troops, R.O.T.C. companies and decorated automobiles.

At night there will be a grand military ball in the new $30,000 Odd Fellows' Building. Visitors from all over the valley, Hollywood and Los Angeles are expected to attend the all-day celebration.

PLANNERS TO MEET

Representatives Will Seek Means of Making Improvements

SANTA MONICA, Nov. 10.—The Association of City Planners, representing planning bodies of cities throughout Southern California, has scheduled a meeting of unusual importance for next Saturday, according to C. J. S. Williamson, secretary. The gathering will start with a luncheon at noon in the Santa Monica Bay Woman's Club, Wilshire Boulevard and Fourth street.

"The problem of carrying on improvements which are absolutely necessary for the development of this county, following the failure of county bond issue No. 1 to carry at the recent election, will be taken up," Williamson stated.

John Lathrop, editor of the California Tax Digest, is on the program for a talk on methods of financing public improvements in relation to assessed property valuation.

PASTOR'S WIFE SUED BY SCHOOL-TEACHER

BAKERSFIELD, Nov. 10.—Mrs. Florence Baker, former Delano High School teacher, began her $25,000 slander suit against Mrs. Maud Branton, wife of a Delano minister, Tuesday in the Superior Court before Judge Erwin W. Owen. The plaintiff, now a Los Angeles high school teacher, charges that Mrs. Branton "maliciously contrived to injure in her good name, reputation and fame," by stating to two trustees of the Delano High School, Earl Dyar and J. E. Gange, "Well, I suppose you know Mrs. Baker is a dope fiend." As a result of the asserted statement Mrs. Baker asserts that she lost the trust and confidence of the public and that her reputation has been destroyed.

BURBANK WORKING ON WATER SYSTEM PLANS

BURBANK, Nov. 10.—City officials in connection with representatives of the engineering department of the Burns, McDonald & Smith firm of Los Angeles are working on a comprehensive plan for the development of the local water system in connection with the expenditure of the bond issue of $150,000 recently voted and which is scheduled to be sold next week. A recent survey of the local system showed that the present system is inadequate and has been for several years and with the rapid growth of the city is getting farther behind all the time.

ALMS THIEF CAPTURED BY RECTOR

Youth Gets 180 Days in Ontario Jail Two Hours After Robbing Church

ONTARIO, Nov. 10.—Swift justice was dealt this afternoon to Frank Gates, 19 years of age, of Clinton, Iowa, who, within two hours after robbing the Episcopal Church alms box here, was on his way to the County Jail, where he was sentenced to spend the next 180 days following his appearance before Judge Holbrook in the local court.

Young Gates was in the act of leaving the church when the rector, Rev. Richard H. Gushe, entered. The latter's suspicions were aroused by the boy's actions and as soon as the rector discovered that money had been taken from the box he telephoned the police department and then set himself to watch the course taken by the thief until the arrival of the officers.

Patrolman Houghton responded immediately in the police car and picking up Mr. Gushe near the church they overtook Gates a few blocks beyond.

Long Sentence Given Violator of Liquor Laws

FRESNO, Nov. 10.—One of the heaviest sentences imposed in the Federal District Court here in liquor-law-violation cases in recent years was that pronounced today by Judge McCormick on Joe Gatti, Fresno Italian, who pleaded guilty on six counts of violation of the prohibition act and was sentenced to a total of 450 days in the County Jail and fined $350.

Gatti was sentenced to serve ninety days in jail on each of five counts and the fine was imposed on a sixth count, to all of which he pleaded guilty.

The heavy sentence was meted out by the court when it was recalled that early last year Gatti pleaded guilty to a charge of conspiracy to violate the prohibition act in connection with the Federal investigation of the West Side Club here. Several others involved in the conspiracy who were convicted were sentenced to the Federal penitentiary and the County Jail.

BEGGAR SENTENCED

One-Legged Man Abuses Charity Official for Questioning him

ONTARIO, Nov. 10. — Cornelius Long, 46 years of age, a cripple, was given prompt aid toward a living here this afternoon, but not of the variety he sought. Instead of obtaining the money that he had forcibly requested he was given thirty days' board and room in the County Jail when hauled before Judge George Holbrook to answer a peace disturbance charge.

Long, who is minus a portion of one leg, and gets about with the aid of crutches, appeared at the local Salvation Army headquarters and requested the officer in charge to give him money. As is the custom, the army official made the usual inquiries to decide the merits of the case.

Long poured forth a volley of profane and indecent language. Long was not obliged to use his crutches in reaching the police station.

SERVICES CONDUCTED FOR CAR-CRASH VICTIM

HUNTINGTON PARK, Nov. 10.—Funeral services of Jean Spence, 5 years of age, killed in an automobile accident north of this city last Saturday night, were conducted yesterday afternoon, following an inquest in which a verdict of unavoidable accident was returned. Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Spence, their two children, and Miss Ella Herider were returning in an automobile from Downey, when another car struck the one in which they were riding at the intersection of Fruitland Road and Pacific Boulevard. Jean Spence was injured fatally and her little sister also was hurt. The driver of the other machine was Leslie Byington of Los Angeles. The Spences reside at 1201 1-2 West Fifty-eighth street, Los Angeles.

CLARK NAMED HEAD OF POMONA SCHOOLS

POMONA, Nov. 10.—Emmett Clark, at present principal of Kaufman Junior High School of this city, was today named by the Pomona Board of Education to succeed Guy V. Whaley, resigned, as City Superintendent of Schools. Appointment of Mr. Clark comes as a direct reward for his eleven years of aggressive service in the local schools besides an enviable record as an instructor in the State.

HIGHWAY TREES DOOM

Palms Along Coast Road Above Ventura Taken Out to Permit Widening of Pavement

VENTURA, Nov. 10.—Between 400 and 500 beautiful palms that have for years graced the coast highway on the Rincon from the River bridge to Seacliff, about eight miles up the coast, are being removed to the God of Traffic.

Planted years ago through the enterprise of E. P. Foster of Ventura, who has long been a benefactor to the people of the city and county in many ways, including the beautification of the highways, these palms, the majority of them well-grown specimens, today are being burned down and cut off and dragged away to be used as a rip-rapping to keep the ocean from eating out the bank in a few places along the road.

Recently Mr. Foster received a letter from the State Highway Commission in which he was informed that it would be necessary to tear out the palms in the vicinity of the fish camp the highway program started along the Rincon.

Mr. Foster said this morning that he wrote the commission inquiring why it would be necessary to cut out the trees, but he has not received an answer to his request. "It is shameful that these beautiful trees are being cut down," he said. "The Highway Commission does not have to go to the trouble to widen the highway between Ventura and Camarillo and to remove the trees in the county. Of course, they were planted there by the county through the county road commission, and while I know the efficiency of the Highway Commission in the growth and preservation of trees along the highways, I cannot make the action seem anything but vandalism. In this case it seems to be the sacrifice of beauty for the sake of a sacrifice to speed, a sacrifice which I consider unnecessary and one which possibly could be prevented."

The palms are being cut down by workmen employed by the firm of J. F. Knapp of Ventura, who has the permit of the State Highway Commission.

"Glandular Type" Obesity Responds to Gland Operation—Says Expert

A famous woman authority on matters of beauty" in a recent syndicated article stated that there are a "glandular type" of obesity, and referred to it as "thyroid fat."

Obesity is often due to a defective ductless gland, according to the authority of several eminent medical writers. Many physicians recommend to these so-called "glandular types" a gland operation by a gland specialist, realizing that thyroid or pituitary deficiency causes obesity and can best be normalized by a simplified gland operation. Any other course in these cases, at best, is disappointing.

In addition to a correction of the deficient glands and relief of the resultant trouble, a gland operation tends to build the general health of the individual operated upon.

By calling in person or mailing (no postage, the reader may secure a copy of Dr. Clayton E. Thoeler's treatise, "THE PROREGULATION OF HUMAN EFFICIENCY," wherein a fund of information on the influence of the ductless glands on the human body is presented in easily understood language. Appointment may be made for a free consultation with Dr. Thoeler, and for which there is no charge.

Los Ingleses Van a Subir las Cuotas de Arancel a las Películas Yanquis

LONDRES, Noviembre 10.—La inauguración de un arancel protector contra las películas de los Estados Unidos fue la proposición que estudió esta tarde la comisión de la conferencia imperial que discutió los medios de cerrarles la puerta en Inglaterra y sus dominios a las producciones cinematográficas de Hollywood, y el problema concomitante de hacer que aumenten las cintas británicas.

Bajo la presión de las grandes compañías de cintas de este país y de los dominios de Australia y Canadá, la conferencia está procurando idear un programa económico que levante esa industria y ponga a las películas británicas en aptitud de competir con las norteamericanas. Desease también utilizar la industria del cine como medio de propaganda, llevando a otras partes las vistas hechas en Inglaterra y sus dominios, para que den a conocer las costumbres, las maneras y la geografía de esos grandes países. Con insistencia se ha formulado la queja de que la proyección excesiva de vistas norteamericanas está implantando ideas yanquis en los dominios británicos.

El problema de las cintas fue remitido a la conferencia imperial, después que una comisión especial del parlamento no había podido recomendar de manera satisfactoria los informes que se le entregaron hace dos meses.

La industria de películas no estuvo tampoco de acuerdo con los términos de los informes, pues los empresarios de teatros se oponían al plan de los productores, de disminuir el número de cintas norteamericanas hasta que los ingleses pudieran producirlas de igual mérito.

El informe de la comisión económica será rendido de aquí a unos días, y es probable recomiende la aprobación de leyes, que marquen cantidad de cintas y tarifa de aranceles.

En el interín, la prensa está haciendo ponzoñosa campaña contra la vulgaridad de las vistas norteamericanas. El último ataque que ha lanzado ha sido contra "Ben Hur," que acaba de presentarse.

Celebrase la Boda de Leopoldo y Astrid

BRUSELAS, Noviembre 10.—Hoy a las 11:15 de la mañana se casaron el Príncipe heredero Leopoldo y la Princesa Astrid en la Catedral de Santa Gudulia. Era tal la apretada muchedumbre alrededor de la catedral, que salieron lastimados muchos niños y mujeres. No hubo desgracias de muerte; pero muchísimos accidentados fueron conducidos al hospital, o recibieron atención médica en farmacias cercanas. En la manifestación más imponente que ha habido en Bruselas desde el Día del Armisticio, mañana va a hacer ocho años.

El novio de 25 años, que atravesó algo torpemente la nave principal de la catedral, reinará, andando el tiempo, en Bélgica, y la novia será su reina.

Pero para las 200,000 personas que se aglomeraron en las espléndidas calles y avenidas de Bruselas, los novios eran simplemente Leopoldo y Astrid. Casi inadvertido pasó el cortejo de reyes, príncipes y nobles, desde duques hasta barones; tan ansiosa así estaba la multitud por contemplar a la joven pareja.

Formaron en doble valla quince mil soldados, bajo el mando de mil oficiales, que lucían correctos uniformes. Millares de banderas adornaban las calles del tránsito. Leopoldo y Astrid salieron del ala derecha del palacio real, que será su casa en lo de adelante, poco antes de las 11.

"¡Allí viene la novia!" gritó alguno de los espectadores y se levantó un clamoreo tal, que ahogó casi la voz del cañón, que disparaba un saludo de veintiún tiros.

Un Miembro de la Banda de Rapaces Fue Huésped de Reina María

Lester Brown, de 13 años de edad, hijo del señor y la señora H. E. Brown, de Sandpoint (Idaho) trata mucho que contarle a "la banda," al regresar hace pocos días a su casa, después de un memorable viaje hasta Spokane, como improvisado huésped de la Reina María, de Rumanía.

Lester fue empujado por la multitud al tren especial de la soberana rumana, y llevado en él hasta Spokane. Comió a la mesa de la familia real y ésta lo agasajó durante todo el viaje. Le pusieron un telegrama a sus papás, diciéndoles que iba seguro. La noche del día en que tomó el tren, regresó, a petición suya, trayendo consigo muchos recuerdos de su aventura. Cuando se le pregunta su opinión sobre la reina, dice: "Es la mejor persona que he visto."

Rica Viuda Extorsionada

Acusados de haberse apoderado de $5000, propiedad de la señora Anna Thomas, viuda acomodada de Rhode Island, mediante amenazas de causar un escándalo, Douglas Hunter, vendedor de propiedad raíz en Whittier, y la señora Mabel Hunter, su esposa, fueron arrestados ayer, citados ante el juez municipal Ballard, acusados de extorsión, y sometidos a prestación de fianza de $1000.

El escrito de queja del teniente fiscal Linckley dice que la señora Thomas entró en relaciones con Hunter, debido a un anuncio de éste, en el que solicitaba una vendedora. Hunter empezó a hacerle la corte a la Thomas, haciéndose pasar por divorciado, hasta lograr que consintiera ella en el matrimonio, y en ir un día con él al apartamiento en que vivía con la señora Hunter. Presentóse ésta intempestivamente, y amenazó a la señora Thomas con un escándalo, si no le soltaba dinero. Esta prefirió someterse a la extorsión, de la que hoy se querella.

READING (Pa.) Nov. 10. (AP)—The Reading Company has increased the wages of its carpenters, machinists, boilermakers, car repairers, blacksmiths and similar artisans 3 cents an hour and their helpers 2 cents. The increase affects approximately 5000 men and was effective November 1.

Countess Will Not Press Suit for Admission

MONTREAL, Nov. 10. (AP)—Countess Karolyi, wife of Count Michael Karolyi, who is barred from the United States, will not visit or even attempt to enter the United States. She made this clear today at her hotel here when she told reporters she had wired her attorneys in New York to drop her suit, now pending in the United States courts "in regard to my treatment by the Department of State."

A visa to enter the United States was denied Countess Karolyi by the American Department of State in October, 1925, when she sought to complete a lecture tour there.

IMPEACHMENT COURT FINDS NO DEFENDANT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10. (AP)—Assembling as a high court of impeachment, the Senate found itself today without a defendant in the proceedings brought by the House at the last session of Congress. Managers for the House were present to announce formally the resignation of Federal Judge English of the Eastern Illinois district, and its acceptance by the President and asked for adjournment of the court until it could receive further instructions from the House next month.

Japan Not to Prohibit Alien Land Ownership

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 10. (AP)—The government of Japan will take no retaliatory measures against the United States because of State laws which forbid Japanese to own land, Ambassador Matsudaira declared today in a luncheon address to the Chamber of Commerce. The Japanese Ambassador said a new law which went into effect in Japan today permits citizens or corporation of any country to own land in fee simple in Japan.

"It is true," he said, "that this new law authorized the government to issue an ordinance whereby reciprocal measures may be taken in the case of citizens or corporations of a foreign country, or any part thereof, which denies or restricts ownership of land by Japanese. However, in the practical application of this law it is the intention of the Japanese government to follow a liberal policy and it will not issue such an ordinance.

"I trust this will make clear the fact that, although there are some States in this country which deny to the Japanese ownership or even the right to lease land, and which, in other ways discriminate against them, it is, nevertheless, the intention of my government to take no retaliatory measures."

SPARRLAND

Offers You an Opportunity to Achieve Independence on

A Model, Completely Equipped Ranch of Your Own

Backed by resources of $10,000,000 and with its resident ranchers specializing in the production of fine fur rabbits, for which we furnish a profitable market, Sparrland is destined to become one of the outstanding community developments of Southern California.

Here the vision of its founders to make of Sparrland the greatest fur rabbit raising community in the country gives promise of fulfillment, for within the month and a half since this development was opened to the public more than 75 families have purchased model ranch units and are preparing to move on to the property just as soon as their places can be made ready for them.

Here We Furnish You

A Modern Home and Assured Income

All For $4500 Easy Terms

(Corners Slightly Higher)

In other words, we give you a home in a restricted community, where living conditions are ideal, AND we set you up in a business which pays you big profits—standing by you to see that you do succeed—all for less than you would pay for an average home on an ordinary lot in the city.

Here's Proof of Our Faith in Sparrland and in the Fur Rabbit Industry

This 3,000-acre development at Sparrland, together with the improvements which we are putting on the property, represents a tremendous investment. To show our confidence in the community's future and in your ability to succeed on one of these 2½ acre tracts we are willing to finance you to the extent of about 80 per cent of your investment if you are energetic and of the substantial type which we want to attract to Sparrland.

We co-operate with you from the day you move in. Our experts teach you the rabbit raising business and are at your service whenever you need their advice or help. We furnish you a market at top prices for your rabbits, picking them up alive at your door.

And don't overlook this fact—You have vast resources behind you to protect and secure your investment, insurance to you that we are able to live up to our promises TO THE LETTER.

A modern four-room house, plastered, concrete foundation, all material first class, a home built for permanence and conforming to the $1500 building restrictions in force on the property; bathroom fixtures, water heater, wash tub, etc.; gas, lights and water connected.

Approximately 2½ acres of excellent land, with 2-inch water mains for irrigation on your property; enough land to not only provide space for your rabbit hutches, but also for a large chicken plant, garden plot, berry patch and orchard.

An abundant supply of fine water supplied by our pumping wells.

Foundation fur rabbits, consisting of 2 Chinchilla does and 2 Chinchilla bucks and 10 American White Giant does and 1 American White Giant buck, with standard hutches for same.

A modern garage with cement floor, feedhouse in rear.

All Included in the Basic Price of $4500

A Market for Your Rabbits

The principal worry of the independent producer — the best market for his stock—is eliminated by our co-operative plan at Sparrland. We furnish you with a contract whereby your stock is picked up at your door ALIVE and you receive top price for all of your rabbits, with a very substantial premium for breeding stock. Remember that we also furnish you feed for your rabbits at cost.

A Net Income of $4000 a Year

Mr. Ben H. Beery, one of the Southland's foremost fur rabbit breeders and head of our staff of rabbit experts, estimates very conservatively that, after selling off surplus stock the first year and starting the second year with 200 breeding Chinchilla does, your profits thereafter should not be less than $20 per doe, which means a possible net income of $4000 or more per year. This figure takes into consideration all possible losses through inexperience and unavoidable mortality, also feeding and other expense.

Hunt Wins by 333 in Final Arizona Count

PHOENIX, Nov. 10. (AP)—Final tabulation of official figures on the election of the 2nd inst. from the fourteen county seats, today showed Gov. Hunt, Democrat, re-elected for a sixth term.

Hunt's lead over F. S. Clark, Republican, was 333, the count standing: Hunt 39,988; Clark 39,655. These figures did not include one precinct in Apache county, where about 100 votes were cast. The tally sheets in the precinct were sealed up with the counted ballots in a container and could not be listed in the official canvass by the Board of Supervisors. The precinct's vote can be recounted only through a court order.

Whether Clark will demand a recount of all votes cast for the Governorship, was unknown today.

Couple Try to End Lives After Auto Accident

OAKLAND, Nov. 10. (AP)—James Riffo, 29 years of age, and his wife, Dollie, 20, worried so much about running down and seriously injuring a pedestrian with their automobile last Saturday night that they entered into a suicide pact in their home here today and almost killed themselves by inhaling illuminating gas.

Two policemen who broke into the Riffo home found the couple in the gas-filled kitchen. Riffo was unconscious. Mrs. Riffo was semiconscious and vigorously resisted any attempts to aid her. She seized a knife and cut one of the officers slightly before she lost consciousness.

At the Receiving Hospital it was said both would recover.

HOW EXTRA PRIZES WILL BE AWARDED

Five hundred dollars in gold will be awarded in extra prizes during this period, divided as follows:

Grand Prize	$200
"First Division" Prize	$100
"Second Division" Prize	$100
"Third Division" Prize	$100

The grand prize of $200 in gold will be awarded to the candidate, regardless of the district or division he or she lives in, who turns in the highest amount in new subscription payments during the period of this special offer (November 9 to 24, inclusive.)

The next highest candidate in each of the three divisions will receive $100 in gold.

These prizes are EXTRA and in no way conflict with the awarding of the regular prizes, valued at more than $50,000, at the end of the campaign. The winners of the extra prizes will be announced by the official judge of the campaign.

All new subscriptions on this gold offer will also apply on the 90,000 extra vote offer, thus giving new subscriptions a triple value—extra gold, extra votes, and a prize at the end of the campaign.

90,000 Extra Votes

How to Get the Extra Votes

In addition to the extra gold prizes, candidates are offered a wonderful opportunity to get thousands of extra votes by forming "new subscription clubs." Ninety thousand extra votes will be given to candidates for each $30 worth of new subscriptions turned in on or before November 24—9 p.m.

All new subscriptions to The Times, daily, Sunday, or daily and Sunday, will be accepted on $30 clubs. Any combination may be made up to constitute a club. The 90,000 votes are a bonus in addition to the regular votes allowed on each subscription, as shown in the regular vote schedule on this page.

There is no limit to the number of clubs any candidate may turn in. For every club there will be 90,000 extra votes, and for every dollar over or under a club, extra votes will be given pro rata.

All new subscriptions turned in during this period (November 9 to 24, inclusive) will apply on both the 90,000 extra votes offer and the $500 gold offer.

Ballots to cover extra votes earned on offer which closed November 6, will be mailed to candidates within a few days.

ENTER NOW!

There will never be a better time to enter this big prize campaign than now. New candidates and late starters may quickly gain the leadership in votes by putting forth their best efforts, during this special offer. Send in the nomination blank today, and full particulars will be sent by return mail.

Beware of "Switching"

Only NEW Times subscriptions will apply on this great double offer. Candidates should be careful not to mark "old" subscriptions as "new." Changing the address of a present subscriber, or "switching" the subscription from one member of a household to another member, does not make a new subscription out of an old one. Votes will be forfeited if old subscriptions are turned in as new. A new subscriber is any person who was not receiving The Times on the day this campaign started.

Candidates should also be careful to give the name and complete address of subscribers in filling out their remittance sheets. Otherwise delivery of the paper will be delayed until correct address is secured.

PORTLAND, Nov. 10. (Exclusive)—The Oregon Aggies, sometimes called "Farmers," will try tomorrow to turn the Thundering Herd into contented cows. RABBIT PUNCHES

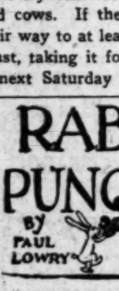
By Paul Lowry



PARALLYZING PAUL BERLENBACH'S aspirations to become a bona fide heavyweight seem likely to be gratified. Since coming to the Coast a few weeks back the Astoria Assassin, who formerly held the light-heavyweight crown, has put on ten pounds. When he stripped for action at the Main street gymnasium last Monday he scaled exactly 185 pounds, and there didn't seem to be an ounce of superfluous flesh on him anywhere.

Though he has made plenty of money in the light-heavyweight division Paul has his eyes on the big dough in the heavyweight ranks. He thinks Tunney would be his meat and it was with Gentleman Gene in mind that Berlenbach made the trip to the Coast—to rest, add weight and inaugurate a secret siege of training that will lead to a match with Tunney. The four rounds he boxed at Carlos Curtis's sweat emporium the other day were his first in California.

If we had any money to bet on today's football game at Portland it would go down on the Trojans over the Oregon Aggies. Howard Maple as the new quarterback of the Aggies may make a big difference in their play, but somehow we can't forget the stupid football the Aggies played in Los Angeles last winter. The northerners were big and powerful but they were hopelessly

NEW RESOLUTIONS CAUSE OF DRASTIC TIGER ACT

Refuse to Divulge Nature of Last Communication From Harvard; President Approves Move

PRINCETON (N. J.) Nov. 10. (AP)—All athletic relations between Princeton and Harvard universities were broken off today, Dr. Charles W. Kennedy, chairman of the board of athletic control announced. Princeton was willing, Dr. Kennedy said, to finish such events that were on the present schedule, but he deemed it "inadvisable."

The action was taken this afternoon at a meeting of the board at which President John Grier Hibben was present as ex-officio member. Dr. Hibben announced the severence, with his approval.

Dr. Kennedy intimated that the climax was capped by the receipt this morning of a copy of resolutions adopted by the Harvard board.

The last paragraph of a letter to William J. Bingham, chairman of the board of athletic control of Harvard, read as follows:

"I may also add tha Princeton, so far as she is concerned, would never accept the implications of the athletic policy recently adopted by the Harvard committee on regulation of athletic sports as set forth in their resolutions of October 15, which I received this morning."

Dr. Kennedy declined to make known the provision of the resolutions.

STANFORD CAGE SQUAD REPORTS

Candidates for Varsity Team Turn Out in First Practice of 1927 Season

STANFORD UNIVERSITY (Cal.) Nov. 10 (AP)—Candidates for Stanford's varsity basketball team turned out today under Coach E. P. "Husky" Hunt for the first practice of the 1927 season. Letter men available for every place on the squad, including several good prospects from last year's freshman five, greeted Coach Hunt.

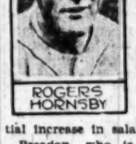
The veterans include Capt Nelson David, forward; Wally Layred, center; Moco Newhouse and Ned Anderson, guards; Fred Price, forward, and Ted Shipkey, guards, will be available as soon as football season ends.

HORNSBY SHUNS GIANTS

Cardinal Boss Denies Rumors of Trade to McGraw Because of Friction on Cards

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 10. (AP)—Denying rumors that he would be traded to the New York Giants because of friction known to have existed between him and President Sam Breadon of the world's champion St. Louis Cardinals, Manager Rogers Hornsby said today he would rather play in St. Louis than any other city.

Hornsby has never signed a manager's contract. His playing contract expired this year. Although he has made no public statement, it is known that he will ask Breadon for a free hand in managing the Cardinals without interference from Branch Rickey, former manager and now vice-president of the club, whose activities among the players Hornsby is known to have resented. Hornsby also is expected to request a substantial increase in salary.



ROGERS HORNSBY

Breadon, who is in Bardentown, Fla., said over the long-distance telephone that he would confer with Hornsby when he returned to St. Louis early in December and he was confident "everything will be ironed out."

MOTHER DELAHANTY DIES

CLEVELAND (O.) Nov. 10. (AP)—Mrs. Bridget Delahanty, mother of six baseball players who gained fame in the big leagues some twenty years ago, died at the home of a daughter here today.

PRO FOOTBALLERS STRANDED IN EAST

NEW YORK, Nov. 10. (AP)—Claiming to have been stranded here by failure of the team's backers to pay them for two weeks, gridiron stars recruited from southern universities to represent Newark in the American Professional Football League today announced they had retained Dudley Field Malone as attorney to sue the league for salary and expenses.

JOHNNY HAWKINS'S HOLLYWOOD TEAM IN DEBUT AT ROSE BOWL

Johnny Hawkins, a footballer of note, and his Hollywood Generals will make their debut in these parts today when they tackle the Jolly Jack Tar grid team from the U.S.S. Melville in a game for sweet charity at the Rose Bowl, Pasadena. Besides his regular team Hawkins will have the able assistance of "Babe" Horrell and "Tuffy" Conn, a couple of rip-roaring linemen who will be added starters to the Hollywood Pros line-up.

HENRY LEFEBVRE

Horrell was all-American center for California and Conn established his football reputation with the Oregon Aggies as a backfield man. Hawkins has one of the strongest pro teams in the country if names mean anything. Against Oakland last Sunday the Hollywood team looked like a million dollars and the men acted as if they had been playing together for years.

The sailor team that will line up against Hawkins's men today is said to be a very strong outfit. In the line-up are several well-known players who wore the moleskins for Annapolis in years gone by. On the Melville squad is a youth named Barrett, who is said to be the sweetest dropkicker this side of Mars. The proceeds of the game will be donated to Pasadena Post of the American Legion.

ARMY-NAVY TEAMS CLASH

BERKELEY, Nov. 10. (Exclusive)—Army and Navy teams will stage a little private war for the Pacific Coast championship in the California Memorial Stadium tomorrow afternoon as one of the principal events of an elaborate Armistice Day program.

Footballers of the U.S.S. Pennsylvania have been drafted to comprise the Navy's team, while picked gridsters of the Ninth Corps area will make up the Army squad. The Army aggregation has been participating in a trying schedule in the San Francisco Bay region, and is considered one of the best teams wearing the khaki in many seasons.

Calland's Team Has Slight Edge Over Rivals

Sagehens Haven't Lost Since Back in 1921

Today's Loser to Drop from Conference Race

BY BRAVEN DYER

This may be Armistice Day for most of Southern California but as far as football teams of Pomona and Whittier Colleges are concerned there will be no truce signed until about 5 o'clock when grid hostilities are likely to be concluded. The rival elevens clash at Whittier at 2:30 o'clock and barring a tie today's loser will be out of the race for Southern Conference honors.

"OAK" PENDLETON

If Whittier wins the Poets can hardly get less than a tie for first honors as Leo Calland's boys have only Redlands and San Diego to encounter. If Pomona cops the Sagehens still have a tough game with Occidental before they can hope to claim top honors. And if Whittier finishes the season with but one defeat the Poets won't rate quite as high as Southern Branch, provided the Bruins win over Caltech a week from Saturday. The conference has no ruling on ties but there's no denying that a team with but one defeat is more entitled to title claims than a team which has been defeated and tied.

It is hard to pick today's favorite, especially as football favorites have been pretty well kicked around this season. On paper the Quakers look stronger than their rivals. Calland's charges will have a weight advantage in the line and in addition Leo has more veteran players than Pomona, the Sagehen being made up largely of second-year men while Whittier has a number of third and fourth-year athletes.

However, the two teams look to be evenly matched and anything is accordingly likely to result. Pomona won last year, 7 to 6, and has won every year since 1921 when Whittier walloped the Sagehens, 42 to 9, certiving great satisfaction while so doing. This is Calland's second crack at Pomona as a coach and he intends to make good this time after

National Track Meet is Wanted by New Orleans

NEW YORK, Nov. 10. (AP)—Application to hold the 1927 national outdoor track-and-field championships in New Orleans for the first time in sixteen years was filed with the Amateur Athletic Union today.

The petition of New Orleans is one of two which will be acted on at the annual meeting of the governing body in amateur athletics next week at Baltimore. Chicago also has entered a request to stage the three-day fixture.

S.C.G.A. Meeting Called at Lakeside Tomorrow

Mrs. Van Antwerp Stars in Northern Play

BY BILL WISE

Two hundred and fifty Brentwood golfers—at least 200 California members, and scores of knicker-clad exponents representing every club in Southern California, will go into intensive action today in special club and interclub competitions, arranged by local professionals, in honor of Armistice Day.

Thousands participated in similar events last year and the crowd will be even greater today. Airplanes soaring above many local courses will lend the necessary military touch, and many local stars—busy with their own game—will heed the whistling whirl of hand-made birds—and recalling the gala decorated Spad that flashed across certain front-line trenches, in France, eight years ago. (Gee! How Tempus does Fugit!) will look up, miss a shot, but the sweeping memories will flood out, but about golf.

Wee Willie Hunter has offered a fine set of graduated Stewart irons as first prize in the Brentwood play. Tom Stevens will offer several fine prizes at California, Howard Beally, Wilshire; Jimmie Duncan, Bel-Air; Charlie Guest, Lakeside; Jack Tarrant, El Caballero; Chick Fraser, Midwick; Jack Mailey, Annandale; Larry Kelly, Potrero, and in fact every other professional in this vicinity has arranged feature tourney and will award suitable prizes at the end of the play this afternoon.

S.C.G.A. CONFAB AT LAKESIDE TOMORROW

Uncle Eddie Tufts—with twenty-one years practice, will not be caught speechless when members of the Southern California Golf Association, in annual session at Lakeside today, re-elect him to the organization presidency. Chet Lyday, association secretary, is also slated for re-election. The southern amateur championship will probably be awarded to Lakeside, invitations received for the State open, invitational dates assigned, new clubs may be admitted, and then there will be a golf tournament, with real prizes for delegates.

The best part of the whole thing will be the special competition, limited to golf-writing members of the daily press, for two mighty fine sweaters offered by George Marshall. Both garments, while too large for the writer, are beautiful, and counting in the medal affair should be very clever. (Bring your own eraser.)

SECOND ROUND OPENS IN SUNSET CANYON EVENT

Second-round matches in Sunset Canyon Country Club's annual President's Cup tournament are being played this week. First round play left M. S. McNutt, winner of last year's tournament, in the running after putting down H. C. Scott, low-gross medalist of the qualifying round, 2 and 1. Results of first-round matches in the championship flight follow:

H. H. Hurd defeated O. R. Bowley, 1 up, 19th hole; G. J. Rank defeated H. L. Baker, 4 and 3; James Morton defeated R. F. Hunnewell, 3 and 2; A. M. Thompson defeated J. B. McClyman, 2 and 1; H. A. Deeker defeated J. C. Petersen, default; C. V. Clay defeated W. Manley, 4 and 2; F. F. Grant defeated Robert W. Pratt, 2 up; J. D. Baer defeated Walter McCormick, 3 and 1; M. S. McNutt, defeated H. C. Scott, 2 and 1; Harry Davis defeated O. H. Below, 1 up; C. W. Perry defeated Hugh Blue, 1 up; W. P. Burroughs defeated O. A. Young, 3 and 1; E. C. Carbart defeated Prill Estes, 1 up; L. W. Pryde defeated H. Reagan, 4 and 4; E. E. Ash defeated C. R. Jenks, 1 up, 20th hole; Cary O. Stem defeated R. G. Garner, 3 and 1.

TEAM FEATURE AT LAKESIDE

George Marshall will be presented with the President's Cup he won when he beat George Cornes last Sunday at the smoker Saturday night at Lakeside. James B. Irsfeld will present the cup he donated for the tournament. Saturday afternoon there will be a tournament for all the members of Lakeside. They will be divided into two teams, the Irish and the Scotch. The losers will pay for the dinner, which will be a stag affair. Scotty Armstrong has joined Lakeside and may make the Lakeside team.

WOMEN GOLFERS BUSY AT HACIENDA CLUB

Hacienda Country Club pairings for ladies' match-play tournament, one to be played each week, are as follows:

Mrs. Ray Scott vs. Mrs. C. C. Barr, Mrs. Saunders vs. Mrs. W. C. Dorsett, Mrs. E. H. Canterbury vs. Mrs. J. W. Cox, Mrs. Hamilton vs. Mrs. L. O. Van Bellem, Mrs. A. R. McGregor vs. Mrs. Nan Thompson, Mrs. DeLand vs. Mrs. Alsworth, Mrs. Boyd Hedges vs. Mrs. Mrs. H. Dewarest vs. C. M. Thompson, Mrs. Mark Fletcher vs. Mrs. C. F. Benton, Mrs. C. W. Rathmat vs. bye, Mrs. H. Nunes vs. Mrs. George Cook, Mrs. R. F. Miller vs. bye, Mrs. R. A. Edgleton vs. Mrs. O. Knoell, Mrs. John Gregg vs. bye, Mrs. H. E. Tebbetts vs. bye, Mrs. George Ellis vs. Mrs. John Serpa, Mrs. Ray Scott was first with 96, and Mrs. Mary Fletcher second with 97.

MRS. JONES CLIPS BRENTWOOD MARK

Mrs. Dan Jones, winner of the Wilshire invitational last week, took a 5 on the short par-3 eighth yesterday, but finished with an 82 for a new course mark for women. Brentwood is in very fine shape—but very long, and Mrs. Jones's mark is strokes better than any feminine contestant has medaled, to date.

A number of fine cards were turned in yesterday. Other scores were: Mrs. Harry Bressler, 94; Mrs. Anna Wolverton, 92, and Mrs. Owen Moore, 105. The best men's scores were: H. J. Borde, 72; H. W. Kirby, 79; W. B. Dickinson, 79, and C. W. Coit, 80.

KELLY PLANS PLAY FOR POTRERO MEMBERS

Larry Kelly, professional at the Potrero Country Club, and Dr. C. K. Manhart, wee bone-adjuster, who, with the aid of a roving purp, defeated Charles Leon Soldani in the semi-finals of the club's invitation last week, will compose the No. 1 team of Potrero's aggregation of golfers who will journey to Westward Ho Saturday afternoon for an interclub team match. Each club will be represented by fourteen players. Jack Stone, pro at Westward Ho, and the best amateur of that club, will meet Kelly and Dr. Manhart. The Nassau scoring system will be used. Other members of the Potrero team are H. A. Bingham, J. W. Huntley, Tony Carlson, Roy Puterbaugh, J. C. Lindley, A. Witt, B. L. Rigg, Dr. C. E. Bollerman, Tom Jennings, Jr., Bill Symmonds, Hal Benton and C. L. Green.

WOMEN PLAY FOR NORTHERN TITLE

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10. (AP)—Mrs. W. C. Van Antwerp, defending champion defeated Mrs. Louis Lengfield, 3 and 2, today in the second round of the Northern California women's golf championship. Mrs. Erent Potter, medalist, also advanced to the semifinals by eliminating Mrs. A. B. Swinnerton, 3 and 1.

Mrs. C. F. Ford, former State champion, disposed of Miss Angie Parkhurst, 4 and 2, while Mrs. R. A. Roos defeated Mrs. E. A. La Fleur, 2 up.

BILL WRIGLEY SHOULD MAKE "TRUDIE" MAD

SEATTLE, Nov. 10. (AP)—Gertrude Ederle, the first woman to swim the English Channel, here on a vaudeville tour, declared today that "the Catalina Island swim doesn't interest me—not unless they make me mad." She had been asked if she would attempt to swim across San Pedro Channel to Santa Catalina Island.

"It burns me up the way they try to insinuate that I can't do it," she said. "I'm no interested a bit. I could do it if I wanted to, but I don't want to. What's it compared to the English Channel? I took a chance in the Channel, I was determined to do it or die."

SCRIBES DISCUSS $10,000 TOURNEY

Ed Krauch, president of the local Newspaper Men's Golf Association, has called an executive meeting of active members, to precede the annual season of the S.C.G.A. in the Lakewood Golf Club, tomorrow. The scribes will meet to decide just where the $10,000 Los Angeles open tourney should be played—and then either Herman Politz or the Junior Chamber of Commerce will state where said event will be decided. Santwier Signs Stars for Los Angeles Eleven

Angels Meet Hollywood at Wrigley Field Sunday

Former Gonzaga Ace to be Coach for Seraphs

Taking the bull by the horns, A. E. Santwier discharged a whole flock of his Los Angeles professional football players yesterday and signed a bunch of new athletes to face the Hollywood Generals at Wrigley Field Sunday. Santwier's new team looks like a real outfit and it is expected that the Angels will get off on the other foot Sunday.

Ralph Shawhan, former Iowa State gridder and more lately a track man at U.S.C., will fill one end berth, while Eason of the U.S.S. Melvi s has been signed for the other wing position. Kilbuck, a great Haskell Indian tackle, is slated to pull in tomorrow and with Boone, formerly of New Mexico, will handle the tackle jobs. Boone was with Brick Muller's pros for a time.

Mike Pecarovich, one of the greatest players ever turned out at Gonzaga, is now coaching the locals. Mike is a utility star and will play guard Sunday although he has also had a lot of backfield experience. He played against West Virginia at San Diego some years ago. Bangs remains at the right guard spot. Abe Rosenberg, whose playing at center was one bright feature of last Sunday's game with San Francisco, will continue to snap back the ball.

Capt. Harold Galloway is the lone backfield man to retain his job. He will continue to call signals. Tout, who was a real star with the California Aggies, is to hold down one halfback post, with Gus Redman, the ex-Hollywood catcher, at the other. Redman's baseball ability is well known. He is said to have played football at Darmouth and Purdue Silver, a newcomer, will play full.

dumb. With the exception of Maple this year's Aggie team is practically the same as the one that performed here last fall.

The count between Tommy O'Brien and Johnny Adams now stands at one apiece. Terrible Tommy beat the San Bernardino boy last June and the other night Adams reversed the verdict. The only way to settle it is for Joe Levy to throw the boys in the ring again. It would make a great rematch. Adams outweighed O'Brien five pounds Tuesday night, coming in at 142 pounds to O'Brien's 137, and that probably was a factor in the winner's favor. In their first match Adams had trained down to 136 and O'Brien had a pound advantage.

It was inevitable that Tommy Travers eventually would want to withdraw as wrestling referee. It will take the fans a long time to forget his weird decision in the Stecher-Pesek match, and the little fellow probably didn't relish the thought of further heckling from the fans and being a target for paper bombs and second-hand chewing gum.

King Tut, whom we almost saw in action at the Olympic, seems to be a pugilistic character some of our local matchmakers ought to appropriate for the public consumption when his suspension runs out. Tut is said to be a tow-headed boy who fights on the general style of Ace Hudkins, only faster. He has had on the floor such boys as Benny Valger, Eddie Mack and Stewart McLean. Others he has beaten are Ted Blatt, Joe Dawson, Johnny Tillman and Billy Alger. He knocked out Frankie Farren in four rounds.

Cage Schedule for Gob Fives is Announced

The battleship division's basketball schedule for the squadron title will open on the 22nd inst., with a game between the U.S.S. Mississippi and U.S.S. Colorado fives in the Trona Field gymnasium, according to announcement yesterday by Lieutenant-Commander Norman D. Scott, fleet athletic officer.

There will be sixteen games this year, all played at Trona Field and all starting at 8 p.m., except the tussle on the 26th inst., between the Mississippi and Maryland, which starts at 2:30 p.m.

The complete schedule follows:

Nov. 22.—U.S.S. Mississippi vs. U.S.S. Colorado.
Nov. 23.—U.S.S. Nevada vs. U.S.S. California.
Nov. 26—U.S.S. West Virginia vs. U.S.S. Idaho.
Nov. 29.—U.S.S. Tennessee vs. U.S.S. California.
Nov. 30.—U.S.S. Mississippi vs. U.S.S. New Mexico.
Dec. 1.—U.S.S. Colorado vs. U.S.S. Maryland.
Dec. 2.—U.S.S. Idaho vs. U.S.S. Nevada.
Dec. 6.—U.S.S. Maryland vs. U.S.S. New Mexico.
Dec. 6.—U.S.S. West Virginia vs. U.S.S. California.
Dec. 9.—U.S.S. West Virginia vs. U.S.S. Nevada.
Dec. 13.—U.S.S. Colorado vs. U.S.S. New Mexico.
Dec. 13.—U.S.S. West Virginia vs. U.S.S. Tennessee.
Dec. 16.—U.S.S. Tennessee vs. U.S.S. Nevada.
Dec. 18.—U.S.S. Idaho vs. U.S.S. California.
Dec. 21.—U.S.S. Idaho vs. U.S.S. Tennessee.

Scott announced that the final basket-tossing contest for the battle fleet championship will not be played until February. The finals in boxing, wrestling and swimming will be held in January, probably at San Diego. Fleet rifle championships will be decided at Guantanamo, Cuba, in March, when the crack teams from the scouting fleet will also participate with the battle fleet sharpshooters for the all-Navy title.

JEFFERSON, HOLLYWOOD, POLY PICKED TO ANNEX TOMORROW

BY BOB RAY

In a moment of rashness, we have decided to pick the winners of tomorrow's City League grid struggles and the probable margins of the victors.

Right off the bat we'll pick Jefferson to defeat Los Angeles High by a 7-point margin, which is contrary to football tradition between the two schools. The Democrats have never trimmed a Roman eleven in city league history, but Coach Dave Fryer has a good squad out at Jefferson this fall and if the Green and Gold athletes fight as they did against Poly they will end the Los Angeles High jinx.

Next on the program Polytechnic is delegated to thump Franklin by 19 points. About the only risk the writer incurs in this one is the margin by which the Mechanics will triumph. The Kiteflyers may put up a close battle, but there seems to be no doubting that a Poly victory will be the outcome.

The third game of the day brings together Lincoln and Hollywood and the Foothillers are picked to win by 6 points if Winston Jones is in the game for Lincoln. If Jones is still out with injuries Hollywood will probably roll up a 20-point margin.

Now that that's off our chest, the Los Angeles High-Jefferson battle, which takes place at Hough Field, should furnish the most excitement of the afternoon. The Democrats, after a dismal start apparently have "arrived." Jefferson has a strong line and some capable ball-packers in Capt. Scott, Greecy and Gothard. Scott also is the best punter in the circuit. If only the Democrats would get over the habit of using that undependable wide end run so often they would fare a lot better.

Coach Ed Rich's Romans have improved plenty since taking their 34-0 licking from Poly to open the season, but they will be up against a tough proposition tomorrow. The Jefferson line ought to stop most of the Romans' running attack, even though Horgan and Woodhull are not so dusty at carrying the oval. The Democrats didn't look so good against Poly's reverses and double-reverses and Los Angeles High employed these same plays to effect against Lincoln, so the Romans are also liable to gain quite a bit of ground if they use this mode of attack.

ORANGE GALLOPS

Orange wound up its league season with a scintillating 35-to-0 victory over Garden Grove yesterday. Capt. Alvin Edwards was the sparkling hero of the contest. He tossed three passes that resulted in touchdowns, and cut loose with several other aerial efforts that contributed to the tallying of the other two.

He also booted all five extra points.

Line-ups:

Orange (35.)		Garden Grove (0.)
Baber	L.E.R.	Williams
Windolph	L.T.R.	Lake
Hartman	L.G.R.	Dillard
Myrvold	C.	Baumgardner

Orange	7	14	0	14—35

Scoring—Blackburn (substitute for Hansom), 2; Foote. Extra points—Edwards, 5.

BARTLETT OPS BOUT

STOCKTON (Cal.) Nov. 10. (AP)—Ollie Bartlett of St. Paul, Minn. was awarded a ten-round decision over Freddie Imperial, Stockton Filipino, here, tonight.

MONROVIA WINS

Monrovia's lightweight grid team pounded out a 19-to-7 victory over Montebello yesterday, piling up all of its digits in the first half to stave off a Monrovia rally in the last period. Bartch featured for the winning team with a couple of touchdowns, while Karnes sparkled for the losers. Line-ups:

MONTEBELLO (7)		MONROVIA (19.)
Tunown	L.E.R.	Blain
Owsley	L.T.R.	Bonine
Biehl	L.G.R.	Yates
Wilsert	C.	Benise

Childs	F.	Thompson

SCORE BY QUARTERS

Monrovia	6	13	0	0—19
Montebello	0	0	0	7—7

Scoring: Touchdowns, Bartch (2.) Dietrich. Karnes. Extra points, Thompson, Karnes.

EMMANUEL WINS BOUT

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10. (AP)—Armand Emmanuel, San Francisco heavyweight, scored an easy six-round decision over Fred Sullivan, also of San Francisco, at National Hall here tonight.

SCRAPPERS END WORK FOR BOUT

Demsky, DeHate in Shape for Clash Tomorrow in Legion Arena

Paul De Hate and Paul Demsky end their training today for their little set-to tomorrow night at the Hollywood American Legion stadium. Owing to the fact that De Hate in his last start here beat Jack Silver, who beat Mushy Callahan, he will rule the favorite.

The fight should be fast and a good one. Demsky is a very fast and game fighter. He is acclimated now and more used to the American style of fighting. In Australia they score points for good clever boxing, but the boys who get the coin and catch the eye of the promoter and public is the socker, and Demsky is changing his fighting to be in the style.

With the Trojan band of 125 pieces on hand to pep up the show, there should be a good turnout of fans. The show as far as fighting goes, is a good one. The main event will be better than it looks on paper. Tom Gallery has supported his top spot with some very classy performers, the star of whom is Jack Roper the heavyweight. Reports are in circulation that Roper is wanted by Tex Rickard to fight some of the big giants seeking Gene Tunney's crown. Roper has had plenty of experience and is ready to go to New York should he be wanted.

Benny Miller, a former newsboy, is coming along fast. He is fighting Billy Blake. These kids are of the younger crop of fighters who are coming to the top. Blake is older and more experienced than Benny, but Miller is given the edge.

CRAIG STARS IN NET PLA

Occidental Tennis Luminary Eliminates Neer in Round of Southland's Tourney

Norval Craig, Occidental College tennis star, held the spotlight [illegible] day afternoon at the Los Angeles Tennis Club, the Tiger ace eliminating Phillip Neer, Coast doubles champion, in the third singles round of the annual Southern California tennis championships.

Craig, who holds victories over Harold Godshall and Johnny Doeg, also local stars of fame, simply proved too fast for his experienced rival. The scores were 6-2, 10-8. The winner entered the quarter final bracket. Neer was seeded No. 4 and being eliminated, Craig takes the Coast star's position.

"Red" Thalheimer and Harold Godshall, tournament favorites for the men's doubles crown, won an easy 6-2, 6-0 decision from Durand and Kohler in a first-round match. Paul Greene and Johnny Doeg had a tough time defeating Jasper and Rene Riviere, the match going the limit of three sets. The scores were 6-4, 4-6, 6-3.

The junior boys' singles entered the semifinals yesterday with the four seeded entrants emerging victorious. The ladies' doubles also got under way with the crack combination of Mrs. Bundy and Mrs. Widdowson making their first appearance and copping a 6-1, 6-0 victory over Miss Rose Mary Brunn of San Francisco and Miss P. Kilkelley. Mrs. Severance and Mrs. Dudley won a 6-1, 6-2 decision from Miss Brewster and Miss Bielefeldts.

Yesterday's results:

MEN'S SINGLES

Upper half, third round, Craig defeated Neer, 6-2, 10-8.

JUNIOR SINGLES

Upper half, quarter final, Doeg defeated Henry, 6-4, 6-0; Robinson defeated Desrikles, 6-4, 6-3. Lower half, quarter final, Goodshall defeated Wyckander, 6-4, 6-4; Knutson defeated Yates, 6-3, 6-4.

MEN'S DOUBLES

Upper half, first round—Greene and Doeg defeated Jasper and Riviere, 6-4, 6-4, 6-2; Thalheimer and Goldhall defeated Durrand and Kohler, 6-2, 6-0; Bindorf and Warren defeated Varlet and Church, 6-4, 6-4. Second round, Windall and Barry defeated Stepp and Stepp, 6-3, 6-4; Jansens and Minier defeated Botts and Harris, default.

LADIES' DOUBLES

Mrs. Severance and Mrs. Dudley defeated Miss Kilkelley and Miss Brunn, 6-1, 6-2; Mrs. Bundy and Mrs. Widdowson defeated Miss Brewster and Miss Bielefeldt, 6-2, 6-0.

TODAY'S SCHEDULE

A CIGARETTE MADE WITH P.A. IS THE MONEY

THAT very first pull will tell you that no other tobacco is like Prince Albert for home-rolled cigarettes. How cool and refreshing it is, like a shower-bath after fast exercise. How sweet and mild it is, without sacrificing that "body" experienced smokers demand.

Never has a home-rolled cigarette tasted like that before, unless it was made with this same wonderful tobacco—good old Prince Albert. You'll like the way P. A. rolls too. It's crimp-cut and stays put in the paper as you roll it—doesn't blow away.

When you open the tidy red tin and drink-in that fragrance of real tobacco, you know in advance you are going to make the finest cigarettes you ever rolled. One right after the other—that's the way you'll roll 'em and smoke 'em with this better tobacco.

Prince Albert is equally delightful in the bowl of a pipe. It doesn't bite the tongue or parch the throat, no matter how often you load up and light up. Home-rolled cigarette, or pipe, or both, P. A. is the money. Get yourself some Prince Albert today and see!

P. A. is sold everywhere. And down with every bit of bite and parch removed by the Prince Albert process.

HARVARD, TIGERS BREAK

Princeton Athletic Committee Severs Relations With Crimson; New Resolutions Cause

surprise to William J. Bingham, director of athletics at Harvard.

"I have received no word of any such break from Princeton," he told the Associated Press over the telephone from his home in Wellesley tonight, "and, of course, until I receive definite word from Dr. Kennedy that he has made such an announcement I can say nothing beyond repeating the assertion that this is the first news to me of the matter."

Trouble between the universities began brewing last spring, when Harvard suggested cutting Princeton from the football schedule in favor of Michigan.

Ill-feeling in existence since then was brought to a head Saturday when throngs which attended the Harvard-Princeton game in Cambridge were greeted with a special issue of the Lampoon, Harvard undergraduate publication. The edition was devoted to jeers and insults at Princeton.

YALE REGRETS ACTION TAKEN

NEW HAVEN (Ct.) Nov. 10. (AP)—News of the break between Princeton and Harvard was received at Yale tonight with great regret.

Harold F. Woodcock, general manager of the Yale athletic association, said that the rupture was most regrettable from Yale's standpoint, because it upsets the triple agreement executed several years ago. He had thought, he said, the differences between the two universities had been patched up last month when Harvard agreed to play Princeton again next year on the gridiron.

"Yale will regret deeply and interruption of the athletic relations that have been habitual under the triple agreement," was the comment of George H. Uettleton, chairman of the board of control of the Yale Athletic Association.

"Yale's own immediate athletic relations, both with Harvard and with Princeton, have never been closer or more cordial than at present," he added, "and no change in these relations has at any time been considered by the Yale board of athletic control."

ANCIENT BIG THREE PACT DISSOLVED

NEW YORK, Nov. 10. (AP)—The big three—Harvard, Princeton and Yale—for four decades dominant in historic athletic rivalry in the country, is shattered by Princeton's decisive action today.

Not only in football, but in baseball, track and minor sports have the annual competitions of the classic triumvirate outrivaled that of all institutions—at least in the eastern half of the country—in color, interest and background created by years of interschool rivalry. The grouping had its inception in some of the earliest athletic contests ever played between American colleges.

In football the action of Princeton in breaking off all athletic relations with Harvard today brought to a close a series that began in 1877.

For a score of years after that date Harvard met Princeton intermittently on the gridiron in the smashing conflicts of the brute strength that preceded the development of the modern game in which all three institutions played such a prominent part. No games were played between Harvard and Princeton from 1896 to 1911.

From that date on, with the exception of two war years, the Crimson has met the Orange and Black of Princeton in an annual eastern grid classic.

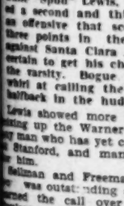
STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Nov. 10. (Exclusive) Stanford and Washington are set for one of the bitterest battles of this particular football season, at Stanford, Saturday. The Huskies who beat Stanford out of a championship after the Cards bested U.S.C. last season, are out to repeat, and the Cards, if they are determined on any one single thing this season, are determined they shall not be so repeated upon.

Washington has been the only Northern team to beat Stanford since the Cards returned to American football. Also Enoch Bagshaw has been the only conference coach to beat Warner since Warner went to Stanford. All of which, the Cards declare, should be remedied. They can't forget it, and Washington won't.



And Washington, at Seattle last November, stopped Ernie Nevers, which is one sin Stanford will never forgive. So there will be a fight. And Washington is just as willing to fight about it. Some expressed doubt as to Washington's being the better team, even though Washington beat Stanford last year, and nothing will make a group of young football-ers madder.

Warner is ready for Washington. While the Cards had only a few plays built around Ernie Nevers at Seattle last season, all of which went bad when Ernie was knocked out of the [illegible] Warner now has the full list of reverses, speed, pass and power plays built on the varied abilities of five backs, Hoffman, Hyland and Bogue. Warner had this for U.S.C., but the Card quarterbacks forgot to use most of them.

And Bagshaw will be for the first time up against the constant reverse made necessary by the two-wing-back attack which "Pop" has developed since the last time the two teams met. It should trouble the Huskies some.

Washington is rated as a strong defensive team, without so much on attack. Stanford is rated a good attacking team without, as yet, a consistent defense, though the Cards did stop the USC offense after two touchdowns were made against them. The Huskies now have a backfield with little George Guttormsen (who played against Stanford on a pass last season) at quarter. George is good, or was rated last season as the best field general on the Coast. Louis Tesreau, brother of Elmer, plays left or halfback and kicks football out of stadiums. Louis intercepted passes and ran three-quarters of the length of the field to clinch the game against Stanford last year, and Louis will be watched closely. Patton, the fastest Washington back, works at end, as does Carrol, a new man.

Stanford will use the backfield which did most of the work against U.S.C., Bogue and Hyland at halfbacks, Hoffman at full. Ed Post will start at quarter, while "Spud" Lewis, who directed a second and third team in an offensive that scored thirty-three points in the first half against Santa Clara Saturday, is certain to get his chance to run the varsity. Bogue may take a whirl at calling the plays from halfback in the huddle.

Lewis showed more good sense in getting up the Warner reverses than any man who has yet called the plays for Stanford, and many are rooting for him.

Sullman and Freeman, whose line play was outstanding at U.S.C., have earned the call over the regulars. Mulkey and Harris, at tackles, and have been working with Team No. 1 this week. Otherwise the Stanford line-up is regular.

Venice Plays Compton Team for Bay Title

The much-scrambled Bay League standing is expected to take some semblance of form and artistry today when Venice and Compton conclude their struggle on the former team's gridiron. The league title is more or less at stake in the affair, for although each has a game left to play today's contest winner will practically clinch the laurels.

Venice has lost one game this year, while Compton has been tied once. Four tie games have been played in the league this season while most of the games have been decided on the basis of touchdown, one point, or field goal margin.

The Gondoliers are depending on the smashing work of Capt. Dick Frazier, star end last season, who has been converted into a fullback and who Compton plans a similar burden on Zahnter, who also plays fullback.

Rival Southern Conference Elevens Hook Up This Afternoon on Whittier Field losing out by such a narrow margin last year.

The game is likely to develop into a punting duel between Denney and Pendleton of Whittier and Cowan and Merritt of Pomona. There was lots of kicking in last year's encounter and inasmuch as the rival lines are just as strong this season it's hard to see how there should be less booting. All four are good punters and neither team should gain much in the exchange of kicks, unless somebody has an off day.

Eugene Nixon, Pomona coach, has had Merritt busy all week booting goals from the field and it will not be surprising to see the Sagehen back shooting at the cross bars several times. He has a record of thirteen conversions out of sixteen this season, but as yet has tried no field goals. Denny is acknowledged a sweet field goal booter himself. Against Pomona last year he tried two but missed. It will not be surprising to see the result of the game hinge on the accuracy of the pedal extremities of these two athletes.

Jack Manildi, Pomona quarterback, directed the Sagehen attack perfectly against Whittier last year and Nixon expects him to use the same sagacity today. Both Denney and Pendleton are also cool under the fire so the game should be a battle of wits as well as brawn.

Whittier has a fine line bucker in "Red" Clark and he'll be used frequently when within scoring distance. Haskell, a substitute, is just about as good as Clark, which is saying plenty. "Duke" Neher did a lot of powerful line smashing for Pomona last year and ought to be much in evidence again today.

It is understood that Callan's plans to alternate Denney and Pendleton at quarter, while Pomona is saving Lee Williams for later in the game. These three athletes are very fleet of foot and no small percentage of today's thrills are likely to be produced by them. Merritt is also a speedster and may outshine the other three.

OBSERVATIONS

BY THE INNOCENT BYSTANDER
BILL HENRY

THE proposal to bring Alabama and Stanford together at Pasadena on New Year's Day, right on top of the U.S.C.-Notre Dame game which takes place December 4 at the Coliseum, ought to give us some idea of the relative strength of the football teams from all parts of the country. The Trojans and Stanford are certainly two of the flossiest bits of gridiron machinery on the Coast and are well fitted to demonstrate the way we play football out here. Notre Dame, on the other hand, will have met representative teams from all parts of the East and Middle West while Alabama has cleaned up on the boys from south of the Mason-and-Dixon line.

This young Fleming person from U.C.L.A. seems to have revived the locally lost art of field-goal kicking. He seems to be sure death from the 40-yard line and Bill Spaulding says that he never tried to kick a goal until a few weeks ago—which goes to show what you can do when you try. Southern California has had fewer good kickers this year than at any time in past history. The only punter worthy of the name to be seen in action locally this year is young Jack Schweizer of Occidental.

Reports of dampness in the Northwest aren't any too encouraging to those who root most vehemently for the Trojans. There is every possibility, incidentally, that rain will hit Palo Alto by Saturday which would be a most decided advantage to the Washington crowd against Stanford. If the Trojans should be whipped and the Cardinals should likewise take a walloping that would leave the Oregon Aggies with nothing to do but to nail the rag to the flagpole and let her wave for a year.

This guy Cap Strelinger certainly is raising the dickens with the wrestlers. Apparently Cap didn't understand that it is regarded as ungentlemanly in grappling circles to take the boys seriously when they put up money to bind a challenge. That is just a part of the game and Cap does not understand it. He has some silly idea that when a wrestler utters a fierce challenge and puts up money to back it up, he really wants to wrestle. Nothing could be farther from the truth—hence the consternation when Cap insists that Mr. Stecher and Lewis go through with their match or lose their money.

THE MOST SPECTACULAR FOOTBALL PLAY I EVER SAW

(Copyright, 1926, in United States, Great Britain and all other countries by North American Newspaper Alliance.)

(NOTE: Twenty-four of the greatest coaches and players in football have written for The Times and the North American Newspaper Alliance their accounts of the most spectacular football plays they have ever seen. This is the tenth of these articles. Others will appear daily in The Times.)

X. THE FIGHTIN MARINES

BY. LIEUT. R. A. BOONE

(Former Athletic Director, Quantico Marines)

The development of football play among the marines and the Army Corps during the past ten years has been astonishing, and so great has the interest in the major service games become that they attract almost as much attention as the Army-Navy classic. Some wonderful games have been played before crowds that vie with the older classic in the matter of attendance. It was one of these games which produced what I consider the most spectacular play of my career in athletics.

Following the sensational Army-Navy game at Franklin Field in 1922 the football world turned its eyes to the second service classic of the year. This was the meeting of the Quantico Marines and the Army Third Corps teams in the dedication of the Venable Stadium at Baltimore on December 2. National celebrities from officialdom and all walks of life were on hand, for a truly great game was assured by the line-up of stars.

On the Army team were nine former West Point and college stars, while the Marines had an equal number of celebrated players. All the others were men of the best college caliber, trained and coached to perfection. With such material a whirlwind game was fought. On the Army eleven was Gene Vidal, the great West Point kicker, and twice, early in the game, the terrific offense of his team put the ball in striking distance and he booted field goals over the bar.

By the middle of the second quarter the Army had established a lead of 6 to 0 through the prowess of Vidal. It didn't look so good for the Marines, though their defense had kept the Army from making a touchdown. The defense of the Army was proving almost impregnable and then the Marines determined to try a trick play or two in an effort to tie up the score before the end of the half.

With the ball in midfield, Quarterback McMains of the Marines called for a wide end run, which resulted in no gain, though carrying the ball to the right of the field. Here Lieut. Sanderson, left halfback for the Marines, standing straight up, walked unconcernedly about five yards past the left side of the line and stood gazing down the field. No one noticed his absence from his regular position until suddenly Fullback Geottge shot a forward pass twenty yards to him and he trotted the remaining thirty yards for a touchdown, which was followed by a goal, giving us a lead of 7 to 6.

It was cleverly executed and wonderfully spectacular, though it was nothing less than the old "shoestring" pass. It gave us heart after a hard struggle and helped us to win, 13 to 12.

WHITE KINGS PLAY TODAY

Joe Pirrone's All-Star baseball aggregation are out to lather the White King Soaps at White Sox Park this afternoon. Although Armistice Day should be a period of peace, the fighting Italian leader of the starry nine is determined that his team will put up a whale of a scrap to topple the Buds off the top of the Winter League standings.

Roy Wilkerson, Louisville team idol, will twirl for the Pirrone gang, while Hugh McMullen, New York Giant backstop, will be on the receiving end. The White Kings' choice for pitchers lies between Ray Keating and Dick Moudy. Joe Jenkins will catch.

Making their local debut with Pirrone's nine will be Louie Fonseca, former Cincinnati Red slugger, and Eddie Pick, Kansas City outfielding flash and slugger. Irish Meusel and Johnny Rawlings also perform for Pirrone.

The White Kings will present their usual strong line-up, including Jigger Statz, Art Jahn, Brick Eldred and several other Coast League stars.

NEW CUB GRAND STAND

By double-decking the present grand stand, the seating capacity of the Cubs' Park, in Chicago, will be increased to 50,000.

BENGALS TAKE EASY WORKOUT

Exendine Taking No Chances With Stale Eleven

Occidental Should be Pepped Up for Arizona

Smith May Earn Varsity Job Through Showing

If too many games without a rest have been partially at fault for the losing of two games for the Occidental eleven this season this fault will be corrected as far as is possible for the game with the University of Arizona in the Coliseum Saturday afternoon. The varsity was given a day of leisure last Monday afternoon and are excused from practice again this afternoon by Coach Exendine giving them the rest they have sorely needed since the Grizzly game.

The Arizona eleven leaves home today and will arrive here tomorrow in time for a workout in the Coliseum in the afternoon.

Scrimmage yesterday afternoon was between the first and second varsity teams and lasted for the best part of two hours. Each eleven was given the ball with the length of the field to go. A chance in the backfield that cannot be refused if he keeps up his work is due to Faurbie Smith who was going great guns in the scrimmage. He carried the ball for the most of the distance for the second string in line plunges unwinding from 5 to 10 and even 15 yards at a shot. Smith has already had one year of varsity competition but was out for a year, returning as a junior this year. He is either a fullback or quarter and is of just about the same size as George Fusco except shorter. He weighs 160 and is about 5ft. 2in. tall. Smith is a great deal the type of player that Henry Le Febvre was at U.S.C.

That Johnny Eberhart will get plenty of chance in the game against Arizona is a pretty safe bet for while George Fusco is slated to start a fresh man, who is of equal ability, is worth using in later stages of a game and Eberhardt is that, the equal.

It is hard to pick a favorite in Southern California with the Wildcats having played all their games where local fans cannot get a line on their ability so it is going to be impossible for the readers of this to see that so-and-so picked to win and then bet against that choice—and win the bet.

The best means of comparison of the two teams is the two games with Whittier. At Patterson Field Oxy was winner over Whittier by a score of 27 to 7. The Wildcats trounced Coach Leo Calland's team, 16 to 6 when they invaded Arizona. Winning over the Poets, Oxy was at its top form. Arizona may have been. If they were and are this week end and Oxy regains the fine edge they displayed in the U.S.C. and Stanford games then the Coliseum fray will be even stevens at the kickoff and the team that gets the jump on the whistle will be penalized 5 yards for offside.

WET FIELD FOR TROJAN BATTLE

are alike except in the name of the positions and he believes Hibbs and Scheving will work better than Taylor and Hibbs. However, Taylor will probably get into the fray before it is over.

Morley Drury, the backfield star of the Herd, is still limping and it is not likely that he will play. He may be sent in to boot goal if the one point is badly needed. Jones is still grouching over the fact that his Herd lost to Stanford because his men failed to convert the goals in the two touchdowns the team made. He hopes for better luck tomorrow.

Jones is figuring on using Wheeler at halfback, probably in place of Heiser, the boy who put up such great interference for Kaer against California. He says Wheeler has looked great in practice.

What little betting there is has the Trojans a two-to-one favorite. That does not mean much, for the Trojans were a two-to-one and in some cases three-to-one favorite over Stanford, yet Stanford won. Those who have seen the two teams play figure that the Trojans are faster and trickier than the Oregon Aggies, but if the field is wet and slow Kaer and Laraneta may not be able to stop and start fast enough to make their runs effective. There are some real giants on the Oregon team. Jim Dixon, a tackle, is six feet three inches. Liebe, a guard, is six feet two inches. Bacom, center, is six feet five inches. Ellers, a guard, is six feet. Hip Dickerson, a tackle, is six feet six inches and he weighs 220 pounds.

Schulmerich, in the backfield, weighs 200 pounds and he is a demon at backing up the line. If he keeps his head up he should be able to smash up the cut-back play of the Trojans and if he does he will seriously cripple that team.

ICE SKATING RACES DRAW FILM CROWDS

Tonight will be movie night at the Palais de Glace, Los Angeles ice arena at Vermont and Melrose, when many film celebrities and others will appear for the final night of the graceful skating contest for couples, with a $500 life club membership being up for first prize, a silver cup for second prize and a season pass to the Palais de Glace for third. Among those scheduled to appear are "Lefty" Flynn, Viola Dana, Ralph Ince, Karl Dane, Mary McAllister, Gwen Lee, Kay Deslys, Al Cook, Kit Guard, Sam Wood and W. King. Aloha Porter, who is Miss California of 1926, and Miss Lucile Pinson, "Miss Los Angeles, and "Happy Jack" Wolniec, noted swimmer, will also appear. A skating race in which some of the fastest steel blade men in the country are entered will also be staged. It is announced by Henry Siemer, in charge, and public skating will be held as usual.

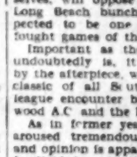
IRISHMEN FACE REAL TEST

Knute Rockne's Teachings to Serve Cadets for Target at Next Saturday's Grid Classic

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—When Army takes the field against Notre Dame next Saturday before a capacity crowd, it will be seen whether or not Knute Rockne, the "Wizard of the West," has been able to instill sufficient football "savvy" into his last year's squad to enable them to stop what is commonly considered the most powerful machine that has ever worn the gray.

Up at West Point confidence is placed in the Army line.

Harbold, Sprague, Schmidt, Daly, Seeman, Saunders and Born, the men who will bear the brunt of the Hoosiers' attack, are all veterans. They have been seasoned by years of service and will probably prove a hard line to outmaneuver. With Wilson, a former all-American back, Cagle, Murrell and Harding in the backfield, the Army has power, punch and loads of speed. Capt. Hewitt, Trapnell and O'Donnell will be held in reserve.



KNUTE ROCKNE

The Notre Dame line is known to be a rangy and powerful charging combination, well adapted to stopping the crushing line attack that has proved Army's forte this season. It is around the ends and by use of opportunity placed forwards that Army expects to do its greatest damage.

L.A.A.C. Cards Program for Women Fans

An entire evening of gymnastic entertainment is scheduled for the Los Angeles Athletic Club this evening, starting at 8:15. Ladies will be admitted free to the exhibition, the affair tonight being one of the few to which the women fans are admitted.

The exhibition is participated in by finished athletes from all branches of gymnastic athletics. Matches have been arranged between expert club boxers and wrestlers. In addition, there will be exhibitions of tumbling, parallel bars, horizontal bars and flying rings, in which some world's champions will take part.

Following the program, a dancing program will be arranged.

HOLLYWOOD MERCURY SOCCER CREWS MEET

Both games of Sunday's double-header at Loyola Field are worthy to be classed as headliners, and soccer enthusiasts in this section are fully alive to their importance.

Starting at 1 o'clock, the Vikings, who have just recently found themselves, will oppose the fast-stepping Long Beach bunch, in what is expected to be one of the hardest-fought games of the season.

Important as the opening game undoubtedly is, it is overshadowed by the afterpiece, which features that classic of all Southland fixtures, a league encounter between the Hollywood A.C. and the L.A.A.C.

As in former years, this game has aroused tremendous public interest, and opinion is apparently about evenly divided as to the outcome.

PUCK CHASERS TO CLASH NEXT WEEK

Winthrop Sears's powerful professional Winter Garden ice hockey squad will meet their most formidable foe next Thursday night at the Palace in an exhibition game. These two squads should put up a great battle as they are evenly matched. Their last game several weeks ago resulted in a 2-to-1 victory for the oilers.

The professional ice hockey league opens December 9, and until that time the boys are working out daily to get themselves in shape for the grind.

OILMEN PLAY CAGE CONTEST TONIGHT

The Aristos, the Union Oil Company basketball representatives, who turned in a well-earned win in the opening game of the Petroleum Athletic Association League schedule, will play their second game tonight. Their opponents will be the General Petroleum quintet. The match is scheduled for the courts of the Franklin High School and will get under way at 7 p.m.

The line-up of the Aristos will be Poulton (f.) Jamieson (f.) Anderson (c.) Forbes (g.) and Williams (g.) with Molliter and Daniels subs.

ASCOT PLANS TO PUT ON TURKEY DAY RACE

Racing fans of Southern California will have a chance to see some of the greatest dirt-track drivers of the West compete in a 100-mile race Thanksgiving Day at Ascot Speedway.

Plans and negotiations were yesterday completed for the Turkey Day classic by the National Automobile Racing Association. The event will decide the champion dirt-track driver of the West, with a huge silver loving cup, emblematic of that title up as an added trophy.

RUDOLPH TAKES LEAD FOR POCKET BILLIARD CROWN

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 10. (AP)—Erwin Rudolph of Chicago jumped into the lead tonight in the battle for the world's pocket-billiard championship by defeating Charles Harmon, Glendale, L. I., 125 to 84.

Harmon was out in front in the early part of the match, but the Chicago player forged ahead in the twenty-third inning and was never headed, running out his string in the thirtieth inning. Both players were somewhat erratic. Each had high runs of twenty-five. Rudolph's average was 4 5-30 and Harmon's 2 24-30.

Until tonight's victory Rudolph was tied for first place in the standing with Ralph Greenleaf, New York, each having won three games and lost none. Greenleaf did not play today.

MINNESOTA CHANGES NAME

MINNEAPOLIS (Minn.) Nov. 10. (AP) The "Galloping Gophers" have replaced the "Thundering Herd" at the University of Minnesota. For some weeks past sporting accounts of the activities of the Minnesota football squad have contained references to the "Thundering Herd." It was Dr Clarence Spears's idea to bury the "Thundering Herd" stuff. The expression he protested, was misleading.

"If you've got to have them thunder," Coach Spears suggested to newspaper men, "why don't you call them 'Thundering Gophers.'"

That's about as much thundering as a football team can do—thunder about as loud as a flock of gophers. So hereafter it's going to be "Galloping Gophers."

Bears Prepare New Plays for Nevada Eleven

BERKELEY, Nov. 10. (Exclusive)—What has all the semblance of being a greatly changed California football varsity team is undertaking a comprehensive program of new plays for the direct benefit of the Nevada Wolves next Saturday afternoon.

Clarence (Nibs) Price, the diminutive coach of the Golden Bears in their most disastrous season in a decade evidently intends no scrimmage this week. Despite their many losses throughout the season, the Californians have had no let-up in their scrimmaging until the present week. Due to their long trip to Seattle and the possibility that lack of sham battle during practice will make them ache for the real thing in the Nevada game the Bears may not get a single bit of scrimmage.

The Blue and Gold team tonight reviewed a few old plays and shaved off the rough edges on a lot of new ones. The first and second teams "opposed" each other for the execution of the plays.

DUCK HUNTING GOOD LATE REPORTS SAY

Jack Hines, secretary of the Citizens' Fish and Game Conservation Committee, returned yesterday from a scouting trip and reported to Pete Peterson at the B. H. Dyas Company that ducks and geese were very plentiful around Pond, reached out of Bakersfield.

Thousands of ducks were seen by Hines, he giving as the real reason for the game staying that they were not being constantly shot at and being well fed. The clubs in the vicinity of Pond have a gentlemen's agreement to shoot on Sundays only.

NO BOUTS SCHEDULED IN CULVER CITY RING

Darkness will reign supreme at the Culver City stadium tonight on account of the fact their regular weekly bouts fall on Armistice Day. The State Athletic Commission as thus informed Matchmaker "Sy" Saens that it is the pleasure of the commission that there be no boxing matches on this day in strict observance of the occasion. The following however, the last inst. Saens states that he has arranged one of the best programs that has yet been witnessed at the beach stadium.

PASADENA WILL BE DARKENED TONIGHT

As the State law bars boxing on Armistice Day, the Pasadena Armory will be dark tonight. But Manager Morrie Cohan is laying plans for a great show Thursday night the 18th inst. It will be headed by two junior welterweights who have in other bouts against other opponents been the greatest hits of weeks at the armory. They are Frankie Tondorf, from the U.S.S. California, and Frankie Forbes of Oakland. They will fight eight rounds.

Ernie Hood had been booked for the show, but got a bad cut last Saturday at Vernon and will be out for a couple of weeks.

CAGE PRACTICE FOR PACIFIC COAST CLUB

LONG BEACH, Nov. 10. (Exclusive)—With a brilliant array of basketball talent turning out, regular practice has started at the Pacific Coast Club here under the direction of Dick Rutherford, athletic director.

Fifteen of the best casaba tossers in the city have been lined up and it is assured that a classy quintet will represent the Shields this season. Last year the Coast Club squad played a number of college and club quintets, including the Oregon Aggies.

REDLANDS COPS

REDLANDS, Nov. 10.—The Redlands High School lightweights trimmed Riverside lightweights in a game on the local grounds this afternoon, 10 to 0. It was the first game that Redlands has won this year and Woesner and Mello were the stars for Redlands. The line-ups were:

Redlands		Riverside
Goodwin	R.E.	Zikrach
Gentry	R.T.	Vollamer
Breitenberg	R.G.	Pascoe
Rees	C.	Crow
Perry	L.G.	Proost
Johnson	L.T.	Demel

New Referee to be Named for Wrestling

A brand new referee will be offered for the approval or rejection of the howling wrestling fandom next Wednesday night at the Olympic Auditorium when Jimmy Londos meets Paul Jones in the feature bout of Lou Daro's wrestling show.

Tommy Travers, the San Diego man who has been officiating at matches in the Olympic arena, came up to Los Angeles yesterday and announced that he planned on submitting his resignation to Capt. Seth Strelinger of the State Athletic Commission. Travers is unpopular with the fans as a result of the John Pesek - Joe Stecher match last October 6 when he gave Stecher the bout on a foul. Tommy says he wants to retire, temporarily, at least, and allow the wrestling fans the opportunity to "pick on somebody else for a change."

LOU DARO

Who will be Travers's successor is not known, but Don McDonald, a competent arbiter, who used to officiate at shows held at the Philharmonic Auditorium, has taken out a license and will be in line for the job.

Lou Daro yesterday announced that Matty Matsuda, Japanese welterweight wrestler, who claims the championship in that division, would meet Nic Karavis of Boston on Wednesday's card. Matsuda, a Japanese of widespread reputation, is scheduled to arrive in Los Angeles today.

YANKEE TEAM FORCED OUT OF BIKE GRIND

BERLIN, Nov. 10. (AP)—Harry Horan and Harris Horder, the American team in the Berlin six-day bicycle race, today were excluded by the judges because they had fallen fourteen laps behind the leading French team of Wambst and Lacque Hay.

The Americans, apparently realizing that they had no chance to win, were concentrating on capturing the sprint prizes, which resulted in booing and hissing by the spectators.

LADIES HAVE PIN NIGHT AT ANGELUS

Ladies' night is scheduled at the Angelus Bowling Academy for this evening. It is announced by Manager Eddie Cleckner. Teams in the Pan-American Women's League, the Union Pacific Women's League and the General Motors Women's League are to be played.

Tomorrow night the Women's League of the Southern California Gas Company and the Telephone Company League are to bowl a round.

RUGGED BOXERS ON MAIN-STREET CARD

Two rugged bantamweights will head the Main Street card Saturday night. They are Johnny Godinez and Alki Akol. Which all goes to prove that whenever a Mexican and Filipino are matched for a battle plenty of real action is assured. Godinez has been going good again. Only recently he held Ernie Hood even in ten rounds but Hood grabbed the usual home-town decision. Akol, while not a world beater, always supplies plenty of thrills for his audience.

Joe Burns and Toby Montoya are the performers in the other star six-rounder. Burns fought a wind-up in his last Main Street appearance against Kid Ponce. His showing was very good. Montoya is a Wilmington boxer.

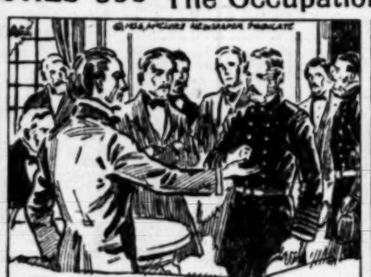
NEW MEMBERS JOIN RAINBOW ANGLERS

Leigh Garnsey, manager of the Rainbow Angling Club, announces that a steady stream of new members is coming to the club this fall, among the latest being U. R. Bucklin, who recently arrived from Chicago.

Among other new members are Charles R. Carpenter, James O. Connor, B. S. Green, Jr., Ed Lingenfelder and Parker Price.

OUR HISTORY IN PICTURES 553 The Occupation of New Orleans. by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

EARLY IN THE AFTERNOON OF APRIL 25, 1862, CAPT. BAILEY AND LIEUT. PERKINS OF THE UNION FLEET LANDED ON THE LEVEE OF NEW ORLEANS AND SET OUT FOR THE CITY HALL BEARING FARRAGUT'S DEMANDS FOR THE SURRENDER OF THE CITY AND THE LOWERING OF CONFEDERATE FLAGS. THEY WERE GREETED BY A THREATENING, JEERING CROWD, BUT REACHED THE CITY HALL UNHARMED.



WHILE FARRAGUT'S FLEET LAY AT ANCHOR AWAITING THE ARRIVAL OF THE TROOPS UNDER GEN. BUTLER, MAYOR MONROE AND HIS COUNCIL STEADFASTLY REFUSED TO YIELD THE CITY OR LOWER THE FLAGS AND DECLARED THAT ALTHOUGH NEW ORLEANS WAS NOW DEFENSELESS THE FEDERALS WOULD HAVE TO OCCUPY IT BY FORCE.

AFTER SEVERAL DAYS OF FRUITLESS NEGOTIATIONS, FARRAGUT RESOLVED TO PARLEY NO LONGER AND LANDED A BODY OF MARINES WITH HOWITZERS. THIS FORCE MARCHED TO THE CITY HALL, WHERE THEY LOWERED THE STATE ENSIGN AND RAISED THE "STARS AND STRIPES." FEDERAL FLAGS WERE ALSO RAISED OVER THE CUSTOM HOUSE AND THE MINT.

MEANWHILE THE UNION LAND FORCES HAD BEEN MAKING THEIR WAY AROUND THE FORTS AND ON MAY 1ST GEN. BUTLER REACHED NEW ORLEANS. TROOPS WERE QUARTERED IN THE CITY AS WELL AS IN ALGIERS, ACROSS THE RIVER, AND THE OCCUPIED AREA WAS PLACED UNDER MARTIAL LAW.

TOMORROW—THE FORTS SURRENDER TO PORTER.

ACTOR WHIM HALTS LOEW VISIT TO SET

Two New Temperamental Outbursts Bring Stir for M.-G.-M. Studio Officials

Two further outbursts of temperament took place yesterday at the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studio, one of which resulted in Marcus Loew being barred from a set on which John Gilbert was working. Gilbert was in a picture with Renee Adoree and had to go over a scene several times because the director was not satisfied.

MARCUS LOEW

"I can't work with visitors on this set," Gilbert declared, it was said, and an usher was sent to escort away two persons who had been watching the action. As they reached the stage door Marcus Loew started to enter, but was held back by the usher, who explained matters. Loew refrained from entering.

The other was the rumored refusal of Greta Garbo to play the script, "Diamond Handcuffs," which was rejected by Mae Murray just before she left hurriedly for New York about ten days ago. It was also rumored that Miss Garbo had not only rejected this script but was talking of not accepting any other until there were various adjustments, including that of her salary.

JOHN GILBERT

Studio officials denied, however, there had been any trouble with her about Miss Garbo. As for "Diamond Handcuffs," they said the script has not definitely been offered to her.

GRETA GARBO

EXTORTION ASSERTED BY WIDOW

Wealthy Woman Declares She Paid $5000 to Keep Name Out of Scandal

Accused of taking $5000 from Mrs. Anna Thomas, well-to-do widow from Rhode Island, under threat of creating a scandal, Douglas Hunter, a real estate sales manager of Whittier, and his wife, Mrs. Mabel Hunter, were arrested yesterday, arraigned before Municipal Judge Ballard and held in $1000 bonds each on charges of extortion.

DOUGLAS HUNTER

According to the complaint issued by Dep. Dist.-Atty Lindley, Mrs. Thomas met Hunter through an advertisement in which he sought a saleswoman. Later, the complaint states, Hunter began paying marked attention to Mrs. Thomas after telling her he was a divorced man. Finally they are said to have become engaged.

Last Monday, following a sales meeting in Whittier, Hunter and Mrs. Thomas are said to have gone to the former's apartments in a Whittier hotel. Soon afterward Mrs. Hunter entered and, according to the complaint, said to Mrs. Thomas: "At last I've got you. What do you want to do, get notoriety for yourself or some money for me?"

MRS. MABEL HUNTER

Mrs. Thomas is said to have given Mrs. Hunter a cashier's check for $5000 and also to have made arrangements to turn over certain real estate to her. The arrest of Hunter and his wife by Charles Reimer of the District Attorney's office followed.

"Bright Eyes" Hunted in Theft at Poker Game

"Bright Eyes," an asserted bunco slicker, was the object of a police search yesterday following the report of L. R. Boyer of 1203 East Twentieth street, that, after he had "outplayed" the suspect and seven other players in a game of poker and won all their money, "Bright Eyes" whipped out a six-shooter and took back the winnings.

Boyer, according to a police report, stated that he engaged in the game in a downtown hotel and soon after it started noticed that the cards were marked. Quickly learning what the marks meant, Boyer stated, he was able to outwit what he called the "other card sharps."

DONATIONS IN REUNION

Former residents of Casselton, N. D., and vicinity are invited to attend the annual reunion in the picnic grounds at Exposition Park next Sunday. Members will bring a basket lunch and coffee will be served by the society. In case of rain the picnic will be deferred to the following Sunday.

END COMES TO WIFE OF FILM MAN

Mrs. John M. Stahl Dies Unexpectedly in Hospital Following Operation

Mrs. Irene Stahl, wife of John M. Stahl, motion-picture director, died yesterday at the Osteopathic Hospital, where she went for an operation a week ago. Her death was unexpected, it was said, and came after a collapse Tuesday night.

Though never in pictures, Mrs. Stahl was widely known in Hollywood, especially in social circles. Mr. and Mrs. Stahl were married twelve years ago and have been living at the Ambassador. The director, who is under contract to the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studio, was at his wife's bedside constantly during her illness. Funeral arrangements have not been made.

CANCELS NEGOTIATIONS

Because of his engagement by F.B.O. for a leading juvenile role in Jean Stratton Porter's "The Magic Garden," Earl McCarthy has canceled negotiations with an eastern producer for a return to the musical comedy stage.

NEW WAR COMEDY FOR M.G.M.

"Red Pants" is Startling Title of New Laugh Pager; Bill Demarest is Hit in Warner Comedy; Tom Gallery Bobs Up Again.

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

The movie producers having discovered after all these years that war is funny, Gen. Sherman to the contrary notwithstanding, and said producers having used up just about all our own wars for comedy purposes, it would seem logical that they should begin to turn to foreign countries for more comic war material.

That is just what is happening indeed. Irving G. Thalberg of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios made the announcement yesterday that his company would soon undertake the production of "Red Pants," a comedy having to do with the famous French Foreign Legion during the World War.

George Cooper and Bert Roach, principal laugh-smiths of "Tin Hats," will again create comedy out of marital tribulations as pictured in "Red Pants." Thalberg is planning on making the new comedy a hilarious sequel to the former picture.

"Red Pants" is an original story by Edward Sedgwick and Lew Lipton. It will be directed by Sedgwick following the completion of his current picture, "Slide, Kelly, Slide." Lipton will make the screen adaptation.

Bill Demarest in It

It would seem as though William Demarest, who was wont to elicit screams of laughter from vaudeville and musical comedy audiences with his funny falls and his burlesque 'cello playing, has parked the faithful old brick 'cello out in the woodhouse for good. He has entered pictures and is making quite as great a hit as he did on the stage.

Demarest was signed by the Warner Brothers yesterday for one of the principal roles in "Don't Tell the Wife," an Irene Rich starring picture. As soon as he finishes his work in "Finger Prints," he will begin his role in the new one. Paul Stein will direct "Don't Tell the Wife."

Charlie Chase's New One

Charlie Chase is going to take a vacation. That is, his idea of a vacation, which means simply that he is going to get ready to make another Hal Roach comedy, following the completion of his last one.

"Are Brunettes Safe?" is the title of Chase's last classic, completed yesterday. He will start work on the writing of a new story during the two weeks' vacation he is allowed between pictures.

"White Flannels" Next

"White Flannels" will be the title of Lloyd Bacon's next Warner Brothers picture, according to announcement made yesterday.

The story is from a magazine serial by Lucian Cary, and the picture will be given an all-star cast. Bacon is at present finishing "Finger Prints."

Doris Hill With Paramount

Doris Hill, who played a leading role in Warners' "The Better 'Ole," with Syd Chaplin, has signed a five-year contract with Paramount, according to word received yesterday.

The young actress has been making some rapid strides ahead, and is considered an excellent bet in pictures.

Tom Gallery Back Again

That promising young actor, Tom Gallery, has bobbed up again in the movies. Having made a success of a difficult job as matchmaker for boxing bouts arranged by the American Legion, Tom felt that he could once more turn his attention to acting.

TOM GALLERY

Gallery signed yesterday with F.B.O. to play the leading role opposite Viola Dana in "Home Struck," which Ralph Ince will direct. The story is by Peter Milne, well known as both a playwright and as a scenarist.

Another important player in the picture is Alan Brooks, under contract to De Mille, who has been loaned for this film.

Sam Rork Ready to Go

Sam Rork is all set to go on "The River," and has assigned Jane Murfin the task of writing the adaptation from the original story.

In this picture, Rork's daughter, Ann Rork, will have her first really big and important role. The picture is to be made on an elaborate scale, for First National release.

Otis Harlan is Grand-Dad

Otis Harlan is a proud grandpa. He received word yesterday morning to the effect that his daughter, Marion Harlan, formerly of the film colony, now the wife of Walter Kennedy of Martinsville, Ind., has given birth to a daughter.

The little one has already been christened Shirley Louise, the first name in honor of Shirley Mason, who is a close friend of Marion's.

Billy Bevan in It

Count that day lost, etc., which doesn't find a comedian signed to give the comedy leaven to some dramatic production.

The latest news along this line is to the effect that Billy Bevan, noted two-reel comedian, has been signed by First National to play a comedy detective role in "Easy Pickings," a current production in which Anna Q. Nilsson is featured. This will be the very first time that the gay and festive Billy has ever cavorted in serious drama.

Other members of the cast are Kenneth Harlan, male lead; Philo McCullough, Jerry Miley and Zack Williams. George Archainbaud is directing.

Edna Murphy's Two F.B.O.'s

Due to an odd little quirk in the signing of contracts, Edna Murphy has signed twice in the same place, you might say, with F.B.O. She signed some time ago to play the feminine lead in "Tarzan and the Golden Lion," which, however, was held up by the illness of the star, James Pierce. Pierce himself admits, by the way, that it was a funny thing for a man who could fight a lion to get ill, but it happened just the same.

EDNA MURPHY

Pierce has recovered now and the picture will be started almost at once. In the meantime, Miss Murphy signed for a picture with another company, being released by F.B.O. Yesterday she signed another contract with F.B.O. for the original role.

Ruth Roland at Orpheum

Our talented young friend, Ruth Roland, has decided not to let her stage talents rust, and has, therefore, signed for a few weeks with the Orpheum circuit, appearing in a singing act. She will play Los Angeles and San Francisco at least, and possibly another Coast town. Miss Roland made her debut as a child in vaudeville.

Claire Windsor Flits

Goody, goody! Claire Windsor says so anyhow. Claire has received permission from Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, to whom she is under contract, to absent herself from the city for a week or so. The picture in which she is to appear has been held up, and therefore the beauteous Claire will lend the light of her countenance to husband Bert Lytell on his vaudeville trip to the Orpheum in Denver. She leaves today.

Lupino Lane's New One

Lupino Lane is buzzing along merrily on his comedy path these days. E. W. Hammons of Educational Films having recently signed Lane to a new contract, the comedian has plunged into his second series with the avowed intention of casting in his lot with pictures for good.

LUPINO LANE

His next picture will be called "Howdy, Duke!" Both this and his first one, "In Movieland," were directed by Norman Taurog. Kathryn McGuire has signed to play opposite the comedian in the whole series of Educational comedies in which he will star.

Box-office reports are to the effect that Lane's comedies have been most successful wherever shown.

"Magic Garden" Now Full

"The Magic Garden" is now full. Anyhow the cast is. F.B.O. completed it with the signing yesterday of Paulette Duval.

Principals in the picture are Margaret Morris and Raymond Keane. The story is from the book by Jean Stratton Porter.

GRAUMAN MANAGER TERMINATES POST

Sam Myers, manager for Sid Grauman at Grauman's Egyptian Theater, Hollywood, will this week terminate his connection with the Grauman organization, having resigned to take an extended vacation. He is leaving the theater with most cordial relations existing and the good wishes of Mr. Grauman and the entire playhouse personnel.

Myers has been with the Egyptian since a few weeks after its opening, and made many friends during his regime at the theater. Before coming with the Grauman organization he was prominently identified with both theatrical and film interests, having been associated with many of the largest theaters and theatrical companies in the country, and been associated as business manager with the William Fox studios.

WALTHALL READING SCRIPTS

Henry B. Walthall returned from the high Sierras yesterday, where he hunted and fished. He completed "Fighting Love" with Jetta Goudal last week at the De Mille studios and is now consulting with Grant E. Dolge on two scenarios, roles in which have been offered the star. It is possible that Walthall may do his next film in New York. Negotiations are now pending.

HORTICULTURIST TO TALK

Dr. L. H. Bailey, author of Bailey's Cyclopedia of Horticulture and many other books on horticulture, will be guest of honor and principal speaker of the Florists' and Nurserymen's Club of Southern California the evening of the 19th inst., in the Chamber of Commerce dining-room. His subject will be "Current Tendencies in Horticulture."

COOLIDGE DAM BIDS OPENED

Bids for the construction of the Coolidge Dam of the San Carlos Irrigation Project in Arizona were opened yesterday by Maj. C. R. Oldberg, assistant chief engineer of the dam and of the Indian Irrigation Service. Nine bids were received, the lowest being $2,268,525.50 by the Atkinson-Spicer Company of Los Angeles.

Other bids were A. Guthrie & Co., Portland, $2,799,048; Claude Fisher, Los Angeles, $2,594,746; Utah Construction Company, Ogden, $2,451,329; D. A. Foley Construction Company, Los Angeles, $2,613,563.25; Allied Contracting Company, Inc., Omaha, and Ross Construction Company, Los Angeles, combined, $2,893,000; Bent Brothers, Inc., Los Angeles, $2,439,573.25; W. A. Bechtel Company, San Francisco, $2,465,056; McDonald & Kahn, Los Angeles, $3,066,000.

The bids were advertised for on October 8, last. They were forwarded to the Secretary of the Interior. It is provided that work on the dam shall be completed by June 1, 1929.

The Coolidge Dam will be located at the entrance to Box Canyon on the Gila River, nine miles below San Carlos. It will contain water to irrigate about 100,000 acres. The land to be irrigated is divided among the Pima Indians on the Gila River Indian Reservation and white land owners near Florence and Casa Grande, Ariz.

The canyon width is 300 feet at the dam base and 600 at the crest. The dam will be 250 feet high, about 226 feet above the normal level of the stream. The Gila River is noted for going on the rampage during storms, sometimes reaching a width of a mile and a half at such times.

The dam will be of a new type, known as the multiple dome. It will be 110 feet thick at the base. Certain materials for its construction will be furnished by the government.

It will be necessary to excavate 239,000 cubic yards of rock and gravel. The dam will require 223,300 barrels of cement and 2250 tons of steel reinforcing.

JACK BUCHANAN IS BIG HIT OF "SUNNY"

That Cecil B. DeMille may have scored the season's coup when he outbid all other producers for the film services of Jack Buchanan, during the English musical comedy star's engagement in this country with "Charlot's Revue," is indicated by London reviews of "Sunny," which opened there recently.

One London reviewer said, "Mr. Buchanan, who has been absent too long in America, made a tremendous hit in 'Sunny,' produced last night at the Hippodrome." In closing the reviewer said, "At any rate, it will be a long time before we can spare Mr. Buchanan again."

It won't be as long as the London critic evidently hopes for, as Buchanan is due in Hollywood next summer to start his film work under his new long-time contract with De Mille.

ACTORS START FAD

Now it's the Rough Rider rage, society girls in San Antonio have taken up a new fad after watching the Paramount production of "The Rough Riders" at the movie house in that city. All the troopers wear the large-buckled belts which were all the rage then. Belts have been increasing in popularity among women during the past two years, and have gradually been getting wider, the new ones of white kid and leather are from five to seven inches in width.

ACTORS START FAD

Now it's the Rough Rider belt. Society girls in San Antonio have taken up a new fad after watching the Paramount production of "The Rough Riders" at the movie hot near that city. All the troopers wear two-inch belts, and Mary Astor and other girls in costume of 1898 use the wide, large-buckled belts which were all the rage then. Belts have been getting in popularity among women during the past two years, and have gradually been getting wider and the new ones of white kid and patent leather are from five to seven inches in width.

METROPOLITAN BROADWAY AT SIXTH ST.
PUBLIX
TODAY FRIDAY
To the Theatre-Goers of Los Angeles
NOT so long ago I recommended two pictures at the Metropolitan Theatre as being unusually fine entertainment, and you responded with enthusiasm. For that I respectfully desire to offer sincere thanks.
And now we have, opening tomorrow ..., the GREATEST STAGE SHOW IN the HISTORY of THE METROPOLITAN THEATRE
Its title is
"Actors' Night in Coffee Dan's" featuring EDDIE PEABODY and a splendid array of talent
I believe it is safe to say that you will find this a Jack Partington presentation that you will never forget.
On the screen we have Shirley Mason in "Sweet Rosie O'Grady", a Columbia Picture with an excellent cast.
Thank you.

ANNOUNCE CHANGE AT EGYPTIAN

"The Better 'Ole" With Vitaphone Will Open Wednesday

Syd Chaplin as "Old Bill" in "The Better 'Ole," the Warner Brothers comedy, with the Vitaphone will make its first appearance here in a premiere Wednesday night in Grauman's Egyptian Theater, according to an announcement just made by Sid Grauman.

John Barrymore in "Don Juan" with the Vitaphone will positively have its last showing Tuesday night.

Arrangements were made several weeks ago by Grauman with Warner Brothers to introduce the rollicking comedy of British trench life, directed by Charles F. (Chuck) Reisner, and based on the play by Bruce Bairnsfather. It will be a ppoular-priced premiere.

An elaborate program bringing to the first-night audience the personalities of some of the greatest entertainment stars of the stage, including Al Jolson, Elsie Janis, George Jessel, Willie and Eugene Howard and Reinald Werrenrath, will be presented through the Vitaphone.

The picture will be accompanied by the Vitaphone Symphony Orchestra, with Herman Heller conducting, interpreted by the Vitaphone.

The cast supporting Syd Chaplin in "The Better 'Ole" includes Doris Hill, Harold Goodwin, Theodore Lorch, Ed Kennedy, Charles Gerrard, Tom McGuire, Jack Ackroyd, Tom Kennedy, Kewpie Morgan and Arthur Clayton.

KURT MUELLER HEARD IN CONCERT

Pianist Makes First Public Appearance Here at Biltmore Hotel

Los Angeles music lovers were given a rare opportunity last night in hearing Kurt Mueller, internationally known pianist, in his first concert given in Los Angeles and held in the music room of the Biltmore Hotel. Mr. Mueller was assisted by Teodora Wesniewska, soprano.

Of the compositions given on last night's program, the most interesting was a group of songs, composed by Mr. Mueller and Ljubica Bach and sung by Miss Wesniewska. The songs were written in German and were entitled "Einer Toten," or "To One Dead," and "Im Regen," or "In the Rain." "Spring" was the last song in the soprano's group.

The composition of these numbers was interesting and extremely well done. Mr Mueller seemed to catch the very soul of the poet's thought in his music, and the two German compositions were imbued with a plaintive and melancholy spirit exquisitely emphasized in the accompaniment.

In contrast to these two heavier compositions was "Spring," a light, dainty number proving the amazing versatility of the composer.

Miss Wesniewska's voice is one of excellent quality. Her high notes were held with accuracy and precision and her tones were in every case clear and well placed. Her group was received most enthusiastically by the audience and she replied to the insistent applause with an encore.

For his piano solos, Mr. Mueller chose a group of six numbers, ranging from Bach to the moderns. The pianist showed a thorough musicianship in the rendition of the entire program. His technique was excellent and his interpretation of his numbers interesting and unusual.

The most pretentious number offered in his group was the Franz Liszt "Sonata." In this number Mr. Mueller displayed his mastery of technique. The entire piece was played from memory, and Mr. Mueller veritably lived each change in mood and temperament expressed by the famous master-composer.

His modern numbers were also graced with skill in interpretation, and each composition rendered by Mr. Mueller seemed possessed by a verve and depth of feeling that were his and his alone.

Prior to his visit here Mr. Mueller was head of the Conservatory of Music of Atlanta, Ga. He is a pupil of the famous Wagnerian, Karl Klindworth, and was appointed assistant to the famous Xavier Scharwenka. Prof. Mueller was also head of the piano department of the Government Conservatory of Helsingfors, Finland, where he succeeded the renowned Ferrucio Busoni.

'Blossom Time' Tells Story of Franz Schubert

"Blossom Time," the operetta, based on the life of the composer, Franz Schubert, and with practically all the music taken from his 600 or more songs and compositions, will have an engagement at the Biltmore Theater beginning the 22nd inst.

The story of "Blossom Time" deals with the love of Franz Schubert. The scenes are laid in old Vienna, and the story is told in three acts.

The original theme of this story was discovered in a half-fiction and half-biographical life of Schubert, which was published shortly after his death.

The first act occurs at an outdoor restaurant in Prater Park in May, 1826. At this restaurant there gather three pretty little maids, Mitzi, Fritzi and Kitzi. They are famous over Vienna for their prettiness and charm. They go to the restaurant to meet their sweethearts. Schubert falls in love with Mitzi.

The New York cast will be seen in it.

Two Stars Have Forced Example of Naval Life

Paramount's companion picture to "Behind the Front," "We're in the Navy Now," starts at the Million Dollar Theater today. As in the doughboy picture, the film features Wallace Beery and Raymond Hatton, and in addition to these two may be seen the dyed-in-the-wool-walrus hirsute embellishment of Chester Conklin, and the fighting spirit of Tom Kennedy.

The story concerns Hatton, who, as Beery's prize-fighter manager, runs off with the purse after Beery fights Kennedy. In the chase of Beery after Hatton they get mixed up with some naval recruits and find themselves in the navy, swabbing decks.

The photoplay was directed by Edward Sutherland, who made "Behind the Front" for the same stars.

Evolution of a Thought

Raymond Hatton and Wallace Beery, Appearing in "We're in the Navy Now," opening at the Million Dollar Theater today.

WEALTH BRINGS TROUBLE

"Millionaires," the Warner Brothers' production, which comes to the Uptown Theater on Friday, for a week's run, is a free adaptation of E. Phillips Oppenheim's book, "The Inevitable Millionaires." It tells the story of a Jewish tailor who suddenly makes a fortune in stocks and finds himself in for golf, horses, divorces and other uncomfortable luxuries.

George Sidney, once the "Bizzy Izzy" in vaudeville, and more recently featured on the screen in "The Cohens and the Kellys," has the leading role, as the tender-hearted tailor who is transported into a world of hard-hearted social striving.

Louise Fazenda, the comedienne who has blazed a bright trail in a long series of Warner pictures, appears as the tailor's flint-headed sister-in-law, a ruthless schemer, who leads the tailor and his wife up the golden rocks.

Vera Gordon, who, since "Humoresque," has been the Jewish mother in every picture for which her services can be obtained, appears once more in her favorite style of role. Only this time, she is not quite so render as before. The tailor's wife in this picture is one who gets caught in a whirlwind of social ambition and swept off her feet, who listens to the serpent tongues of other social climbers and decides she must lose her husband if she is to get on in society.

Nat Carr, as a slicker of the Jewish social world, completes the quartet of featured comedians whom the Warners have assembled for "Millionaires." The love interest is supplied by Helene Costello and Arthur Lubin, and Jane Winton appears as the woman who is hired to supply evidence for a divorce.

The picture was directed by Herman Raymaker, and the screen story was written by Raymond L. Schrock.

HAWAIIAN TROUPE TO COME HERE

Island Producers Will Bring "Prince of Hawaii" to Majestic

Maurice L. Kussell announced yesterday that the Charles E. King company of Honolulu will come to Los Angeles to produce the light opera, "The Prince of Hawaii," at the Majestic Theater, December 19.

A contract was signed yesterday between Michael Corper of the Majestic and A. Wylie Mather and Maurice L. Kussell, managers of the Hawaiian company, which completes all the necessary arrangements.

All of which is regarded as another step forward in activities of Los Angeles.

The company embraces a roster of seventy-five native-born Hawaiians. Never before, it is said, has such an organization of trained, talented and experienced Hawaiians been seen on these shores.

Those who have never been to Hawaii will be interested in the legends of love, life and laughter. Those who have seen Hawaii will now have an opportunity to go back to the days when the islands were a kingdom in Charles E. King's "The Prince of Hawaii."

PHILHARMONIC WILL PLAY NEW NUMBERS

On the program for the second popular concert of the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra, Sunday afternoon, at Philharmonic Auditorium, Conductor Rothwell has included two new numbers, which are being given their first performance in Los Angeles: the Rimsky-Korsakow, Suite from "Tsar Salton," Op. 57, and the Paderewski Concerto for Piano, in A Minor, Op. 17, which is being played by Phylilda Ashley, the soloist at this concert.

For several seasons Miss Ashley coached with Sigismond Stojowski, who speaks of her work in the highest terms, and has also enjoyed the tutelage of Fannie Bloomfield Zeisler, and the continued admiration and friendship of Paderewski, for whom she played at the age of 5.

Other members on the program are the Weber overture "Oberon" and Strauss tone poem "Don Juan," Op. 20.

HENRY E. DIXEY WILL APPEAR AT BILTMORE

Of special interest to Los Angeles theatergoers is the return to the local stage of Henry E. Dixey, actor of note, who will appear in "Blossom Time," at the Biltmore Theater on the 22nd inst.

His last appearance here was in "The Man on the Box," at the Mason. Dixey will be remembered for his success in "A Night Off," playing Marcus Brutus Snap, and in "Confusion," as Blizzard. As Adonis in the extravaganza of that name he won the distinction of being the first actor to play 500 nights on Broadway.

Last season he was outstanding in the revival of "The Two Orphans."

BY INVITATION

A dress rehearsal of "Lady Frederick," with admission by invitation, is scheduled for tomorrow evening at the Mason. Pauline Frederick's new play has been in rehearsal here for a number of weeks. It opens in San Francisco Monday.

GIVE PATRIOTIC BALL

La Monica Ballroom is planning its Armistice Day ball tonight, which will be one of the big patriotic dances of the year. The ballroom will be decorated for the occasion, carrying out the patriotic motif.

Augment Cast for Return of Musical Revue

From sunny Spain comes the Senorita Racquel Nieta, Spanish prima donna, whom Michael Corper yesterday signed for one of the principal roles in "Monkey Business" in accordance with his plans to augment the cast of the musical revue for its return engagement at the Majestic beginning the 22nd inst.

Senorita Nieta, the youngest daughter of an old aristocratic Spanish family in old Madrid, comes here directly from New York where she has been appearing on the opera stage for the past two seasons.

She sings in four languages, Spanish, French, Italian and English.

"Monkey Business" in returning to the Majestic, will be much different than it was during its twelve weeks engagement here. It has been changed considerably. Many new scenes, skits, farces and travesties have been added it is said.

Augmenting the cast, Mr. Corper has also secured Eddie Borden, Ernie Young, Alice Knowlton, prima donna; Dorothy Curtis, specialty singer, and several others whose names will be announced later.

BEATRICE IS COLLECTOR

Beatrice Prentice, popular young actress may take over the costuming and scenic effects of one of Los Angeles' little theaters. Miss Prentice's own costumes comprise one of the most extensive private collections in America.

SHE WANTS TO KNOW

Nola Luxford, New Zealand actress, says she used to think villains were called "heavies" because they drew down such heavy pay checks. So she played a heavy. Now she's looking for another explanation.

COLORATURA WILL BE HEARD TONIGHT

Galli-Curci

Amelita Galli-Curci of coloratura fame, returns this evening to the Philharmonic Auditorium in a program under the Behymer management.

For nearly two years the singer has not been heard here, and a brilliant audience of capacity size is expected to greet her.

Homer Samuels, the singer's composer-husband, will be heard in the double role of accompanist and soloist. Manuel Berenguer will play flute obbligati.

VARIED PROGRAM GIVEN BY MOORE

Lyric Numbers by Grieg Among Best Presented by Orchestra Group

Pryor Moore presented his concert orchestra in recital last evening at the Biltmore Hotel ballroom, presenting a program that contained a variety of selections ranging from the operatic to the lyric in style. Assisting soloists were Harriet Henderson, soprano, Walter Kuns, cornetist, and Mrs. Harriet Rauch, accompanist for Miss Henderson.

A group of lyric pieces by Grieg were perhaps the best played of the orchestral selections. Especially noteworthy among this set, were the "Norwegian March" and the "Nocturne," which were interpreted in fine Norwegian style, the shadings being very characteristic and effective. An Indian group contained three pieces by Coleridge-Taylor which met with enthusiastic applause, and an arrangement of Logan's "Pale Moon." The effect of the latter selection was spoiled by the jazz version which closed the rendition.

Among the other numbers the "Serenade," by Rachmaninoff and "Moon Magic," by Coates, were to be noted. The orchestra maintained a good ensemble throughout the performance but the parts were not always well balanced.

Juan Aguilar, the pianist of the organization, presented an original composition entitled "Consuelo," a piano solo with orchestra. Portions of this number were very pleasing, being very melodious and of a fascinating waltz rhythm.

Miss Henderson gave a commendable rendition of the difficult aria, "Il est doux, il est bon," from Massenet's "Herodiade," her singing evincing musical feeling and pleasing quality. The cornet solo, "The Carnival of Venice," by Clarke, was admirably played by young Walter Kuns, who proved to be an adept at triple-tonguing.

Other selections on the program included two numbers for string quartet played by Pryor Moore and Loren Powell, first and second violins, respectively; Phillip Kahgan, viola, and Charles Stewart, 'cello. The program opened with an arrangement for orchestra entitled "Overture Favorites," by Juan Aguilar and closed with "Mexican Rhapsody" by the same composer.

'Castles' Meets With Favor of Theatergoers

Southern California theatergoers are reported to be showing in a substantial way their appreciation of the musical production Edward D. Smith has given them at his El Capitan Theater in "Castles in the Air."

The whole affair is said to move with a metropolitan swing and few musical plays seen here recently can compare with the work of the "Castles in the Air" chorus. In addition to being able to sing, these boys and girls can dance. The dance of the dolls particularly is said to be a decided novelty.

Juanita Wray is the prima donna, Ray Raymonds the comedian, Raymond Marlowe the prince, while others are Marie Wells, Wynne Gibson, Margaret Bourne, Charles Miller, Barney Gilmore, Milton Pope, Sergei Arabeloff, Guy Kibee, Alan Lowe and David Preston.

War Veterans Given Tribute on Armistice

Pantages Theater will observe Armistice Night tonight by setting aside a section of seats for the Disabled American Veterans of the World War.

The "Night Club Revue," a unit show with such stars as Midgie Miller, Walter Weems, Joe Roberts, Fleurette Jeoffre, Pierra White and Marg Torry, late stars of "Rose-Marie;" Julian Edward and Tom Kelly, is the feature attraction this week.

This is said to be the greatest aggregation of show talent brought together on the Pantages stage recently.

"The Queen O' Diamonds," with Evelyn Brent, is the screen feature.

HOWARD LEAVES ON HUNT FOR LOCATIONS

William K. Howard, the young Cecil B. De Mille director preparing to film "White Gold," is leaving today for Arizona, in a search for "unfilmed scenes."

Howard is the director who, according to critics, "brought art to the outdoor picture" in his treatment of "The Thundering Herd." He discovered, during the making of this picture, hitherto unfilmed landscapes of great beauty in the high Sierras. He hopes to do likewise in his negra to Arizona. Lucien Andriot, his chief cameraman, will accompany him.

A. G. WILKES HERE

A. G. Wilkes, theatrical producer, arrived here yesterday to make arrangements for the opening of "Creoles" in the Mason, one week from Monday night. Richard Bennett, who last appeared here in "The Pool," is playing the lead in the forthcoming production, which is described as a thrilling romantic comedy of the Old South. The story is by Samuel Shipman and Kenneth Perkins.

ORIGINALS NOW IN FAVOR

Now that the original story writer has come into his own, Lenore J. Coffee, who predicted this fact almost a year ago, is being pointed out as the oracle of filmdom. Previous to being assigned by De Mille to write the screen version of "The Volga Boatman," now showing at the Broadway Palace, Miss Coffee sensed the acute shortage of story material by the unusual requests she received for original ideas.

COMPLETES SERIES

The ninth of "The Collegians," Universal's college series written by Carl Laemmle, Jr., was finished this week. The company returned from Oakland where it had been for a week. Wesley Ruggles directed with George Lewis starring with Dorothy Gulliver. The two-reeler is called "Flashing Oars" and is built around a crew race.

JERRY IN FIRST NATIONAL

Jerry Miley signed a contract with First National this week for a featured role in George Archinbaud's production of "Easy Pickin's." This part is among the most important won by "the millionaire actor" since his advent into pictures two years ago.

TRUCK BUSINESS AT HIGH LEVEL

Sales of Moreland Company in Nine Months Gain

Profit Expected This Year; Deficit Shown Year Ago

Resumption of Dividends on Preferred Not Likely

With sales for the first nine months of this year showing an increase of 87½ per cent over the corresponding period of last year, indications are that the Moreland Motor Truck Company will earn a fair profit in 1926, against a deficit of $85,535.48 that was reported in 1925.

Truck sales of the company in the nine months ended September 30, last, amounted to $3,070,000, as compared with $1,940,000 in the same period of last year, an increase of $1,130,000, or 87½ per cent, according to a statement issued yesterday by Watt L. Moreland, vice-president and general manager of the company.

The output of the company's factory at Burbank since February 1, last, was 758 trucks. The plant was shut down a few days ago for the installation of additional equipment to facilitate greater production next year, and will again be in operation about December 1, Mr. Moreland said. There are sufficient trucks on hand to meet demands until January 1.

EXPORTS GAIN

The foreign business of the Moreland Company during the current year has increased substantially and will be greater than in any year since the war. There has been a large number of trucks shipped to the Orient, South America and the West Coast of Mexico.

Total assets of the company as of September 30, last, were $3,925,614.07, an increase of $844,089.84 over the total of $3,081,524.23 as of December 31, last. Current assets amounted to $2,349,687.81, as against current liabilities of $734,683.30. Current assets in the nine months increased $832,101.73.

Mr. Moreland refused to discuss the possibility of a resumption of dividends on the company's 7 per cent preferred stock, except to state that he believed the policy of the board of directors would be to build up a substantial surplus before resuming dividends. Dividends were discontinued on the preferred stock in the middle of last year, after 3½ per cent had been paid in the first two quarters. The company has paid eleven cash dividends and one stock dividend on the preferred since organization.

DIVIDENDS OFF

Dividends on the company's common stock were discontinued August 15, 1924. Prior to this time, thirty-two cash dividends and four stock dividends were paid. Dividends on the common are paid proportionately with the preferred above 7 per cent and up to 12 per cent.

The Moreland Motor Truck Company manufactures a complete line of motor trucks in capacities from three-fourths of a ton to ten tons and a line of motor buses. It has an exclusive right to manufacture on the Pacific Coast heavy-duty six-wheel buses and trucks.

The company's output is largely merchandised through fifteen factory branches which the company owns and operates through a separate sales organization known as the Moreland Sales Corporation, and a large number of dealers and agents located throughout the western States and in countries bordering on the Pacific Ocean. Since the first of the year the company has opened an additional branch office in Seattle, Wash.

MARKETS CLOSED

Banks in Los Angeles, the Los Angeles Stock Exchange, Chicago Board of Trade, Chicago Stock Exchange and other markets will be closed today in observance of Armistice Day, a legal holiday. The New York Stock Exchange will remain open.

Foreign Trade Club Plans for Monthly Dinner

Officials of the Los Angeles Bank Credit Men's Association will be the guests of honor at the November dinner-meeting of the Foreign Exchange Club of Los Angeles to be held at the Mary Louise on the 18th inst. Problems of mutual interest to the two organizations will be discussed.

C. A. Rude, vice-president of the Citizens' National Bank, and president of the bank credit men, will be the principal speaker. His discussion will point out the close relations and understanding that must exist in large banks between the credit men and those handling matters of foreign trade.

The club at this meeting will consider a plan for co-operation between the Los Angeles Clearinghouse Association and the Foreign Exchange Club, F. H. Chapman, manager of the foreign department of the Pacific-Southwest Trust and Savings Bank, president of the club, will preside.

Lead Property Purchased by Eagle Picher

Activities in the Oro Blanco district of Santa Cruz county, Arizona, received a new impetus yesterday when the Eagle Picher Company, reported as one of the world's largest lead producers, announced the purchase of a group of claims adjoining the North Star Mining and Development Company.

Work has already been started by the Eagle Picher Company, which uses 15 per cent of the lead produced in the United States in its manufacturing activities. The company's sales annually aggregate approximately $40,000,000.

Other companies are pushing development work in the district and a number of new mines are already on a shipping basis. The North Star is the latest entry into the list of actual producers of concentrates.

The Clearinghouse

News of Spring Street

David A. Pepp, Pacific Coast manager of A. E Fitkin & Co., has returned to Los Angeles from a trip to New York, where he attended a dinner given by a group of bankers as a farewell to Mr. Fitkin upon his departure for Europe.

Mr. Pepp reports a general feeling of optimism prevailing in New York, although tempered in most quarters by a spirit of caution in place of the rather extreme speculative tendency which prevailed during the early part of the year. The situation is regarded as very satisfactory by the more conservative operators, especially dealers in high-grade securities.

Gahl Honored

C. E. Gahl, assistant manager of the Pacific-Southwest Realty Company, an affiliated concern of the First National-Pacific-Southwest banking group, has been appointed chairman of the national committee on purchasing of the National Association of Building Owners and Managers, according to word just received from E Clarence Holmes, president. The association is composed of about forty affiliated local associations throughout the country, representing more than 2000 members.

Gas Company Pays

Directors of the Standard Engineering Company, operating natural gasoline plants at Newhall, Riverside and Casper, Wyo., have declared the regular monthly dividend of 1 per cent on the capital stock. The dividend is payable the 15th inst. to stock of record the 5th inst.

COTTON SEAT SOLD AT LOWER FIGURE

NEW YORK, Nov. 10. (AP)—The New York Cotton Exchange membership held by the estate of Frank A. Kimball has been sold for $26,000 to Paul Schwart, $1000 less than the previous sale.

EXCHANGE SEAT VALUES SOAR

Sale of Two Announced at $158,000 and $160,000, Respectively

NEW YORK, Nov. 10. (AP)—Values of seats on the New York Stock Exchange soared to record heights today in quick succession, announcement that a transfer of membership had been tentatively arranged at $158,000, which is $3000 above the previous high mark, being followed by another transaction at $160,000.

Both bids have been accepted by the committee on admissions, but the identities of the purchasers will not be made known until the customary formalities have been completed.

SHELL HOPES SUPPORTED

Unofficially Reported Directors Agreed on $2 Rate on Common; Not in Accord on Fixed Policy

BY EARLE E. CROWE

As the time for the Shell Union dividend meeting draws near, the conviction in the stock market is growing that the directors will institute a new dividend policy when they convene in New York on the 17th inst. Moreover, it is reported unofficially that Shell Union common will be on a $2 basis as soon as the directors walk out of the meeting.

The public has expected something in the way of favorable dividend action, particularly since the declaration of an extra by Standard Oil of California. Speculators and stockholders have hardly dared, however, to hope that the rate would be boosted all the way to $2 at one stroke, although it is generally recognized that Shell earnings fully justify such a policy. Nevertheless, the latest information, the kind with a semi-official flavor, is that the common stockholders will receive $2 this year.

DIFFERENCE OF OPINION

As the story runs, the directors, several of whom were recently in Los Angeles on a tour of inspection, are fairly well in accord on paying $2, but are not fully in agreement on the question of a fixed policy. Some of them favor the policy of establishing a regular annual rate of $2, while others are inclined to a more cautious plan of paying an extra sufficient to bring the year's payments to $2.

If the extra is decided upon, the directors may either authorize the payment of 60 cents, the difference between $1.40, the regular rate, and $2, or they may raise the regular rate to some such figure as $1.80; and pay an extra of 20 cents a share.

Possibly the hesitancy over placing the common on a regular $2 basis can be attributed to the advisability of retiring the preferred stock at this time or waiting until a later date. With the preferred out of the way, there would be, nothing to prevent a regular $2 rate on the common, but if it is decided to wait until later the directors may feel that the extra dividend policy should be followed for the present.

At the rate earnings are running, the company could pay $2 without difficulty. Net for the year will range between $32,000,00 and $34,000,000, or around $3.50 a share on the common after the payment of preferred dividends. The real strength of the company, however, is in its cash and reserve positions, both of which are among the best in the oil industry.

CASH ASSETS LARGE

The company's refinery and pipeline expansion program, which includes a new refinery at Wilmington, will be carried forward, it is understood, by the appropriation of $50,000,000 from cash assets. At the close of 1925 the cash on hand totaled nearly $29,000,000.

Affecting earnings, Shell Union, through its California subsidiary, is harvesting a sizeable income from its successes in the Ventura-Avenue field. Shell is producing around 20,000 barrels from these properties, reputed to be among the best in California. It is rumored that Shell has picked up another deep sand in another one of the Southern California fields.

From the amount of the common stock owned by the Royal Dutch-Shell interests, the controlling factor in Shell Union, it would seem that the parent company would look with favor on an increase in the regular dividend rate. Royal Dutch-Shell owns about 7,200,000 shares of the common and would materially benefit from any improvement in the Shell Union dividend situation. Incidentally, of the 2,800,000 shares outstanding in the American market, it is probable that a sizeable proportion is in the strong boxes of investors, leaving a relatively small floating supply.

MAXIMUM SALARY OF OFFICIAL STAFF SET

NEW YORK, Nov. 10. (AP)—An agreement has been made that the combined salaries of all executives and directors of the C. H. Turner Manufacturing Company of Statesville, N. C., makers of sawmill equipment and grain threshers, cannot be greater than $25,000 a year, while any portion of $225,000 7 per cent cumulative sinking fund preferred stock being offered today at 100 and accrued dividends by R H. Dickson & Co. is outstanding. This means the officers cannot receive an increase in salary for at least fifteen years, when the issue will be retired by sinking fund. Total assets are placed at $722,277. Earnings for the last three years have equaled five times annual dividend requirements on this issue.

WESTERN UNION NET IN SEPTEMBER OFF

NEW YORK, Nov. 10. (AP)—September operating income of the Western Union Telegraph Company declined to $1,595,501 from $1,630,338 in September, 1925, but gross advanced to $12,074,230 from $11,525,349. For the nine months this year, operating income also was smaller than a year ago, $11,488,780, against $11,672,563, while gross rose to $100,482,886 from $92,597,331.

BUICK SALES GAIN

NEW YORK, Nov 10. (AP)—October sales of Buick Motor Company set a new record of 22,173 cars, bringing the total for the ten months of 1926 to 224,541 cars, which exceeds by 24,500 cars the volume for the full year 1925, a record year.

Pasadena Issue Announced by Banking House

Tender of $125,000 Brookmore Apartments first-mortgage 7 per cent serial bonds, due 1928-1941, was made yesterday by Knight, Stetson & Lester, Inc. The bonds are offered at par to yield 7 per cent, according to the announcement made by John O. Knight, vice-president of the underwriting company.

The loan, the underwriters stated, is secured by a first closed mortgage on both the land and building, including all furniture and furnishings. The building is a four-story-and-basement brick structure containing 101 rooms, situated on North Marengo avenue, Pasadena. The property has been appraised at $200,200 for the land and building and $31,500 for the furniture and furnishings, less depreciation. Net profits for the twelve months' period ended August 31, 1926, after all expenses, were $32,735.29, or 2.7 times maximum interest charges and approximately 1.7 times average annual interest and sinking-fund requirements.

Estimate for Production of Corn Increased

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10. (AP)—Corn production this year was placed at 2,693,963,000 bushels by the Department of Agriculture today in its preliminary estimate. A month ago 2,679,988,000 bushels were forecast. Last year's crop totaled 2,906,053,000 bushels.

Preliminary estimates of other important crops, including wheat, were announced last month. Final estimates of all crops will be made in December.

Preliminary estimates announced today included:

EX-GRIDIRON STAR IN NEW ARENA

"Dick" Boesel, Famous Plunging Fullback of 1915-17, Abandons Position on Bench of Ohio and Buys Seat on New York Exchange

Once famous on the gridiron as star of the Western Football Conference, and later the youngest judge in the United States, Richard E. Boesel, for the last two years associated with the firm of Noyes & Jackson, has just been elected a member of the New York Stock Exchange. He bought the seat of the late George C. Thomas for $140,000. He took his place last week on the floor as an active member.

His older brother, A. G. Boesel, a partner of the Stock Exchange firm of Noyes & Jackson, was instrumental in persuading him to abandon the bench and take up a career in Wall street. Prior to 1924 he had been judge of the Probate Court in Auglaize county, Ohio.

Dick Boesel won national fame in the field of sports as fullback in 1915, 1916 and 1917 of the Ohio State University football team. The Ohio State team won the Western Conference championship in 1916 and 1917, and Dick Boesel was pictured and celebrated throughout the country as the "plunging fullback." The famous Chick Harley was one of his running team-mates. Mr. Boesel was the general choice of experts as all-western fullback in 1917.

After a brilliant career on the gridiron he graduated in law, served during the war as an officer of the Machine Gun Corps, and in 1917 entered politics in Ohio. At 27 years of age he was elected judge of the Probate Court. He resigned and associated himself with Noyes & Jackson, with whom he will make his headquarters as a member of the New York Stock Exchange.

RICHFIELD AND UNION IN DECLINE

Bancitaly Advances to New Record High Mark; Mining Shares Strengthen

Richfield and Union Oil of California led the decline in the oil group on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange yesterday, the former losing 5-8 of a point to 22½ on a large turnover, and the latter moving off 1-4 of a point to a close at 54; also with a heavy volume. Standard Oil of California receded a fraction to 60 5-8. Shell-Union held firm at 30 7-8.

Julian Petroleum preferred got under way again and added 1-4 of a point in the afternoon to a close at 13½, with a large number of shares crossing the board. Julian common held at 2½. Bolsa Chica regained a part of its loss earlier in the week and closed 1 point higher at 7. California Petroleum added a fraction to 31 3-8.

Bancitaly Corporation continued to show strength and added 1-4 of a point to another record high at 85. Bank of Italy lost its 2-point gain of Tuesday and closed at 452. Los Angeles Investment declined 2 points in the face of an extra cash dividend declared by the company's board, closing at 3.06. Southern California Edison common held at 31.

Western Apex rallied 3 points on a light volume to 63, and Boundary Cone on a large turnover added a point to 8. North Star moved up ½ of a point to 8, and Big Jim the same amount to 38. Lucky Boy Divide was active at 4, off a point.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, Nov. 10. (Exclusive)—The cotton market, while holding its recent steady position throughout today's trading was under just enough pressure from scattered liquidation and fresh southern hedge selling to send prices off about 10 points from yesterday's closing by the final hour.

They had started with a decline of about 8 points on the slightly lower Liverpool cables than due from selling there, but had rallied to within 2 and 4 points of their final prices of yesterday on some covering of shorts and fresh local bull support, on the freezing weather again extending over the northern half of the cotton belt.

In fact freezing weather is predicted for Louisiana and the central part of Mississippi, Alabama and the northern half of Georgia, with heavy frost over Northern Florida and light frost near the center of that State. This is the coldest wave of the season.

In this afternoon's decline December went off to about 12.25 cents; January, 12 3-8 cents; March a little below 12 5-8 cents; May under 7 7-8 cents, and July down to about 13.05 cents.

There was still enough new trading buying in sight, with the further presence of scale-down buying orders in the hands of brokers for local trade commission houses and Wall street firms, to keep the market's undertone firm at this slight decline.

Today's exports were about 24,000 bales with Houston and New Orleans still to hear from. It makes the total exports from August 1 to date about 2,950,000 bales against 2,794,000 the same time last year.

COOLIDGE TAX PLAN CHEERS

Announcement of Program for Reduction Declared an Offset to Bear Situation in Cotton

BY PAUL WILLARD GARRETT

[Copyright, 1926, by New York Evening Post, Inc.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 10. (Exclusive)—Whatever of disappointment the announcement of a 17,918,000-bale cotton crop may have brought to speculators that piece of bearish news has been offset in handsome fashion by word that President Coolidge and Secretary Mellon are at work on plans to lift a portion of the taxpayers' burden.

With each new step in Washington to lower taxes, the country has been sympathetic. In Wall street particularly, these efforts have inspired confidence and, without going into the details of the rebate plan suggested by the President and the credit plan suggested by his secretary, it is disposed to view the new effort as a move distinctly in the interest of business.

Most bankers seem to look upon the Mellon plan to set up credits in 1927, to be entered March 15 and June 15, as the best means to work out the general ideas of President Coolidge, who at first suggested a refund effective in time to be applied against the December 15 payment this year. In the eleven days between the time that Congress convenes and the scheduled date for payment of the final installment on the 1925 tax, the legislators would not find it possible, presumably, to put through an enabling act. For its influence on sentiment, the financial district is inclined to believe furthermore that the effort to lighten the burden early next year will, since it is something to anticipate, do more good than an immediate refund.

In actual dollars and cents a $250,000,000 reduction would not give the average taxpayer much, but it is the persistent aim of the government to give the people the benefit of savings that stirs the imagination of the country and that impresses Wall street. A married man who earns $5000 a year must under the present schedule, if he has no dependents, pay $16.68 in taxes so that a 12 1-2 per cent reduction such as is suggested would give him a check for only $2.11. Refunds in the case of nine taxpayers in ten probably would not amount to so much as $2, although, of course, very substantial amounts would be returned to those that pay on large incomes.

Of course, it is more than possible that the surplus may reach $400,000,000 or even more, instead of the contemplated $250,000,000, and that Congress may see fit to make a larger cut in taxes than any proposed by the government at this stage. Neither the President nor Secretary Mellon is endeavoring to magnify the immediate returns of their program, but they do feel that savings in operating expenditures that pass into the surplus account can be used to better advantage by the individual taxpayers than by anybody else.

London Daily Radio

BY ARTHUR W. KIDDY

[Copyright, 1926, New York Evening Post, Inc.]

LONDON, Nov. 10. (By Wireless)—The markets were steady here today, but quiet on the growing restiveness in the deferment of the coal strike settlement, and the apparent lack of a firm attitude on the part of the government toward trade unions.

The London Morning Post, which is the strongest supporter of Baldwin, is commencing to criticise the government severely for its lack of vigorous handling of the situation.

Oils and rubbers gave the best account of themselves today.

A Bulgarian loan of £2,250,000 is expected in about a month.

Exchanges were steadier.

DeBeers's report and balance sheet show exceptional strength, with increase of more than £1,000,000 in profits. The present agreement between big producers for selling prices has been extended for another five years and the diamond outlook is considered good.

Money was firmer at 5 per cent, but no special significance was attached to the development. Everything points to a continuance of the firmness for some time to come. Stocks were quiet and inclined to be weaker on the coal situation, and credit talk on the budget prospects. Unpleasantly significant is the fact that the only alternatives suggested are a suspension of the sinking fund, capitalization of the pension funds or an increase in taxation, anything in fact but reduced expenditures.

Orange Prices Reach Highest Point of Year

PLACENTIA, Nov. 10. (Exclusive) California oranges yesterday reached the $10.45 mark on the New York auction for the first time this season, the "Altissimo" brand, packed by the Placentia Mutual Packing House, gaining this distinction, H. O. Easton, manager, announced today.

Mr. Easton said the 1926 season has been the best in the history of his house. Total net returns probably will be in the neighborhood of $1,250,000, and net returns to the grower will average better than $3.

WAREHOUSE CONCERN PLANS SALE OF STOCK

The Lawrence Warehouse Company has applied to the Railroad Commission of California for authority to issue and sell all of its present unissued common stock of a par value of $53,380, it was announced yesterday from the office of the commission. The Lawrence Warehouse Company engages in the operation of field warehouses throughout the entire West, having branches in all of the larger cities. Its operations have been rapidly expanded during the last year.

Reactionary Tendency Trading Session

Size of Steel Buying Disappoints Trade

Slump Seen as Correction Technical Condition

NEW YORK, Nov. 10. (AP)—Reactionary tendencies in today's stock market reflected speculative disappointment over the relatively small increase in the October output of the United States Steel Corporation, and the failure of the directors of the Rock Island Railway to declare a dividend on the preferred stock at today's meeting. Trading was rather general and considerable selling took place in some issues, the result that many issues declined to 4½ points lower on the day.

The Steel Corporation, after many quarters to show a profit of 150,000 to 200,000 tons, reported an increase of only 4,000 tons. Steel common closed 1½ points lower at 146½, after having sold between 148 1-8 and 146 1-4. Rock Island common sold down as low as 85 1-4, but intimations by directors that dividend action would be taken in December sent the stock to 86 3-4, where it was off only 1-8 on the day.

In view of the recent advance in many issues and the general reduction of the share values today's selling was regarded by some quarters as a natural corrective movement, temporarily weakened by the addition Pools in several issues continued to mark up their holdings on the theory that the bullish possibilities of lower money rates and reduced income taxes outweighed the prospects of special developments. Some of those issues had not been affected.

MOTORS LOWER

General Motors, dividend action on which is due after the close of business today, showed a net loss of 1 point to 148½ after fluctuating between 147 3-4 and 150 1-4. Among the many other popular issues to sell off a point or more were Allied Chemical, American Can, Baldwin Consolidated Oil, Famous Players, Fox Film International Harvester, Postum Cereal, Standard Oil of New Jersey and Western Union. Gimbel Brothers and Pullman made new lows.

Rubbers were strong despite weakness from Akron of an early cut in prices. Ultimate gains ranged from a fraction to an extreme gain of over 1 point, touching 64½, closing near the top. New 1926 highs were registered by Inspiration, Utah and Greene Cananea coppers, Montana Power, Commercial Solvents B, Safety Razor, Virginia Iron, Coal and Coke and Baldwin B.

MONEY STEADY

Call money renewed at 5 per cent and held steady at that rate all day, with plenty of funds available. Time money and commercial paper rates were unchanged.

Active wheat futures dropped 1½ cents a bushel on supposed improved crop prospects in Europe. Cotton closed slightly lower and sugar was unchanged and coffee recovered yesterday's loss.

A sharp rally in French francs, much of which was lost, followed dull trading in the foreign exchanges. The demand rate or Paris closed above 3.30 cents. Demand sterling was slightly easier around the close and other European rates showed only nominal changes.

Slump Seen as Correction ... Technical Condition

NEW YORK, Nov. 10. (AP)—Reactionary tendencies in today's stock market reflected speculative disappointment over the relatively small increase in the October unfilled orders of the United States Steel Corporation, and the failure of the directors of the Rock Island Railroad to declare a dividend on the common stock at today's meeting. Profit-taking was rather general and extensive selling took place in spots, with the result that many issues closed to 2½ points lower on the day.

The Steel Corporation reported for quarters to show a gain of 150,000 to 200,000 tons in orders, as reported an increase of only 80,000 tons. Steel common closed 1½ points lower at 146½, after having fluctuated between 148 1-8 and 146 1-4. Rock Island common sold down as low as 68 1-4, but intimations by directors that dividend action would be taken in December sent the stock back to 66 3-4, where it was off only 84 at the day

In view of the recent sharp advance in many issues and the threatened reduction of the short interest, today's selling was regarded in some quarters as a natural correction, temporarily weakened technical position. Pools in several issues continued to mark up their favorites, the theory that the bullish possibilities of lower money rates and reduced income taxes coupled with prospects of special developments in those issues had not been exhausted.

MOTORS LOWER

General Motors, dividend action of which is due after the close tomorrow, showed a net loss of 1 34 between 147 3-4 and 151 1-4 during the many other popular industrial issues to sell off a point or more. Allied Chemical, American Smelting, Baldwin Consolidated Gas, Paramount Players, Fox Film International Harvester, Postum Cereal, Standard Oil of New Jersey and Western Union. Gimbel Brothers and Pathe both made new lows.

Rubbers were strong despite reports from Akron of an early cut in tire prices. United States Rubber showed an extreme gain of over 3 points, touching 64½, closing near the top. New 1926 highs were recorded by Inspiration, Utah and Greene Cananea coppers, Montana Power, Commercial Solventa B, Safety Cable, Virginia Iron, Coal and Coke and Pullman B

MONEY STEADY

Call money renewed at 4 1-4 per cent and held steady at that rate all day, with plenty of funds available. Time money and commercial paper rates were unchanged

Active wheat futures dropped 1 to 1½ cents a bushel on reports of improved crop prospects in Argentina. Cotton closed slightly lower. Raw sugar was unchanged and coffee prices recovered yesterday's losses.

A sharp rally in French francs, much of which was lost, featured a dull trading in the foreign exchange market. The demand rate or Paris closing was above 3.20 cents. Demand sterling was slightly easier around $4.86 1-2 and other European rates showed only nominal changes.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, Nov. 10. (AP)—The underlying ease of money conditions held the bond market firm today but trading was devoid of any particular feature. Funds continued to seek investment, with medium-priced issues favored over the bonds of the highest grade.

Railroad liens made the best showing, as new buying was attracted by the recent series of developments indicating that the carriers were now more prosperous than at any time since the war. Baltimore and Ohio 5s, Florida East Coast 4s, New York Central 4s, Norfolk and Western convertible 6s, Lehigh Valley 5s, Frisco, "Katy" and New Haven issues changed hands at prices ranging from fractions to more than 3 points higher.

Wide fluctuations in Granby Consolidated Mining 7s continued to attract attention. After soaring more than 10 points yesterday to a record high price, the bonds ran into the inevitable wave of profit taking today, slumping 5 points to 136.

Except for the establishment of a 1926 high price by French 8s, there were few developments of importance in the foreign division. Belgian obligations were firm, but failed to reach their recent peaks, and South American city bonds were active.

Liquic Carbonic 6s, Western Union 5s, American Writing Paper 6s, and Superior Oil 7s were the most popular issues in the industrial section.

The quotations represent sales of bonds (in thousands of dollars,) and the high, low and closing prices in the order given. No possible transaction, close is omitted when sales or low and both low and close values, same as high.

Wheat Futures Lower; Corn Up Shade and Firm

CHICAGO, Nov. 10. (Exclusive)—Trading in wheat was not large and mainly of a local character, with considerable evening-up for the armistice Day holiday. Sufficient pressure from houses with eastern connections developed toward the last to carry the December off rather sharply, and it went to it under May and the finish on all deliveries was about the bottom, with not issues of 1@1¼c with December 1.40¾@1.40¾. May 1.43¾@1.43¾ and July 1.37¾.

Corn showed a firm undertone throughout the day and closed unchanged to ¼c higher, the latter on December. The finish was within a fraction of the bottom, due to evening up operations for the holiday and the government report due after the close, with December 70¾@70¼c, or 3¼c under May, while July was 81¾c. Oats lost ¼ @¾c, with December 41¾@42¾c and May 47¾c. Rye declined ¾c, with December 146c and May 1.04¾.

Wheat traders continue to keep close watch on developments in the Southern Hemisphere, especially in Argentina. Weather conditions in the latter country were reported as more favorable, although a private cable estimated the crop at 211,695,000 bushels, and the exportable surplus at 136,000,000 bushels, the latter being 17,000,000 bushels under the recent Morrat figure. Argentine shippers are commencing to offer more wheat for forward shipment and harvest has commenced in the northern sections. Buenos Aires closed 1@1½c higher, after being slightly easier earlier in the day.

There was nothing in the domestic situation that attracted much attention, and Australian cables claimed conditions in all sections in that country were favorable. Export demand at the seaboard was slow, with sales estimated at only 200,000 bushels, including some red winter to France. Indications are for an early settlement of the British coal strike.

There was fairly good buying of corn futures early, headed by a strong commission house and also buying of corn against sales of wheat. Sentiment generally was less bearish and the price advanced around 1c, with selling against offers a factor in checking the upturn. Toward the last some of the early buyers took the selling side and caused a reaction and there was also evening up for the government report. Country offerings to arrive were small and shipping demand fair, with the spot basis steady to 1c higher.

Buying of oats by local operators offset to a large extent the effect of commission house selling. Winnipeg was weak and 1¼@1¾c lower. There was exchanging between December and May at 4½c difference. The weekend report showed better export demand for rye, with sales of 204,000 bushels estimated, but there was no buying of futures of consequence and the weakness in wheat was reflected to a lower close.

With the short interest in lard well reduced on Tuesday's bulge, and a little more selling pressure without any buying power of consequence, lard prices declined and closed at around the lowest of the day, with net losses of 12½@27½c, distant deliveries leading. Trading in all was limited. Lard in Liverpool showed more strength and was 3@6s higher, short ribs were unchanged to 2½c lower, the latter for January. Bellies were 30c lower. Cash trade was moderate. Hogs declined to the lowest of the season, with losses of 10@15c.

LOS ANGELES MARKET

CATTLE—Trading yesterday was a slow and dragey affair on the bulk of offerings, which was the plainer grades of she stock, largely southwesterns. The small supply of steers and good cows and heifers sold readily on a strong to 25 cents higher basis, while the plain grades of the stock were very slow sellers at steady to weak prices.

Two cars of medium 962 and 1022-pound steers went over for 8.00. Load lots of steers averaging around 960 pounds for feeding purposes cashed from 7.40@7.60, while odd lots of weighty rough kinds sold down to 6.75, with light weight kinds, mostly southwesterns, from 5.75@6.00.

Only a few lots of good cows and heifers were offered and these sold readily mostly from 6.00@6.40, while the bulk, common and medium kinds cashed from 4.75@5.75, mostly from 5.00@5.60. Cutters went over largely from 3.00@4.25, with low cutters down to 2.00. Bulls ruled strong to 25 cents higher, good bulls selling from 5.50@5.75 with common and medium kinds from 4.00@5.25.

CALVES—Active demand cleaned up most of yesterday's supply at about steady prices. Two loads of medium 361-pound southwestern realized 9.00, with heavies averaging 337 pounds out at 8.50. Other calves sold within the above while common kinds and extreme heavies sold down to 8.00.

HOGS—The small supply was cleaned up readily at steady to 20 cents higher prices, the mixed and light light butchers holding the steady mark. A load of choice 191-pound butchers topped at 14.35, while three loads of mixed 165 to 170-pound weights went over from 13.60@13.75. The latter price also took in a small lot of 180 pound trucked in butchers, while cut outs sold down to 12.75. A small lot of packing sows made 11.00, with odd head at 12.00.

SHEEP—Offerings yesterday consisted of two decks of ewes. They arrived late and had not sold at a late hour. Choice lightweight ewes were quotable up to 7.50, with medium to choice lambs from 12.00@13.50 and cull and common lambs from 9.00@12.00.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, Nov. 10. (AP)—Conflicting cross currents of prices again ran through the curb market today, giving it a spotty appearance. Trading showed a further falling off in volume, and was confined largely to professional operators.

The report of another increase of more than 25,000 barrels in crude oil production last week was offset, in part, by an advance in certain grades of Spindletop crude prices. Active issues in both the Standard and miscellaneous groups moved within narrow and irregular limits.

In the industrial group, New 1926 peak prices were attained by American Seating, Bancitaly Corporation, Continental Tobacco, Estey Welte, Home Insurance and International Projector, while Central Leather preferred (when issued) and Ford of Canada broke to new low prices, the latter slumping 11 points to 350 as against a high of 655 earlier in the year.

Warner Pictures B rallied over 2 points at the expense of an overcrowded short interest, and got buying was noted in American Cynamid, Chicago Nipple and Todd Shipping, but United Biscuit, National Casket and Atlas Portland Cement were heavy.

Public Utilities pointed upward with the strength of American Light and Traction and Electric Bond and Share as the outstanding features.

The closing price is omitted when same as the low and both low and close when same as the high.

GOOPS!

A Daily Lesson in Manners for Children

BY GELETT BURGESS

[Copyright: 1926: By The Chicago Tribune.]

"I DON'T KNOW."
When you don't know, don't try to bluff!
For "I don't know" is good enough.
Perhaps you'll learn by so confessing,
Instead of merely idly guessing.
Although you ought to know, be true!
Don't, like a Goop, pretend you do!

OIL NEWS

BY HOWARD C. KEGLEY

The Associated Oil Company is preparing to set casing in its Cypress wildcat well in the eastern part of Inglewood near the Potrero Country Club, it was reported yesterday. The crew has reamed to within fifty feet of the bottom and six-inch pipe will be set somewhere between 4375 and 4400 feet, it was said. The hole is said to be in bad mechanical condition, due to a cave-in at about 4000 feet, which is given as one of the reasons for setting the casing. Bottom of the well is 4450 feet.

Unofficially it is said the casing will be set at 4395 feet, and that the Associated will seize the opportunity to make a production test of the showings it has had below 4400 feet. The Associated is said to have had good showings between 4400 and 4450 feet, some reports indicating that the sands penetrated may be sufficient to warrant the hope of production.

Drilling ahead after its unsuccessful water shut-off at 3950 feet, the Associated found a cavity extending to about 4000 feet, and this caused considerable mechanical difficulty. The cavity is believed by geologists to be due to a slight fault zone.

Near Completion

The Marland Oil Company should have two more wells on production in the Seal Beach district within the next two or three days. Yesterday the Marland was running six-inch pipe into both its Bixby No. 3 and No. 4 wells to serve as an oil string.

Bixby No. 3 made 1800 barrels a day on production test last week, and No. 4 made 2600 barrels a day, both wells being only a few feet in the sand. The oil string in each well is being set 4485 feet, giving about fifty feet of zone and the additional penetration is expected to result in a substantial increase over the original rate of production.

The Marland Oil Company also has set a water string in its Selover well at 4720 feet, which is about twenty-five feet off bottom. The Selover has been having showings for the past 100 feet, and is about at the point where commercial production is expected.

Calpet Builds Plant

The California Petroleum Corporation is building a new gasoline plant in the west end of the city of Huntington Beach, according to field reports. The new plant will supplement the old plant in the original Huntington Beach field, which the California Petroleum Corporation acquired when it bought the California Gasoline Company a year ago. The old plant also is being expanded, and the two plants are being connected by a sixteen-inch gas line, of about one and one-half miles in length.

Gets Good Well

The Chanslor-Canfield Midway Oil Company, now practically the only operator drilling any new wells in the old Torrance field, has brought in a 550-barrel well on its Del Amo property, according to field reports. The new well is the Del Amo No. 44, drilled to 3660 feet. This is the largest well the C.C.M.O. has brought in at Torrance for many months.

Election is Near

With only a few days remaining before the citizens of Huntington Beach decide whether they wish more of the town opened for oil drilling a tense feeling is in the atmosphere. The election is to be held here this week. If the restrictions are lifted no drilling will take place in the now closed district until December 3. City Trustees will not canvass the vote until the night of the 22nd inst and ten days must elapse after the vote is canvassed before drilling may start.

Many oil men in Huntington Beach do not believe that there is oil under the portion at present closed to drilling, according to reports.

Drills on Beach

The Standard Oil Company sprang another surprise in the western section of Huntington Beach yesterday, when it jumped from the bluff between the Pacific Electric tracks, to the sand just above the high tide mark. Three new rigs are being erected on the sand almost where the waves will wash their foundation. Reports are to the effect that the Standard intends to drill all along the ocean front and in this way offset the wells on the northern side of Ocean avenue.

The lease upon which the wells are being drilled was secured from the Pacific Electric Company. At the point where the derricks are being erected on the sand there is not enough room between the railroad tracks and the edge of the bluff to allow a rig so the rigs were set down on the sand.

Near Completion

Two new wells are expected to come in at Brea Canyon in the next day or two.

The Birch Oil Company has just completed the drilling of its No. 1-A at 5415 feet and this well from 4200 to bottom showed oil sand and with a pay zone of over 1100 feet.

The Shell Company in the completion of its Orange 11 made 5317 feet of hole and from 3239 to bottom found most of the formation oil sand and is putting in more than 3000 feet of perforated casing.

The Nugent Oil Company is not altogether satisfied with its Damon 1, a recent completion at 9187. The well is not capable of making more than eighty barrels and the Nugent Company has under consideration the proposition of carrying it deeper.

Official Report

Oil-field operations reported to State Oil and Gas Supervisor R. D Bush during the week ending the 6th inst., show twenty-five new wells started, as compared with thirty-four during the previous week. Of the twenty-five notices to drill filed this week, nine were for wells in the Huntington Beach field, one each in the Dominguez, Long Beach, Seal Beach, Rosecrans fields, one in Los Angeles county, three in the fields of Ventura county, one in San Luis Obispo county, one in Santa Cruz county and six in the fields of Kern county. The total new wells this year is 1135, as compared with 1170 at the same date last year.

Tests for water shut-off this week numbered twenty-seven, as compared with thirty during the previous week. Yearly totals to date, 1191; total to same date last year, 1266.

Deepening or redrilling jobs this week numbered fifteen, the same number as during the previous week. Total to date this year, 911; total to same date last year, 832.

Abandonments this week numbered thirteen, the same number as during the preceding week. Total to date this year, 424; total to same date last year, 383.

VERDICT DENOUNCED

"There is nothing one can say about a situation like this," he said, when asked for a comment. "The verdict shows that the super-rule of the gang is still supreme in this community."

Health Is Easy To Attain

Bakersfield, Calif.—"When I was in a nervous, run-down state of health, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and Favorite Prescription, taken alternately, as advised, proved excellent in restoring me to health and in quieting my nerves. After I had taken other remedies advised by my friends, and not gaining in strength, I finally wrote Dr. Pierce a letter stating my condition and it was thru following his advice and taking these two remedies, the 'Favorite Prescription' and the 'Golden Medical Discovery,' which I bought at the drug store, that I began to gain strength and the hysterical nervousness disappeared."—Mrs. Lois Owen, 1215 Owens St., Sta. Presses for Printing Faked Labels Declared Seized

Action Ends Investigation of Several Weeks

Of twenty-seven true bills returned by the United States grand jury yesterday, fifteen charge officials, drivers and clerks of three local companies with conspiring to violate the national prohibition act. The companies named are accused in the indictments of working in co-operation with each other to manufacture and sell not only bootleg liquor but also containers and the spurious labels they bore.

The companies named are the W. J. Latchford Company, 7419 South Roseberry avenue; the Angelus Bottling and Supply Company at 933 South Maple street, and the Bohemian Distributing Company at 2140 Sacramento street. Proprietors of all three appear in the list of indictments. Five of the fifteen named have not yet been arrested.

WORKED FOR WEEKS

Federal prohibition officers worked on the case for weeks before they could accumulate enough evidence to justify the indictments, they reported yesterday.

When the seizures were made, the round-up included not only the persons found in possession of liquor, but also those having any connection with the manufacture and distribution of bottles and labels. What was said to be a complete printing plant for the manufacture of fake liquor labels was included in the seizures.

Those named in the true bills, are: W. J. Latchford, reputed proprietor of the company bearing his name, who was arrested September 18, last, and released on his own recognizance.

Marcel Mayer, driver for the Latchford Company, arrested at the same time and released on his own recognizance.

Joseph Granas, proprietor of the Angelus Bottling and Supply Company, arrested at the same time and released on bond of $1500.

John Carboy, clerk for the bottling company; arrested September 18 last and released on bond of $1000.

Joe Casino, driver for the bottling company, arrested the same date and released on his own recognizance.

FIVE STILL SOUGHT

Frank Vitale, part proprietor of the Bohemian Distributing Company, not yet arrested.

Jake Fato, part proprietor of the Bohemian Distributing Company, not yet arrested.

Chester Erickson, driver, arrested September 18 and released on his own recognizance.

W. A. Gerard, Harry Cohen and G. S. Clark, connected with the Elgin Sales Company, 1322 East Seventy-seventh street, not yet arrested.

A. L. Doudy, alias James Ellison, 641 South Berendo street; arrested September 18 for possession of liquor.

Joseph G. Martin and Frank D. Davidson, 716 South Berendo street, arrested on the same date on the same charge.

James A. Love, 4017 North Vendome street, arrested the same day, released on $1000 bond.

According to information on which the indictments were based, bootleggers were receiving liquor and bottles from the Angelus Bottling and Supply Company and the Bohemian Distributing Company. The bottles, Federal officers charged, were being manufactured by the Latchford company, whose officials are charged with knowledge that they were being used for liquor. The Elgin Sales Company, it is charged, was printing spurious liquor labels under the guise of an innocent name.

Twelve other indictments were returned by the Federal body.

J. B. McCarthy, formerly teller for the Merchants' National Bank, accused of getting away with $5900 of the bank's money, is charged with the misapplication of funds. He is in custody awaiting trial, officers said.

AUTO THEFT CHARGE

Noel Lucas and Hoo Fong Moon are named for violations of the Harrison Narcotic Act.

Lorenzo Helstman, Henry G. Marshall, Edward F. Smith and Denton E. Holt are accused of stealing automobiles.

Russell Hanlon, arrested recently and charged with sending obscene matter through the United States mails, is accused of writing letters to a former sweetheart after he had been rejected in favor of his rival.

Iyeuobu Mimasu, Hatsuichi Horiu and Jee Gay Chee are charged with smuggling aliens.

Thomas R. Graham, former postal clerk, was indicted for stealing from the mails. He is declared to have rifled letters for a pair of tickets to a football game.

STAGS TO HAVE OWN RAIL CAR

New Accommodations Will be Provided on Run From Here to Bay City

A "stag" car for the exclusive use of male travelers, is the latest innovation in train service of the Southern Pacific between Los Angeles and San Francisco. The service will be inaugurated Sunday on the Owl.

Adjoining the club car, social center for men on the train, the stag car will be conveniently located for the bachelor, who is woman shy, the man who is gallant and frequently surrenders his lower berth to women when traveling, the husband making a business trip, and just mere man.

tion at this time be characterized as "chaotic."

"There is room for only fifty-nine broadcasting stations within the practical range of wave-lengths and yet at this moment there are more than 500 broadcasting stations in operation," he said. "The result is a great amount of interference, especially in the middle western section of the country. No laws exist to regulate this condition at present. Legislation was attempted during the last Congress, but it was not found possible for the legislators to agree on any one of the three plans for regulation proposed. I hope better results will be attained at the next Congress."

In conclusion Mr. Hoover spoke briefly of the Colorado River development, stating that he believes the coming Congress will take action in this matter. "This development is a vital necessity and should have the earliest possible attention," he declared. Mr. Hoover will leave for Washington tomorrow.

EXPERT ON AMNESIA WILL GO UNDER KNIFE

Dr. Samuel M. Marcus, nerve specialist and expert on amnesia cases, will be operated on for appendicitis at St. Vincent's Hospital this morning. Dr. Marcus attracted national attention by his findings in the case of Jerry Tarbot, 'America's unknown soldier," whose identity was revealed recently at the American Legion convention after all memory of his past had vanished for eight years.

M'PHERSON CASE JUDGES PICKED

own department, and Judge McLucas has been sitting therein during my year of incumbency as presiding judge of the Superior Courts of this county. The case of People vs. McPherson will therefore be tried before Judge McLucas if brought to trial prior to January 1, 1927, and before me if tried thereafter.

[Signed] "ALBERT LEE STEPHENS, "Presiding Judge."

Judge Stephens issued his statement after a conference with Judge Keetch, who, by rule of the judges, usually assigns criminal cases.

KEETCH'S STATEMENT

Judge Keetch issued the following statement:

"I have no interest whatsoever in the McPherson case. I do not know the woman. My only interest in the case was during the time before the old grand jury when I took steps to prevent the jurors from doing something they had no right to do. That was the issuing of a statement on the McPherson case, which they contemplated doing.

"Although I could try the case, I am not going to. I am not legally disqualified or in any other way disqualified from acting. Nominally I am known as the presiding judge of the criminal division of the Superior Court.

"Under the law there is only one presiding judge. The judges, however, have a rule permitting one of the criminal judges to act as assistant to the presiding judge, and under that authority I usually assign the cases.

"I have conferred with Judge Stephens, who is the only judge regularly qualified to assign cases. I referred the case to him and he is to make the assignment, so it will not be said that I had any interest in the case."

The evangelist's mother, Mrs. Minnie Kennedy, and Mrs. Lorraine Wiseman, confessedly perpetrator of the Carmel "Miss X" hoax, are Mrs. McPherson's co-defendants, and will face trial before a jury with her on conspiracy charges.

Dist.-Atty. Keyes and Dep. Dist.-Attys. Dennison and Murray now are preparing an information which is to be filed in the Superior Court. They have thirty days in which to file the information and when it is filed Mrs. McPherson and her co-defendants will be summoned into court for arraignment and for the fixing of a date for the trial.

BENEDICT ILL

While chief interest was focused on the naming of a judge several other important developments marked yesterday's trend of the case. They were:

H. C. Benedict, owner of the Carmel seaside cottage made famous by the McPherson case, who is ill, showed a slight improvement during the day.

Mrs. McPherson and her mother were served with the summons in the $1,000,000 slander suit filed against them by Mrs. Vira Kimball, twin sister of Mrs. Wiseman.

District Attorney's investigators started new investigation to substantiate highly important brief-case testimony given by State's witnesses during the McPherson preliminary hearing before Municipal Judge Blake.

The fact that Mr. Benedict, one of the prosecution's most important witnesses in connection with the Carmel phase of the case as a result of the admission of Kenneth G. Ormiston, fugitive radio 'engineer' that he occupied the bungalow with a "Miss X" for ten days during last May, is ill, was learned when Chief of Detectives Cohn went to Carmel to have Mr. Benedict attempt to identify a pair of black satin slippers found in Ormiston's "little blue trunk."

Mr. Cohn returned to Los Angeles yesterday from Carmel and said that he made no attempt to visit the Benedict home on account of the illness of Mr. Benedict. Dispatches were received from Carmel yesterday that Mr. Benedict spent a slightly better day. Little hope is held for his recovery, however.

Dr. Charles H. Lowell, his physician, said Mr. Benedict is very low and that he is suffering from a disease said to have been complicated by nervousness brought on by the publicity he received since his bungalow figured in the case.

Ormiston's mystery woman companion who, the State charges, was Mrs. McPherson, wore black satin slippers, according to Mr. Benedict's testimony. Mr. Keyes said yesterday that in event of the death of Mr. Benedict it will be necessary to read his testimony before a jury in Superior Court.

The papers in the $1,000,000 slander suit were served on Mrs. McPherson and Mrs. Kennedy by Frank Lorenzo, employee of a legal newspaper. Mr. Lorenzo asserted the religious leader and her mother received him "very cordially," but expressed surprise at being served personally as they thought "the papers would be served on our attorneys."

Actress Ready for Her Nuptials

Preliminary to the Ceremony

Laura La Plante warns William Seiter of the approaching date, just after they obtained their marriage license.

SEITER GETS HIGH HAT TO BE MARRIED

Laura La Plante Will be Wed to Film Man Sunday by Rev. Dr. Frank Dyer

At some haberdashery in Los Angeles yesterday a tall nervous gentleman negotiated the purchase of a silk hat.

That would be William Alfred Seiter, motion-picture director, arraying himself for his nuptials. Seiter yesterday also invested $2 in a license to wed blond Laura La Plante of the films. Great doings marked the evening in Hollywood last night, what with a dinner Miss La Plante gave to her wedding attendants at her home at 820 Maple avenue, and a little jamboree staged by Seiter for his best man, Reginald Denny, and his ushers, at the Montmartre.

Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock, the services of Dr. Frank Dyer have been engaged for the wedding ceremony, and the place will be his Wilshire Boulevard Congregational Church. Miss La Plante's cousin, Mrs. R. H. McCann, it was announced yesterday, will substitute for Julanne Johnson, originally named as one of the bridesmaids who cannot attend the bride because of a family bereavement.

REPUBLICANS IN VICTORY RALLY

of the State will indicate the undesirability of such a move.

"Blood relatives have the right and the habit," he said, "of plain speaking and it is often useful to clear the air. The north and the south are in a large vision interlocked by a thousand visible and invisible bonds. These bonds have grown steadily under our wonderful development.

"Separation was more a practical issue when it took two weeks to communicate, than today when it takes two minutes. The growing influence of California in the nation is based on its greatness as an economic and political unit in the greatest federation of sovereign States of all history."

Secretary Hoover warned those outside of the State not to conclude that "California is "approaching any schism in our family."

"Mount Shasta and Mount Wilson," he concluded amid applause, "our valleys and mountains, our trees, our parks, our streams, the most progressive and happiest people in the world—are the joint spiritual possessions of all of us. None of us will surrender our rights of sentiment and pride in them."

Mr. Young, who spoke to the same effect, digressed to utter a reassuring word to the other States of the Southwest concerning California's attitude on the Colorado River compact.

Indorsing the action of the California Legislature, first in approving a six-State pact with the so-called Finney reservations, and, second, in declining to repeal the reservations at a special legislative session called last month by Gov. Richardson, Mr. Young said the reservations, in his opinion, are necessary to the full protection of the rights of this State.

Speaking in expectancy of his own gubernatorial authority after January 1, the Governor-elect said the Finney reservations do not jeopardize the interests of the other States. He said he feels justified in saying the California Legislature will ratify the six-State compact without reservations twenty-four hours after the Swing-Johnson bill is approved by Congress.

He spoke at some length on the pressing need for enactment of the proposed Colorado River legislation now before Congress, and said he believes if the legislation as proposed is not approved during the forthcoming short session of Congress it will receive a serious set-back.

Senator Shortridge, who expects to leave at once for Washington, recited the achievements of Republicanism and elicited laughter and applause when he said Republican success always brings blessings—both upon the victor and the vanquished—whereas Democratic victory always is followed by national disaster.

Concerning agitation for the creation of a separate State of Southern California, the Senator said that as one State California has a great and proud past, and as one State a greater and more splendid future.

Ralph Arnold, chairman of the Los Angeles County Republican Central Committee, who served as toastmaster, introduced Joseph Schenck, vice-president of the Republican State Central Committee; Charlie L. Neumiller, chairman of the State Central Committee, and several Republicans elected at the recent election. These included Joe Crail, Congressman-elect in the Tenth District, and W. E. Evans of Glendale, Congressman-elect in the Ninth District.

A telegram expressing regret at his inability to be present was read from Buron R. Fitts, Lieutenant-Governor-elect.

ARMISTICE DAY HONORS HEROES

CLAREMONT UNITES IN COMMUNITY PROGRAMS

CLAREMONT, Nov. 10.—Claremont will observe Armistice Day tomorrow with two celebrations. Beginning at 9:30 a.m., a community college service will be conducted in Bridges Hall. Dean C. H. Rieber of the University of California in Los Angeles will give the principal address, which will be followed by drill and salutes by the Pomona College R. O. T. C., and playing of the "Star Spangled Banner" by the military band.

The afternoon exercises will be at the Claremont Woman's Club with members of the American Legion, auxiliary and D. A. R. as the guests of the club at 2:30 o'clock.

TAFT WILL BE KERN COUNTY HOST

TAFT, Nov. 10.—Kern county will be Taft's guest tomorrow to celebrate the anniversary of signing the World War armistice. One of the most colorful Armistice Day programs ever arranged in Kern county has been arranged by the American Legion of Taft and the holiday spirit will be observed as business throughout the county ceases for the day.

Ten thousand visitors will pour into the city during the early morning hours, it is believed, to be present when the celebration commences, with an Armistice Day parade at 10 a.m. The parade will be more than two miles in length and the size of it will necessitate a march divided into fourteen sections.

REDLANDS TO SEE PLAY BY LEGION

REDLANDS, Nov. 10.—Stores here will be closed tomorrow and business will be at a standstill on Armistice Day.

The schools will have programs in the morning and will be closed in the afternoon. The football team of Redlands High will play with Riverside High on the local field. There will be no exercises as the American Legion is putting on a play tonight.

HUNTINGTON PARK PLANS VARIED PROGRAM

HUNTINGTON PARK, Nov. 10.—Armistice Day will be celebrated here tomorrow with a parade, football game and a grand Armistice Day dance. The parade, at 10 o'clock in the morning, will pass through the principal streets, ending at Municipal Park, where a musical program will be given, as well as speeches by Mayor Scofield of this city and Leonard Wilson, past commander of Los Angeles county council.

In the afternoon there will be a football game at Reeder's Field, and at night a grand ball. Plans have been made to make this the greatest Armistice Day celebration ever held in the city. The stores have made an agreement to close from 10 until 1:30 o'clock.

TEACHERS NOW; SOLDIERS THEN

gineers in France, while another member of the electrical engineering department, Prof. William T. Angermann, instructor in mechanical engineering, saw two years' service with the One Hundred and Third Machine-gun Battalion at Chemin De Dames, Toul, Chateau Thierry, St. Mihiel and the Argonne.

Prof. Arthur W. Nye of the department of physics was physicist of the Ordinance Department of the United States Army during 1918-1919.

Prof. Reuel L. Olson of the school of law, whose first wartime duty was with the Three Hundred and Sixteenth ammunition train, went overseas with the Ninety-first division as regimental sergeant-major. After the 1918 armistice he received a special assignment as a student to the University of Poitiers, France, where he was awarded Officer d'Academie (French Academic Palms.)

VOCATIONS CHANGED

Ray MacDonald, professor of stagecraft in the school of speech for eighteen months was master hospital sergeant in the medical service in France, enlisting from the University of Michigan.

Harry T. Corey, professor of civil engineering during 1917-1918, acted as director general of foreign relief, American Red Cross. Prof. Hugh C. Willett, now head of the department of mathematics, although finally a first lieutenant in the field artillery, enlisted in the aviation service. Prof. William T. La Porte, head of the department of physical education, was commissioned as a lieutenant of infantry.

Thurston H. Ross, of the college of commerce, became a member of the air service in May, 1917, was attached to an English and then a Canadian squadron in France.

Another flyer now on the Trojan faculty is H. Dean Campbell. Also on the commerce teaching staff, is Prof. D. S. Jeppson, whose service with the Fifth Marines as early as 1917 included much actual fighting on the soil of France.

Emery S. Olson, lecturer in the college of commerce and metropolitan college, bore the insignia of flying cadet in the United States Aviation Corps when the armistice was signed.

Now Professor of Philosophy Wilbur H. Long saw service at Camp Meade as lieutenant in the Signal Corps, after enlisting with the Thirty-first Infantry, Ninety-first Division, at Camp Lewis, Washington.

SEES ACTION

Head of the department of civil engineering, Prof. Robert M. Fox saw action between 1918 and 1920 as a captain with the engineers in France, while Prof. William D. Burby, faculty member of the school of law, was another cadet flyer preceding the armistice.

Coach Thomas H. Davis has memories of molding youth for hard combat mingled with his Armistice Day reveries, for at that time he was military instructor at Pomona College, Claremont, wearing the shoulder bar of a lieutenant in the United States Infantry. Coach Bill Hunter is another "war vet" as well as Prof. I. Roy Malcolm of the department of political science, and Dean Fiske, manager of the associated students' store in the Trojan camp.

Active now in various pursuits at the local university is also a coterie of "women war workers," including Miss Edith Weir, appointment bureau director; Miss Pattie Baird, manager of the book shop at metropolitan college, and Miss Grace D. Walker, director of the news bureau all three of whom served with the American Red Cross overseas during months preceding and following the armistice.

WOMEN HAVE MEMORIES

In addition, Miss Marguerite Bryant, secretary to the dean of women at U.S.C. canteened with the Y.M.C.A. in France and Miss Sarah Johnson, librarian at metropolitan college, University of Southern California, saw active service at the front as a member of the American nurses' legion in France.

Lieut.-Col. R. B. Von Kleinsmid and Lieut.-Col. Warren B. Bovard, R.O.T.C., are proof that the president of Southern California and its comptroller, respectively, are still "at the service" of Uncle Sam as they were during the World War. Comptroller Bovard, after becoming a member of the commanding officers' staff at Kelly Field, Texas, was made a member of the general staff of the Army at Washington, with a major's commission.

Wearing the anchor of the Navy on his cap, Ensign Ray Brockman, U.S.N. Reserves, assistant manager of student activities at the university also is still "carrying on" in that branch of the service, after officer activity in the turmoil of nations on land and sea which terminated with the signing of the armistice just eight years ago.

SANTA ANA IN GALA DRESS FOR CELEBRATION

SANTA ANA, Nov. 10.—Santa Ana is in gala dress today expecting to be host to 50,000 persons within her gates tomorrow, the gala dress to welcome the multitudes which will come to the Orange county armistice celebration arranged by the Santa Ana post of the American Legion.

A parade will move off at 11 a.m., being followed by one minute of silence in tribute to the memory of the American soldiers dead. Jules Markel, commander of the Santa Ana post, is general chairman of the celebration committee.

VAN NUYS RODEO TO FEATURE PROGRAM

The Van Nuys American Legion post has planned a rousing celebration for today that will begin with a parade at 10:30 a.m. and end with a rodeo this afternoon. The rodeo will be featured by the appearance of Rose Smith, nationally famous horsewoman, prize-winner at Cheyenne and Madison Square Garden. According to W. L. Shaffer, who is in charge of arrangements, "the best there is in rodeo riding and stunts will be seen at our show."

COUPLE TO OBSERVE GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. John MacDonald of 7330 Fountain avenue will celebrate their golden-wedding anniversary Saturday. They came to California three years ago from Kingston, Ont., Can., where Mr. MacDonald for many years was editor of the Kingston Daily News and also held the position of secretary of the Board of Education. Mr. and Mrs. MacDonald were married in Ottawa, Ca.. They have two children, Mrs. H. D. Munroe of Beverly Hills and Mrs. W. T. Miller of Vancouver.

"IT HAS NEVER FAILED ME"

"I AM using a Swan Fountain Pen to write this letter. I bought it in 1899. The Swan trade-mark is still plainly visible on one side of the barrel, also the patent dates; it has never failed me."

This letter is from Mr. John A. Crisp, of Jefferson, Ohio. It is one of many hundreds in the same vein. Such letters have been accumulating in the files of Mabie Todd & Co., makers of Swan, since 1843.

Service records of twenty, thirty years are not at all unusual.

The reason is simple: Swan is not an ordinary factory pen. It is bench-made, tested and gauged to jeweler's standards. Quality never has, never will be sacrificed to quantity. There is no other pen like it—yet it costs no more than ordinary pens. Five, seven, nine dollars—priced according to size. Sold at the better stores.

Widest Concrete Street in San Bernardino

When you step from the train at San Bernardino, California, and pass through the depot, you are sure to notice the wide concrete pavement on Third Street. This is 180 feet from curb to curb—the widest concrete street in the country.

You will also notice that in spite of the heavy traffic which this pavement continually carries, there are no ruts, no bumps. The pavement is as true and even as when built. Cars don't skid on this pavement even in wet weather.

San Bernardino has been paving with concrete for six years. Today the city has a total that is rapidly approaching the 1,000,000 square yard mark.

Of course there is a reason. Concrete streets have practically no maintenance cost. First cost is practically last. Such paving proves a true investment.

More than 3,000 other cities in the United States know this from experience.

SUAVE CALLER FOOLS DOCTOR

Prospective Patient Turns Into Hold-up Man

Drawling Voice Becomes One of Danger Later

Victim Forced to Open Safe, But Loses Little

A sartorially elegant, cultured and courteous customer called at the offices of Dr. Louis C. Gumbiner, optometrist, at 536 Consolidated Building shortly before noon yesterday. Half an hour later Dr. Gumbiner explained to Detective Lieutenants Whaples and Martin that the man "was entirely too perfect to be true."

Dr. Gumbiner's feeling of admiration for his customer's sophisticated elegance first took the downward drop when the latter, drawling commonplaces of the day, reached casually into his inside coat pocket and brought to view a businesslike .45-caliber revolver around which he had wrapped some paper.

Dr. Gumbiner anticipated a casual recitation of the gun's history and ability. Instead, he found himself looking down into the barrel of the weapon. The customer was still drawling but on different note.

"Stick 'em up," he said lazily as Dr. Gumbiner laughed believing the by-play a joke.

"No, no, I'm in earnest," the erstwhile customer assured him. "Stand up, face the wall and kindly eliminate the language."

The customer then frisked his victim of his wallet and cash with practiced fingers and got about $20.

"I'm not to get rich on this job," he remarked and then ordered his victim to lie down on a couch. Then he went on a haphazard exploration of the offices. He opened desks, drawers, closets, peered over the papers on the desks and finally brought up at the safe. As one gentleman to another, he asked Dr. Gumbiner to open it but the visitor disregarded the contents after the safe was opened.

Then he departed, leaving Dr. Gumbiner trussed on the couch.

Bloody Coat Found in Street Puzzles Police

A bloody coat, slashed in three places as though with a long knife, was the subject of another police mystery yesterday.

The coat was found by C. L. Kimes of 2716 Trinity street, who turned it over to the University police.

The coa is of a light gray with green pin stripes, two-button front, gray lining, size about thirty-eight, and with a label bearing the name of Starke; "Zip," entered by Lew Cody, on the inside pocket.

Detective Lieutenants Casey and Filby have the coat in their possession and late yesterday were attempting to identify the owner by cleaner's marks.

Battle Maneuvers Begin as Armistice Day Ends

Rehearsals Completed for Practice Firing

The port roadstead from San Pedro to Long Beach this evening will be covered with anchored men-o'-war, with the rendezvous of the entire battle fleet for the third of the monthly tactical exercises, to be held off the coast tomorrow and Saturday. Sixty ships, including dreadnaughts, destroyers and submarines, together with 100 aircraft will participate in the spectacular maneuvers.

Although the exercises will be under the supervision of Admiral Richard H. Jackson, commander-in-chief, five separate force commanders will direct the maneuvers. Operations of the battleship divisions will be under Vice-Admiral Louis R. de Steiguer, on board the squadron flagship West Virginia. The destroyer squadrons will be directed by Rear-Admiral Luke McNamee; the aircraft squadrons by Capt. John N. Reeve; the submarine divisions by Capt. John T. Tompkins and train squadron No. 2 by Rear-Admiral W. W. Phelps.

SORTIE FROM PORT

Shortly after daylight tomorrow the fleet will make a sortie from the port, preceded by units of the mine squadron, which will sweep the channel clear of theoretical mine fields. Shortly before noon it is expected to be the object of attacks by "enemy" air squadrons, and again in the afternoon the air forces will attack the battleship squadron just before the fleet encounters the "enemy fleet" coming up from the south. The enemy, in this case, will be simulated by auxiliary ships of the train squadron.

The third and last phase of the problem will be completed about midnight tomorrow, when the destroyer squadrons, under Rear-Admiral McNamee, attempt to locate and launch a torpedo attack on the dreadnaught squadron.

REHEARSALS OVER

Following completion of the exercises the destroyer and aircraft squadrons will return to base at San Diego. The battleship division, train, submarine divisions and sonic division will return to Los Angeles Harbor.

The battleship divisions last night completed rehearsals for night battle practice B, to be fired during the nights of the 16th, 17th and 18th inst. Upon completion of last night's runs the U.S.S. Idaho and U.S.S. Mississippi proceeded to Santa Barbara and Santa Monica, respectively, for Armistice Day participation. They will return to base tonight.

The light cruiser Omaha, flagship of the destroyer squadrons, and the destroyers Percival, and Farquhar will arrive here on the 23rd inst., following completion of annual overhaul at the Puget Sound navy yard.

POINT WON BY ACTRESS IN LOVE SUIT

Mrs. Brewster's Lawyers Ask Vainly for Judgment Against Corliss Palmer

Corliss Palmer, screen actress, yesterday scored a point in the suit for $200,000 brought against her by Mrs. Eleanor Brewster, former wife of Eugene Brewster millionaire publisher, when Judge Fleming of Superior Court denied a motion of Mrs. Brewster's attorneys for an entry of judgment in the case based on the pleadings.

Mrs. Brewster's suit in the local court was an aftermath of a judgment she asserted she obtained in the New York courts against Miss Palmer for the asserted alienation of Brewster's affections. Brewster and Miss Palmer recently were married in Mexico after Brewster obtained a divorce in that country.

With the ruling of Judge Fleming yesterday it was stated the case will be set for trial in the regular fashion and Miss Palmer will have an opportunity to present her defense to the action in open court.

Mrs. Brewster stated in her complaint that she had obtained the $200,000 judgment against Miss Palmer in New York, but that Miss Palmer had failed to pay any of the amount. The suit brought here is an action to enforce the New York judgment against Miss Palmer in California.

Mrs. Brewster's attorneys asked for judgment on the pleadings on the ground that Miss Palmer's answer to the complaint did not constitute a defense, but Judge Fleming held the case should be tried in court.

Safety Plans Will be Topic at Conference

Safety will be the keynote of a meeting under the auspices of the Southern Society of Safety Engineers in the Union Oil Building, the 17th inst. The meeting is open to the general public.

Traffic safety motion pictures and addresses will be presented by Sergt. Johnson and Officer Law of the Police Department Bureau of Safety and the recommendation is to be given by Ray Wood of the Standard Oil Company.

Songs and readings are to be provided by Miss Ida Palmer and Elvia Allman, both of whom are known to KHJ listeners.

MORE REFUNDS
You can say this for the economy of Coolidge and Mellon—It is based on refundamental principles.

NO MAN'S COLLAR
Paris is starting an "Anti-Collar League." This may be popular among artists and musicians; but will it appeal to the politicians?

MAILED HEEL
Italy may be "the boot" of Europe, but it isn't strictly up-to-date. Those it has stepped on lately can testify that it isn't going in for rubber heels.

TWO KNEES
Fashion leaders say the correct length of skirts is just a little over two feet. However, there is an impression abroad that many of them are not even a little over two knees.

"PAINTER OF QUEENS"
Nicholas Vadasz, Hungarian artist, "painter of queens," is coming to paint the most beautiful woman in America. To fulfill his ambition he will have to gravitate to Hollywood.

CROSSINGS
In 1921 the number killed at grade crossings was 1705; in 1924 the number had risen to 2149. In this age of efficiency it would save time to locate cemeteries near crossings.

ITS MAJESTY.
Maybe the real secret reason why Queen Marie didn't come to California was that she feared even her queenliness might be overshadowed by the imperialness of our own Imperial Valley.

TANKING UP
New York has installed a motor-drawn tank truck holding 300 gallons of water for horses on the streets. That city seems to be more worried over the horses having water than the people.

PRIVATE SESQUI
San Francisco was founded 150 years ago and has been celebrating a sesquicentennial all by herself. Could this have been the counter-attraction that made the Philadelphia function a failure?

IN REBUTTAL
It is said that our national intelligence is steadily rising to higher standards. But it is hard to believe it when we see how many people still continue to try to beat the train to the grade crossing.

OVER THE TOP
San Francisco is building a skyscraper thirty-one stories high. When a city has such faith in its foundations the world is likely to accept the appraisal. This might be called the faith of the Phoenix.

THE INTELLIGENTSIA
College women get more knowledge, but college men are more intelligent, says N. Bradford Trenham, secretary of commission to study costs of education in California. Then is the intelligentsia masculine or feminine?

SHORE-LINE SINKING
Studies along the Atlantic seaboard in the neighborhood of New York are being conducted to find out whether the coast is sinking a foot or two each century or not. This is an important matter and should be looked into. The sinking of Tammany is immaterial.

WANT AD
The New York Times finds "dance rooms," "lounges," "inglenooks" and even "dining-rooms" in modern houses, but no parlors. It inquires wistfully, where have the parlors gone? There are no longer any "best rooms" to "shiver in." Lost—the old-time parlor.

MAKING MONEY
The United States mint struck off 20,259,000 coins during the month of October. They had a value of $1,937,550. Of this coinage 2,644,000 were quarters; 6,850,000 dimes; 7,100,000 nickles, 13,660,000 pennies. It might be well not to let Europe know how we make our money.

SLANG
An English professor of University College, Nottingham, discussing in the Observer the etymology and use of the word "slogan," confesses to a vague impression that it is of American origin. He adds, "Most contemporary English is." We are guilty! Our language is yet young enough to grow.

GAY GIRLS
An increasing death rate from tuberculosis among young girls is reported by the New York Tuberculosis Association. Among girls from 15 to 19 years of age the tubercular rate is 237 for every 100,000. With girls from 20 to 24 it is 370 for every 100,000. Parental restraint is resented during these ages. Little gayeties are assigned as the most prolific cause.

AFTER EIGHT YEARS
Eight years ago today there was signed at Chateau de Francfort a truce which marked the cessation of the most sanguinary, destructive and demoralizing war in the history of the human race. That truce was followed by the complete capitulation of a mighty armed force against which the rest of Europe had been contending for over four years and against which America had sent 2,000,000 men and armed as many more. A resounding cry of victory went up, and the heart of the world was thrilled by the prospect of peace.

Since that day great events have occurred indicative of the continuation of that peace, but in no period during the eight years that have passed since the first Armistice Day have there come to pass more significant events than during the last year—the signing of the Locarno security treaties, the admission of Germany to the League of Nations and our own restriction-hampered application for membership in the World Court.

Perhaps the most important and significant utterances made with reference to world peace were those of Aristide Briand and Gustav Stresemann at Geneva on the occasion of the admission of Germany to the League. Among the words of Stresemann were these:

It cannot be the purpose of the divine world order that men should direct their supreme national energies against one another. . . . He will serve humanity best who, firmly rooted in the faith of his own people, develops his moral and intellectual gifts to their highest significance, thus overtopping his own national boundaries and serving the whole of mankind. . . . The political outcome of these ideas is a moral obligation on the part of the different countries to devote their efforts to peaceful co-operations. Only on a basis of a community which includes all nationals without distinction and on a footing of perfect equality can the ideas of mutual assistance and justice become the true guiding stars of the destiny of mankind. . . . Germany desires to co-operate on the basis of mutual confidence with all nations represented in the League or upon the Council.

These sentiments, permanently transcribed upon the pages of history, mean much to the world and will mean more as time rolls by and Germany is found living up to them. They made a profound impression upon the assembled representatives of the League and were roundly applauded, as were those of Aristide Briand of France, which followed.

Said M. Briand:

We have finished with all the terrible and sanguinary conflicts which have stained the pages of history. No more war. No more shall we resort to brutal and bloody methods of settling our disputes, even though differences between us still exist. Henceforth it will be for the judge to declare the law. Away with rifles, machine guns, cannon! Clear the way for conciliation, arbitration, peace!

Henceforth our road is one of peace and progress. We shall win greatness for our countries if we induce them to lay aside their pride and persuade them to sacrifice certain of their own desires in the service of world peace. It is for us to insure that no imprudence on the part of any of us will endanger the hopes of the peoples of the world.

Tolerance and a desire for mutual understanding, enter largely into the words of these former belligerents. These sentiments often have been expressed by President Coolidge, and he utters them again in his recent Armistice Day proclamation, the first of the kind ever issued by a President of this country. Therein the President calls upon the people to observe the day "with thanksgiving and prayer and exercises designed to perpetuate peace through good will and mutual understanding between nations."

Although the United States is not a member of the League of Nations, who doubts that the pledge of peace made by both Briand and Stresemann apply to this country as well as to those having seats in the Council? Nor can it be considered a matter of uncertainty that there is not a nation in all the world which does not share in that sentiment. Despite the fact that it is outside the League and has no real share in its deliberations, America appreciates and applauds these splendid gestures, and it is to be hoped that in today's program in California and other States of the Union, in accordance with the President's wish for the appropriate observance of Armistice Day, those sentiments of international amity will be echoed, emphasized and made our own.

EYES TO THE WEST
Los Angeles in 1928 will become the focal point for a significant gathering. From the far reaches of the Pacific Ocean, from China, Japan, Korea, the Philippines, the Hawaiian Islands, all over the oriental world will come a host of leaders in their respective lands to a great trade and commercial congress in this city. Its importance, however, will extend far beyond the mere fact of a business conference.

The meeting is being arranged under the guidance of the Pan-Pacific Union, which conducted a successful commercial congress in Honolulu in 1922. It is planned to make the Los Angeles session more pretentious and wider in its scope. Chief figures in the world of commerce will form the bulk of the delegations, but there will be included also educators, economists, bankers and others who will render the meeting one truly cosmopolitan in its purposes a well as racially.

While the trade stimulus to be derived from such a commingling of varied interests should be notable, even above that benefit will be the promotion of a better understanding among the nations bordering on the Pacific. History bears testimony to the fact that the cause of peace best is promoted by the weaving of strong commercial bonds, by the promotion of legitimate trade and the unification of nations in a common commercial endeavor. It is a no less well-established tenet that mankind ever presses West to develop its highest civilization.

The Pacific presents a unique problem. On the western edge of the American continent is the acme of occidental progress. On the other side of the Pacific is the Orient, just waking from its sleep of ages. To reconcile those two divergent peoples and interests forms a problem that is troubling the statesmen of the world.

It is in such a situation that the plans for a trade congress here are being developed. Problems of each nation and group represented as well as the difficulties besetting the entire gathering will be discussed with an aim of promoting better feeling, clearer understanding in future dealings. Trade opportunities bear the seeds of serious discord, but they also may be rendered by judicious handling and a clear comprehension of the facts into factors for the promotion of amity and the general progress.

With the experience gained from the session conducted in 1922 officials of the Pan-Pacific Union and of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce feel that much greater strides may be taken at the forthcoming gathering than were made in Honolulu. Intensive study of the problems involved and of the best manner of approaching them will be made before the congress convenes. General and group meetings will help clarify all the issues at stake and bring to a successful conclusion the various projects broached.

Los Angeles undoubtedly can do much for the cause of continued and assured peace in the Pacific realm by aiding to the fullest extent the commercial congress and its sponsors.

THE FESTIVAL OF NATIONS
The Council of International Relations and Chalmers Brooks Fithian, the producer, and all other executives and actors, representing many nationalities, are to be congratulated upon the success of the "Festival of Nations" given at the Polytechnic High School. This educational, edifying spectacle has forged one more link in the golden chain of international amity. Noted artists, technical experts and local residents, representative of various nationalities, co-operated in such a way as to lend strength to the optimistic statement that different nationalities can live and work and play together in peace and harmony.

Profits accruing from the production will be devoted by the Council of International Relations to the carrying on of its educational work throughout the year. Plans are now being made for the annual production of the Festival of Nations on an increasingly larger scale until 1937, when the Olympic Games are staged in Los Angeles, when it is proposed to produce a gigantic outdoor festival which will inspire to understanding and good will the many thousands of our visitors from foreign shores.

The Council of International Relations, of which Dr. R. B. von KleinSmid is president, was organized in 1924 and since its inception has been carrying on an educational work which has attracted wide attention, inspiring and strengthening similar organizations throughout the country. The object of the organization is to improve international and race relations by cultivating an understanding of the problems involved and an appreciation of the peoples of other nations and races. While not committing itself to any single program for obtaining world peace and the prevention of war, the council seeks to realize its purpose by means of a service headquarters, public meetings, a speakers' bureau, a monthly publication, information service and the promotion of friendly contact with residents and visitors from other lands. It would be difficult for the most astute, self ish or suspicious diplomat of the Old World to find anything smacking of national aggrandizement or secret diplomacy in such a program.

POETS' WIVES
We read a poem the other day that quoted the lamentations of an imaginary poet's wife over his spiritual absences in day dreams. But most real poets' wives, or real wives of poets, have far more practical things than that to worry about. For example, we know of one who once was asked if it weren't a pleasure to see her husband in print so often. "No great thrill," she replied, pointing to her dress of cheap calico. "I'm in print all the time myself."

The Best Defense—Not Big Guns but Good Mothers

STILL ON THE JOB
If the late Methuselah still were among the quick rather than the dead, indications are that he would be an estimable citizen at election time. Neither the passage of years nor the multiplicity of issues seems able to dim the ardor of such confirmed voters as Chauncey Depew and Ezra Meeker and they conscientiously visited the polls this year as usual. The example set by these two pioneers, who are approaching the century mark, might well be taken to heart by several million younger and less-interested citizens.

While the intelligence quotient of the average American ranks with that of any other race in the world, his collective mental processes, when the time comes to stamp black marks on a paper and put it in a box, are such as to stump the most ambitious psychologist. Every American, like the French King, can say "I am the state," yet he grossly belies his words when he carefully avoids the voting booth.

The showing made by the city of Ramona in the recent California election demonstrates what can be accomplished in the matter of voting percentage when the populace really is roused to its responsibilities and privileges. Striving to maintain its prize cup won last election for the best representative vote, Ramona registered ballots for everyone in town except those in hospitals or who had moved away. Its percentage was so high that any competitor will have to score perfect to take the laurels away.

When nonagenarians, centenarians and ambitious municipalities go to the polls with such unanimity there should be found therein a spur for lagging individuals and localities.

Every vote not cast is an impediment in the path of democracy.

A PESSIMIST
A pessimist is a driver who has his wife hold out her arm on one side of the car while he does the same on the other side as he makes a turn.

BILLBOARDS
By James J. Montague

We no more may view the fountains
Plashing down the dizzy steeps
Of the glacier-laden mountains
To the valley's deepest deeps.
Though the view may be commanding
Where these things are on display,
We shall find a billboard standing
In the way.

Not for us the sunlight quivers
On a lovely sylvan scene,
Where the calm and quiet rivers
Wind through hills of brilliant green;
Like a prison wall entombing
People who in jail abide
Are the billboards which are looming
Far and wide.

Not for us are church spires rearing
From the pretty little town
Which we rapidly are nearing
As the road we hurry down,
We could see them from a byway
Where the mud was deep, no doubt,
But the billboards on the highway
Shut them out.

If you've felt an irritation
As you worked your radio set—
Groping for some distant station
Which you never quite could get,
You would state in terms emphatic
Like the author of this ode,
That the billboards are the static
Of the road.

Parents, Schools, Sororities

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 5.—[To the Editor of The Times:] There are in all probability many hundreds of parents in and around the city who would like to publicly congratulate and thank the Board of Education and the high-school authorities on their action in the sorority matter. Only a few months ago I withdrew my daughter from this wonderful school for the ostensible reason of too great distance, but the real reason which I did not care to state was that the sorority blight had seized on the child's mind and disturbed her to such an extent that I withdrew her from the school.

It has been alleged that many of these sororities are in a degree sponsored by parents. If the school authorities are not going to uphold a State law known to every child who enters high school how are they going to teach a respect for law, how are they going to turn out law-abiding citizens? We must all admit that the moral issue at stake is not changed by a child being an inactive member of some sorority or fraternity; it is an open secret that many of the popular members of the student body at present belong to one or the other of these petty organizations that cater only to the ultra-smart, overdressed, prematured progeny of too indulgent parentage.

Out of Touch

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 8.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I congratulate The Times on the magnificent victory won for man's best friend, the dog, over the two Los Angeles dog-hating journals. I hope it will be a lesson to them in the future to take the humane side of a question in dispute. Their opinions entered on the dog ordinance or on the Wright Act showed they are not in touch with the voters of this city.

HADES, Nov. 8.—[To the Editor of The Times:] It has been brought to my attention that in this morning's issue of your publication you say that I am the greatest liar in Los Angeles.

This is a formal denial of the charge and I request that you print this statement, giving it the consideration which it merits.

Ever since my falling out with a certain clique I have been subjected to defamations of character. I have borne these with unchristian fortitude, but this latest attack cannot go unheeded, as it has caused my wife untold grief. I wish to say that I am greatly misunderstood and am not nearly so black as I have been painted. I herewith extend a cordial invitation to you and your reporters to pay my country a visit and observe conditions here. I assure you a warm greeting.

As to my being the greatest liar in Los Angeles, I wish to say that I have never been there, being suspicious of the name. Also, there has been a large number of disreputable people in hell lately and how do I know what they carried away in their little blue trunks?

RIPPLING RHYMES

EXPERIENCE

would roundly swear, his withers wrung, he'd quit the foolish game.
Experience is said to be a teacher good and fair and yet her pupils oft we see who gained small profit there. A man begins to speculate in cabbages or wheat; he dreams of profits swift and great and rooms in Easy street. Experience of other lads should bring him to his knees; few are equipped to gather scads from bushes, shrubs and trees. He's read a hundred tragic tales of men who staked their rolls and landed in some musty jails with badly tarnished souls. But they were men who had no spines, no character or force, while he was of heroic lines and he'd pull nothing coarse. He'd always keep his self-control; if anything went wrong he'd stop right there and save his roll, the silent man and strong. So now he plays his hoarded wad and loses at each play; his luck turns out to be a fraud, he's deeper every day. He's had experience enough, if he would only learn, to know there's nothing in that stuff, and to sane work return. Experience, she trots along, wherever he may go, and whispers that his course is wrong, that it will bring him woe. Experience can quote the names of hundreds who have failed, who played a while their dizzy games and in the end were jailed. Alas, our hero still believes that he can't long be bled, and admonition only peeves and keeps him seeing red. At every venture he is stuck, but still his high hopes shine; next day he's bound to play in luck and make a killing fine. He takes some money from the till, but he will pay it back, when he with energy and skill acquires his dreamed-of stack. The finish comes to him at last and in a hoosegow cell he broods upon his wasted past with a heart-rending yell. Experience is bidding hicks to sidestep and beware the tempter and his gilded tricks, the fowler and his snare.

STRAIT-JACKETS FOR ROY[ALTY]

BY MURZA HA[RDING]

So Queen Maria is [sending] that dear Rumania within [her] foot in the Promised [Land] even the Prince and [the] willful, oriental-eyed Prin[cess] permitted to cast their glances upon the land of [their] desire, where the movies [are]

In Paris the young Prin[cess] there were two points of [great] interest for him in the [United] States: Detroit, where [they] the automobiles, and Hol[lywood] where they make motion [pictures]. But reasons of state, that [iron] chain by which princes are [fet]tered, dictated that "All [roads] the land of the dollar [must] see; but not Hollywood."

And no one in this [country] seemed to guess why.

I could not understand [why] was inclined to believe [the] that there was dissatisfaction [over] the railroad fare; but a [letter] received this week from [Queen] in Bessarabia opened my [eyes].

"Be sure to write to us [when] Queen looked in royal [splendor]ments, wearing a tiara [of] a Russian Empress, and [with] the Prince and Princess [of] parts. There is a great [deal] here both from Russians and Ru[ma]manians that the Queen should far forget her duties in [exile] as to don the royal robes of [her] enemy and pose as their [Queen]

How things get distorted [in] eling! Petty incidents are [mag]nified and really worth-while [things] like one's baggage, find their [way] to the lost-and-found depart[ment]. When a scenario director in Hollywood conceived the brilliant idea of having a real queen appear in a picture it never occurred to him that reasons of state might intervene.

Apparently he saw no beauty in the Queen of Rumania being a royal part in a Russian film. But what a shock it would cause over there in Bessarabia, Alsace-Lorraine of Eastern Europe, with its echoes in Bucharest and Moscow!

To get the Russo-Rumanian feud just imagine that it had been proposed in 1912 that the Empress should appear in a French picture wearing the crown and the ermine robes of a King of France! How would the French have liked it? The Germans would have been offended; but the French would have started a new bellize on the Rhine.

Similar emotions were aroused by the report in Rumania and in the other side of the Dniester when the press report was received that Queen Marie would appear in a Russian Queen.

Russia has been arming for years to cross the Dniester and take back its lost provinces. The Russian propagandists charge that in reality, Rumania, backed by powerful allies, is preparing to invade Russia.

The easily excited Russians, especially in matters of government, offer this incident as proof that Rumania is minded to restore the throne of Russia and place it in the hands of the Rumanian Queen, the scepter of Catherine the Great.

How foolish this sounds to better educated, more given to reasoning, American people. But does not sound foolish to those who know the temperament of the Rumanians and the Balkan Wars have been fought in Balkan Europe over trivial things. Every member in the history of old Russia, the Russia that was, is the account of a war that was fought over whether in religious rites the sign of the cross should be made with two fingers or with three.

May it not have been this same incident that made the Chamber in Bucharest conclude that it would be dangerous for the Queen even to set foot in Bucharest. For this would have been regarded by the enemies of Rumania as proof that the Queen had secretly appeared in the royal palace in Russia.

All of which brings to mind a quotation from an English poet: "For fools rush in where angels fear to tread."

I am applying this to the Queen and the movie incident; and it may be that some of those concerned may retaliate by applying it to me. But it is of such stuff that incidents that policies of state are made, that kingdoms and empires rise and fall.

NOVEMBER ELEVEN

Tall yellow ranks of waving wheat
Now guard the battle line—
And meek-eyed cattle graze beneath
The bullet-shattered pine;
While down the grassy slopes we saw
Our buoyant heroes fall
The plaintive lark sings high its song
And nowhere bugles call.

The smoke of battle drifts no more
Through France's shell-torn land;
No more the crashing cannon roars
Upon the lifting breeze.
The roads that shook beneath the rush
Of Europe's hungry guns
Now know the blessed calm where
A peaceful commerce runs.

There where the trenches zigzagged to hold
The war god's bloody tide,
The rosebay and the hawthorn bloom
Across the countryside;
And where Columbia's fiery sons
Outfought the withborn foe
The gentle sheep of Argonne graze
And sweet grass grasses grow.

And yonder—in a sacred field
Beneath the quiet sod—
The heart of all America
Lies open to her God;
For there they lie—her valiant sons
Who gave their all—and died
That justice, honor, love and peace
Should not be crucified.

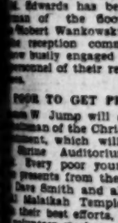
RINE BALL TO BENEFIT NEEDY

Malaikah Temple Will Dance the 20th Inst.

eeds to Buy Christmas Presents for Poor

Auditorium Provides Room for 15,000

[illegible] twentieth annual Shrine charity ball, under the auspices of Al Malaikah Temple, will be given at the Shrine Civic Auditorium Saturday evening, the 20th inst., to help raise funds for the poor and needy on Christmas.



Motley H. Flint, who has acted as chairman of the Christmas relief fund for the knights of the red fez ever since its inception, will again officiate as the official Al Malaikah Santa Claus this year.

[illegible] calling on all the nobles of Malaikah Temple to assist in making Christmas charity ball this [illegible] to don the royal robes of [illegible] and the amount of funds [illegible] the funds from the ball, together with donations made to the [illegible] relief fund, Al Malaikah [illegible] last year was able to act as Santa Claus to more than 15,000 persons, including children, who otherwise would have had no Christmas in their homes. Last year owing to the limited space of the [illegible] only 5000 dancers were able to [illegible] the floor, but at the new Auditorium more than 15,000 will be able to dance. Incidentally [illegible] the first of the Shrine annual [illegible] balls to be held at the Shrine Auditorium. All funds from the sale of tickets will be used to purchase the Christmas gifts and pay the expenses for holding the Christmas festival for the poor kiddies during Christmas week.

HEADED BY FLINT

Malaikah Christmas relief fund was inaugurated twenty years ago by Mr. Flint when he was postmaster of Los Angeles, and he has been the head of the movement ever since. Mr Flint, who is now in New York, is in daily touch with headquarters here by telegraph, and F. T. Purdy and Dodge are acting as his assistants in helping to execute the details of the ball. Every noble in Al Malaikah Temple has been sent five tickets and Mr. Flint emphasizes that there are [illegible]. Each admission ticket is $1.

Another feature that Mr. Flint is making this year is that the Christmas ball will be open to all nobles and their friends, and is not restricted to Shriners and Masons. Leslie Edwards has been appointed chairman of the floor committee and Robert Wankowski is chairman of the reception committee. Both are busily engaged in organizing the personnel of their respective committees.

FOOD TO GET PRESENTS

[illegible] W. Jump will again officiate as chairman of the Christmas tree entertainment, which will be held at the Shrine Auditorium Christmas day. Every poor youngster will be given presents from the tree. Potentate Dave Smith and all the officials of Malaikah Temple are putting their best efforts, in addition to the volunteer workers from the various Shrine clubs, toward making the ball this year the most successful in the entire history of the organization.

In his telegram to his committee Mr. Flint calls on each and every noble of Al Malaikah Temple to do his part to dispose of all the tickets possible, so that the Shrine ball this year may be the greatest in the history of Al Malaikah Temple. Mr. Flint emphasized in his message that the Christmas tree for the children, together with the presents, food and clothing which will be distributed on Christmas day, is not restricted to the families of Masons, but will be given according to need, irrespective of race, sect or creed.

MENACE OF PROSPERITY POINTED OUT

Head of Crime Commission Fears Nation Faces "Fatty Degeneration of Soul"

[illegible] asserting that only the highest type of individual or nation is prepared to escape the deteriorating influence of great prosperity, Maj. Wallace K. Tuller, head of the State Crime Commission, issued a warning against what he termed "fatty degeneration of the soul" in an Armistice Day address at the weekly luncheon of the Kiwanis Club at the Biltmore yesterday.

"The security and general well being of our country at this time," said Maj. Tuller, "are inclined not only to make us forget the lafc war, and the sacrifices for human liberty of the millions of our predecessors in this and other countries who made our present state of tranquility possible, but today is being put to the severest test of character there is, that of prosperity."

The speaker pointed out that there already are signs of deterioration in American ideals, in that connection referring particularly to the apathy of the general public toward governmental affairs and the country's crime record.

"It is time for a revival of the old American spirit, which prompted the founders of this republic to perform any service and make any sacrifice for the maintenance of the principles of justice and liberty which they considered to be right," he declared.

SPEAKERS' BUREAU WILL AID ORATORIO

A speakers' bureau in behalf of the Los Angeles Oratorio Society, which will present "The Messiah" at the Shrine Auditorium December 19 has been organized by Judge David P. Barrow, former president of the Municipal Musical Association. The list includes Judge Westover, Judge Benjamin, John Luter, Luther Brown, Dr. Marion Tracie Whiting, Rossiter Burdett Norton, Mrs. Mattison Jones and Mrs. W. E. Mabee.

STRAIT-JACKETS FOR ROYALTY

BY MURZA BARONOVA

So Queen Marie is returning to that dear Rumania without setting foot in the Promised Land. Not even the Prince and the petted, willful, oriental-eyed Princess were permitted to cast their roving glances upon the land of heart's desire, where the movies grow.

In Paris the young Princess and there were two points of supreme interest for him in the United States: Detroit, where they make the automobiles, and Hollywood, where they make motion pictures. But reasons of state, that rattling chain by which princes are fettered, dictated that "All else is the land of the dollar you may see; but not Hollywood."

And no one in this connection seemed to guess why.

I could not understand myself. I was inclined to believe the rumor that there was dissatisfaction with the railroad fare; but a letter received this week from relatives in Bessarabia opened my eyes.

"Be sure to write to us how the Queen looked in royal Russian garments, wearing a tinsel crown of a Russian Empress, and whether the Prince and Princess also took parts. There is a great curiosity here both from Russians and Rumanians that the Queen should so far forget her duties to Rumania as to don the royal robes of our enemy and pose as their Queen."

How things get distorted in traveling! Petty incidents are magnified and really worth-while things, like one's baggage, find their way to the lost-and-found department. When a scenario director in Hollywood conceived the brilliant idea of having a real queen appear in a picture it never occurred to him that reasons of state might intervene.

Apparently he saw no incongruity in the Queen of Rumania playing a royal part in a Russian film. But what a shock it occasioned over there in Bessarabia, the Alsace-Lorraine of Eastern Europe, with its echoes in Bucharest and Moscow!

To get the Russo-Rumanian view just imagine that it had been proposed in 1912 that the Kaiser should appear in a French picture, wearing the crown and the purple robes of a King of France! What would the French have had to say about it? The Germans would have been offended; but the French would have started to mobilize on the Rhine.

Similar emotions were awakened by the report in Rumania and on the other side of the Dneiper when the press report was received that Queen Marie would appear as a Russian Queen.

Russia has been arming for two years to cross the Dniepr and take back its lost province. The Russian propagandists charge that, in reality, Rumania, backed by powerful allies, is preparing to invade Russia.

The easily excited Russians, especially in matters of governance, offer this incident as proof that Rumania is minded to restore the throne of Russia and place it in the hands of the Rumanian Queen the scepter of Catherine the Great.

How foolish this sounds to the better educated, more given to reasoning, American people. But it does not sound foolish to those who know the temperament of the Rumanians and the Russians. Wars have been fought in Eastern Europe over trivial things. I remember in the history of Old Russia, the Russia that was, as account of a war that was waged over whether in religious rites the sign of the cross should be made with two fingers or with three.

May it not have been this mere incident that made the Chancellor in Bucharest conclude that it would be dangerous for the Queen even to set foot in Hollywood? For this would have been taken by the enemies of Rumania as proof that the Queen had actually appeared in the royal robes of Russia.

All of which brings to my mind a quotation from an English poet: "For fools rush in where angels fear to tread."

I am applying this to the Queen and the movie incident; and it may be that some of those concerned may retaliate by applying it to me. But it is of such trivial incidents that policies of state are made, that kingdoms and royalties rise and fall.

DRIVER HELD TO ANSWER IN TRAGEDY

Stromberg's Chauffeur Gets Preliminary Hearing on Child's Death

Responsibility for the death of Edna Earl Lacy, 4 years of age, struck down and fatally injured by a speeding car as she stood in a pedestrian safety zone, was further fixed on E. B. Cammado, Filipino chauffeur, for Hunt Stromberg, motion-picture director, yesterday, when Municipal Judge Ballard held the driver to answer to charges of manslaughter.

The preliminary hearing was featured by the appearance on the stand of Thelma Lacy, 14, eldest sister of the dead girl and head of the little family of survivors, who barely eked out an existence with their mother, near death in the General Hospital.

Witnesses yesterday testified the car driven by Cammado had run through the safety zone at an excessive and dangerous rate of speed. They further declared the little girl was struck down and others were endangered as the driver sought to control the careening car.

Severely injured, the little girl was picked up and rushed to the General Hospital, where she later died.

Responsibility for the death of the tiny tot was placed on Cammado by a Coroner's jury and the manslaughter charge was filed immediately afterward.

Police Say Former Head of Grocery Chain Killed Self With Gas

Despondent, according to police, because of financial reverses, James Devorak, 50 years of age, said to have been the former proprietor of a local chain of grocery stores, ended his life yesterday in his home at 2108 Ellendale avenue.

According to a police report, the body of the middle-aged grocer was found in a chair in the kitchen by Mrs. A. Sullivan, a neighbor, who stated she had not noticed Devorak about the premises since last Saturday. The valves in the gas range were wide open, the police stated, indicating the means taken by Devorak to end his life.

Police detectives stated they learned that, following the failure of the stores, Miss Alice Devorak left her father here to visit her old home in Glendive, Mont., and it is believed, Devorak, left alone, was overcome by despondency. No note was found, police reported. The body was taken to the County Morgue.

Espee Appoints Chief Clerk Here to El Paso Post

Appointment of A. M. Levy, chief clerk and customs attorney in the general freight office of the Southern Pacific at Los Angeles, to assistant general freight agent at El Paso, was announced here yesterday by F. E. Scott, assistant freight traffic manager of the company.

Levy will assume his new position immediately, and will be succeeded by William H. Francis, who has been traveling freight and passenger agent at El Paso.

Levy first entered Southern Pacific service in 1903 at Galveston, Tex.

Francis began his railroad career at Tucson, Ariz., in 1906.

NEW PHONE EQUIPMENT

Plans for the installation of additional long-distance central-office telephone equipment in Los Angeles has been approved by the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company according to Ben Wright, manager of public relations. The gross expenditures in installing the new equipment will amount to $17,300.

mothers," he said. "What more can a man or woman do with money?

"The Community Chest affords every man, woman and child an opportunity to become a part of the greatest civic and humanitarian movement in the history of Los Angeles. Los Angeles has never failed to respond to a worthy cause. Share your blessings, citizens. Back up the Chest. Show your sympathy with its plan in dollars. Remember, the responsibility of these unfortunate men, women and children rests not with the Community Chest but with you!"

The Chest executive repeated his emphatic statement of the opening of the drive that the Chest wants only voluntary contributions. "The Community Chest does not want any human being in Los Angeles to fear for his or her job or future, and asks that any case of intimidation be reported to the Chest immediately," he said.

EXPENSES ELIMINATED

Public-spirited business men have this year subscribed an amount over and above their regular Chest contributions to pay the salary of the secretary and manager of the Community Chest, thus eliminating an item of expense from the budget.

Subscribers to the Community Chest automatically become members of the Red Cross, the Salvation Army and 152 other welfare organizations by their giving to the Chest.

As the workers in the Community Chest appeal have chest buttons and carry regulation pledge cards of the organization, citizens are advised to insist upon receipts for their donations and to ascertain whether workers are wearing the Chest button and carrying the regular pledge cards.

HEBREW HOME WANTS TO WIPE OUT DEBTS

Barnett Rosenburg yesterday issued a statement explaining the relation of the Hebrew Sheltering and Home for the Aged to the Community Chest drive.

The home, he said, at present is not a member of the Community Chest, and the ball planned for the Shrine Auditorium December 4 will be given to meet obligations incurred during the past year. Beginning January 1, 1927, the home will become a participating member of the Chest, and as such will receive its maintenance funds from that source.

The directors of the home feel, it is stated, that the proceeds from the ball will enable the institution to come into the Chest free from debt.

HIDE IN WELL FROM FIRE

Family Near San Diego Escapes Flames in Forest; Cleveland Brush Blaze Controlled

Huddled in a well, the family of Emmett Hudnell of Moose Way escaped the extreme fury of a forest fire sweeping the district, according to word from San Diego received last night. They were driven from their ranch by the heat of the flames leaping out from the heavily wooded hills. The family includes three small children.

Reports from forest-fire regions last night were that the fire north of Santa Ana has been brought under control, that fires are still burning in San Diego county and threaten to spread and that three new fires broke out in Santa Cruz county yesterday, making a total of nine in that area.

UNDER CONTROL

The heavy brush fire that for ten days raged in the Cleveland National Forest north of Santa Ana was hemmed in by a fire-break and brought under control yesterday. A crew of fire fighters under Forest Supervisor Stephenson completed the fire-break yesterday, making a fifteen-foot pathway around the burning area.

Unless a heavy wind should come up it was expected last night that the blaze would not get beyond control again. About 400 men were used to battle the flames. About 13,000 acres of land were burned over. The heaviest parts of the fire centered about Modjeska Creek and Pine Canyon.

An inquest over the body of Ramon Hernandez, fire fighter who was trapped and burned alive in the flames, will be conducted at Orange tomorrow morning. The Federal government is conducting an investigation in an effort to fix the responsibility for the origin of the fire. Reports are to the effect that an attorney burning rubbish near his cabin in Modjeska Canyon permitted the flames to spread to the near-by brush.

With the Orange county fire under control, reports from San Diego stated that thousands of acres of timber and brush land have been devasted by a series of fires that swept through the county in the last few days. Some of the fires still are burning and threaten to spread.

The San Pasqual Valley blaze, which started Tuesday, was burning briskly yesterday. The fire which burned over 20,000 acres near Escondido in Reidy and Moosa canyons is under control.

Los Angeles county was clear of brush fires yesterday.

SANTA CRUZ COUNTY REPORTS NEW BLAZES

SANTA CRUZ, Nov. 10. (AP)—Three new forest and brush fires, bringing the total now burning to nine, broke out today in Santa Cruz county. Two are in the extreme north and are burning mostly in San Mateo county. The third is back of Boulder Creek. It is sweeping its way northward through second-growth redwood timber into the Ben Lomond Mountains.

Fire fighters at Saratoga Summit, in the northeasterly section of the county, have managed to save the road bridges in that section.

After having swept through an area three and a half miles long and a mile wide, the fire near Felton, north of here, was nearly under control tonight.

The fire in the southern part of the county has burned 300 acres of virgin redwood timber and destroyed Pratt's Cabin, a landmark in that section.

SEARCH FOR FLYER GOES TO CANADA

Arthur King, Missing on Eve of Wedding, in Ottawa, Police Think

Efforts to locate Arthur King, 22-year-old aviator, who disappeared without explanation on the eve of his wedding here Monday, were centered on Ottawa, Ont., Can., last night. The belief was expressed by Detective Lieutenant Allen of the missing persons' bureau, and by Rev. C. Sidney Maddox, pastor of the West Adams Baptist Church, where the wedding ceremony was to have been conducted, that King has taken refuge with a friend in the Canadian city.

King was to have been married to Miss Doris Keith of 1900 West Twenty-third street last Monday. He disappeared Saturday, the young woman stated yesterday, announcing that he was going to San Diego to collect some money and get some clothing left at the Ryan Airport there. He never called for either and, according to a telegram from Chief of Police Patrick yesterday, King had not been in San Diego for ten days.

However, a previously mysterious telegram from Salt Lake City bearing the signature of H. C. Gabourie and stating that King is in a hospital and Miss Keith should not worry about him, was not so mysterious yesterday. Gabourie, police learned, was a close friend of King and it is to Gabourie's home at 148 Colborne street, Ottawa, that King is believed to have gone.

SOCIETY

BY JUANA NEAL LEVY

Among the charming hostesses whose affairs are always attractive and enjoyable is Mrs. Eli P. Clark of 9 St. James Park, who with Mr Clark returned recently from a summer aboard Mrs. Clark is planning two luncheons at Hotel Clark, the first to be given Monday afternoon the 15th inst., while the second will be the 22nd inst.

About one hundred guests will be included in both affairs and the hostess will be assisted by Mrs. Cosmo Morgan, Jr. Mrs J. Ross Clark, Mrs. Joseph Brent Banning, Mrs. John J. Byrne, Mrs. Jefferson Paul Chandler, Mrs. Henry Stewart McKee Mrs. Rufus Bernard Von KleinSmid Mrs Edward Dean Lyman, Mrs. George Herbert Wigmore, Mrs. Robert Loucon, Mrs. Eugene Payson Clark and Mrs. Wilfred K. Barnard. Autumn colors will be combined in the floral decorations and appointments of the luncheon tables.

Home Wedding

The home of Arthur Hughes Braly in Rossmore avenue was the scene last evening of one of the loveliest of the fall weddings when his daughter, Miss Mina Braly, became the bride of William Norbert Neff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Dorland Neff of Pasadena the ceremony being read by Dr. Robert Freeman of Pasadena and Mr Braly gave his daughter in marriage.

The house was transformed into a garden of chrysanthemums in pink and white tones combined with woodwardia ferns forming the background in the drawing-room, while in the dining-room where the bride's table was arranged white and pink roses with a profusion of lilies of the valley and a touch of sweet peas combined with sprays of maidenhair ferns and tulle formed the centerpiece, while myriads of lighted tapers shed a soft glow over the scene. The bride wore an exquisite creation of white tulle over flesh satin, and her veil of tulle was edged with duchesse lace which had adorned the wedding gown of her mother, and she carried an armful of lilies of the valley, orchids and gardenias. Miss Mildred Hayes assisted as maid of honor wearing peach moire with gold lace and carried roses to match, while John Hyde Braly II, brother of the bride, served Mr. Neff as best man and little Barbara Henneberge, cousin of the bride, carried the bride's train in dainty frock of dotted swiss

One hundred guests were bidden and at the bride's table were grouped Mr. and Mrs. William Norbeht Neff, Miss Mildred Hayes, Miss Della Neff, Mr and Mrs. Shelby Howell (Helen Guthrie,) Miss Gertrude Coles, Miss Helen Bishop, Mr. and Mrs. Brad Harris Wells (Alice Palmer,) Miss Doris Braly, John Hyde Braly, Jack Neff, Gabriel Duque, Edward Graham and Shelton Hollister.

Mr. and Mrs. Neff left for several weeks' honeymoon trip and after their return will be at home with the latter's father until their own home in Pasadena is completed.

Mrs. Neff, who was graduated from Marlborough School, is the daughter of Arthur Hughes Braly and the late Mrs. Braly (Mina Jevne,) and on her maternal side is grand-daughter of H. Jevna and the late Mrs. Jevne while her paternal grandfather was the late John Hyde Braly. She was graduated from Marlborough School and is a member of the Delta Iota Sorority, while Mr. Neff's alma mater is University of California, Southern Branch, where he is a Zeta Psi man. The wedding music last evening was given by the Arion Trio, of harp, violin and 'cello.

Church Ceremony

St. Stephens' Church in Hollywood was the setting chosen by Miss Mildred Moir, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Henry Moir of Rossmore avenue, for her marriage last evening to Edward Dorresten, with Rev Arthur H. Wurtele officiating, chrysanthemums in autumn shades predominating in the decorations, while adown the aisles and on the altar myriads of tapers burned. The bride given in marriage by her father, wore an effective gown of duchesse satin and lace, in the period model, her veil of tulle and lace caught cap-shaped to her head with rose point lace and she carried an arm shower of white orchids, gardenias and lilies of the valley.

Mrs Wallace Moir (Phyllis Kemp) was the matron of honor and Miss Lucia Soule, maid of honor, while Wallace Moir served as best man and the ushers included Richard Sears, William Whiteford, Frank Payne and Clement Atwater.

The matron and maid of honor wore frocks of golden brown tulle designed in bouffant style, that of Miss Soule being of a darker shade than Mrs. Moir's, and they carried bouquets of roses and sweet peas in the rich autumn tones.

Mrs William Henry Moir was in a gown of flesh-colored georgette with pearl and rhinestones trimming.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the sun parlor of the Beverly Hills Hotel and supper was served in the tea house. The decorations there carried out the same color scheme as at the church, and a string quartet furnished music.

Among the distinguished guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs Wallace Lynn, grandparents of the bride, who celebrated their sixtieth wedding anniversary

Mrs. Dorresten was graduated from University of Southern California where she is a member of the Pi Beta Phi Sorority, while Mr. Dorresten, who is the son of Mrs. Lillian L. Taylor, is a Stanford man and a member of the Alpha Tau Omega Fraternity.

SUPERFLUO

...perfluous hairs on women's ... and lack of hair on men's pates ...ainly cause a lot of unhappiness ... written on baldness recently and ...have an article on the care of ...hair which goes into its preven... (You can obtain this by send... a self-addressed, stamped envel... with request.) Today I must ...ver the very numerous letters ...have accumulated on superfluous ...hair. Luckily, an article writ... by William Allen Pusey, M.D., of ...ago, a noted skin specialist, is at ..., which will help me out with ...thing new to write on the sub... I will quote from it, as I have ...ation.

...First let me say that the causes of ...perfluous hair are obscure. It may ... a family or racial trait or there ...be some disfunction of the in... glands. There is only one ...od we know of for removing ...perfluous hairs permanently and ...is electrolysis in the hands of ... expert, but this is expensive and ...re or less painful, and not all can ...ord themselves of it.

...Depilatories apparently keep the ...in off longer than shaving, but the ...ating waxes pull 'em out by the ...ts, so the freedom will last long... than from shaving or from depila... Dr. Pussey states that this ...one of the most satisfactory ways ...handling cosmetic objectionable ...hairs. The epilating waxes on the ...market are expensive, so the doc... and his assistant, Dr. Cornbleet, ...perimented with various mixtures ...until he got a satisfactory one. It ...follows:

...Epilating wax: Beeswax, 1 part (by ...weight;) finely powdered resin, 4 ...parts (by weight.)

...The wax is melted over a low fire ...and after melting is complete the ...powdered resin is poured in. The ...mass is continued and the mass ...stirred gently until entirely melted; ...this requires from one to two minutes.

...For use it then needs to be molded. ...One way is to pour it into a deep dish and then to crisscross it with ...deep markings about three-fourths ...inch apart, as though one were making ...caramels. The plate must be ...greased, say, with mineral oil, to prevent the wax from sticking to it. ...After it is cooled the wax is fairly ...brittle and the blocks can be broken ...off for use. It can also readily be ...molded in sticks by taking heavy ...waxed paper and making a hollow ...tube about five-eighths inch in diameter and three inches long, one end ...of which is closed off by being folded in. After the melted mixture has ...been poured the tube is allowed to ...stand until the mass hardens.

...The method of removing hairs with ...the wax is as follows: A block or the ...end of a stick is melted by heating ...over a flame until it becomes soft; ...this can be done with a temperature ...that will not burn the skin. When ...softened the melted wax is rubbed ...into the skin in the direction of the ...hair growth. It is well to press it ...down with the moistened end of the ...finger until one gets a layer about ...one-eighth inch thick. This is allowed to cool, or is chilled by the ...application of ice or cold water. After it is cooled the edge of the wax ...is picked up with the nail and the ...wax pulled off with a quick pull in

Wares of Navajo and Hopi Tribes, Put on Display at Barker Brothers

Showing Navajo blankets, Kachina dolls, bows and arrows and silversmith work in the making, Barker Brothers has put on exhibition a display of the art and craftsmanship of the Navajo and Hopi Indians that has aroused widespread interest among shoppers.

The exhibition is designed to introduce to the architectural, building and home decorating fraternity as well as the general public the excellence of the products in craftsmanship and quality of materials that furnish notes of barbaric color in decoration.

The wool going into the rugs being weaved was clipped by the two Navajo women from sheep they raised. They scoured it, carded it, dyed it, spun it into thread and are now engaged in weaving it into rugs.

The products on display are furnished Barker Brothers by the Intertribal Indian Ceremonial Association with headquarters at Gallup N. M.

Though the Indian craftsman today does not always use his patterns in a symbolic way practically all of the designs on the rugs and blankets have a definite meaning. Most of the designs are of geometric forms or symbols.

BOULEVARD ACTION DELAYED

Action by the City Council on the confirmation or revision of the $26,000 assessments for the paving of Ventura Boulevard from Lankershim to Vineland avenue in the San Fernando Valley was yesterday continued by the City Council until next Wednesday morning. Councilman Randall is asking that the Pacific Electric be assessed 25 per cent of the cost of the improvement, while Councilman Ganbern has asked that the railway assessment be 12½ per cent of the expense.

A-DOF-LUS

A Proven Factor in the promotion of Good Health

What Every Doctor Knows

Acidophilus milk is prescribed and is acknowledged to be a specific therapy in cases of intestinal toxemias, chronic constipation, chronic diarrhoea, and other intestinal disorders. Also recommended in treatment of rheumatic conditions and facial eruptions traced to intestinal origin, and in summer diarrhoea and other intestinal toxic conditions of infants.

Yes—a proven relief for Chronic Constipation, Mucus Colitis and other intestinal disorders—for A-dof-lus is a pure genuine Acidophilus milk.

—Proven by medical science in thousands of cases as shown by clinical records on the feeding of Acidophilus milk.

—Proven during the past six months in Southern California as witness the hundreds of grateful testimonial letters we have received.

A-dof-lus is a rich creamy food beverage. Its particular function is to remove all congestion and inflammation from the intestines by implanting in the intestines the organisms of health, thus bringing about a normal natural activity.

30 Days Trial Will Bring You Lasting Results

If you have any intestinal disorder, give A-dof-lus a 30-day trial, drink a glass with each meal, and you, too, will be rewarded with vigorous and joyous health.

Health with Lunch

Milton H. Lee says:

I simply wish to take this opportunity to thank you for A-dof-lus. I am using it in my own family with excellent results and am prescribing it to practically all of my patients. I consider it the best intestinal tonic and disinfectant that has come to my notice, and that is just what every Chiropractor is looking for.

FEATURING THE PIECES of 8 SET

The ANCESTRAL PATTERN Shown in this double-purpose UTILITY TRAY Patented

"PIECES of 8 at last"!—she cried!

for she found her long sought treasure

"How much shall I buy?" is the first question that confronts the young housewife when she considers her first silverware purchase. If she ventures forth to seek a service in knives, forks and spoons, she usually has been told that she must choose either a set of "sixes" or a set of "twelves".

"But that is either a famine or a feast," is her troubled reply. "I can't safely entertain with 'sixes'. But 'twelves' are more than I need at the start."

And so came the PIECES OF EIGHT—a new service in 1847 ROGERS BROS. Silverplate—a delightfully adequate and precisely "just-right" set of flat silver for the average-sized family.

Eight of each in hollow handle dinner knives with stainless steel blades, dinner forks, dessert spoons and tea spoons—with the ever essential butter knife and sugar shell.

The PIECES OF EIGHT set is the stellar attraction in THE SILVERWARE SHOW holding sway this month in the stores of all silverware merchants. Almost every woman picks out this set for her especial enthusiasm. And is moved to this self-same query: "Why wasn't this thought of long, long ago?"

Sets of eights are here to stay. It is the economic and all-satisfactory selection. And now charmingly available to you in The PIECES OF EIGHT set with that wonderfully handy and dainty Utility Serving Tray . . . all for $44.50.

ARMISTICE DAY AT KHJ STUDIO

Military Trappings Accent Patriotic Program

Los Angeles 160th Infantry Sponsors Radio Event

Oration by Herbert Wenig on Evening Broadcast

BY BY MAE PRYCE BROOKS

Armistice Day! How thoughts fly to the heart-breaking days of eight years ago!

Today, with peace and prosperity in our land, we celebrate the anniversary of this great day. Civic and patriotic organizations, including veterans' units, will conduct services at the Coliseum, where Los Angeles own One Hundred and Sixtieth Infantry will be reviewed by Maj.-Gen. David P. Barrows, ranking officer of the California National Guard.

The One Hundred and Sixtieth Infantry is an organization of which Los Angeles is justly proud. It is composed of 1200 men, who are giving their time, training and drilling to be in readiness if their services should be needed.

"TIMES" PROGRAM

Through the splendid co-operation of this regiment The Times radio station, KHJ, will have a fitting celebration of the day. From the top of the The Times tower a message will go winging out to our friends.

At 11 a.m. a cannon will be fired. Twenty-one blasts—the Presidential salute—will be blown on The Times siren.

"Taps"—the bugle call that is heard at sundown—will be given by a bugler from the One Hundred and Sixtieth.

Another blast from the cannon!

Then the singing of the "Star Spangled Banner."

It will be a stirring little program. Then immediately from the studio will come the patriotic address of Burr McIntosh, famous actor and lecturer, known as "The Cheerful Philosopher." During the war Mr McIntosh gave of his talents and time to bring cheer to the boys and at the front, and was in France when the armistice was signed. Having been very close to Gen. Pershing he will have many little intimate things to tell us about in his absorbingly interesting way.

WENIG TO SPEAK

On this evening, aside from the beautiful musical program given by the Zoellner Quartet and others, you will be privileged to hear Herbert Wenig, winner of the International Oratorical Contest, who will give a patriotic talk.

An enthusiastic reception was given Jose Arias and his Mexican entertainers, just returned from their visit of seventeen weeks at the Sesquicentennial celebration at Philadelphia, where they appeared daily at the Los Angeles county booth.

Last evening their program was delightful. In addition to Jose and his entertainers, Senorita Raquel Lecuona of Mexico City came up to sing in honor of the occasion. Miss Lecuona is making many friends during her sojourn in Los Angeles, having sung at various artistic affairs. The beautiful baritone voice of Salvador Baguez of the art department of The Times was heard in Spanish songs.

An interesting talk was given by Charles P. Bayer, field secretary of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce and manager of the field service and exposition departments. He gave a graphic description of the Los Angeles exhibit at the Sesquicentennial.

TALK ON LIBRARY

There are so many things we should know about our beautiful new Public Library. It is such a huge place, and there are so many departments. George P. Chase of the library staff spoke most interestingly of the different divisions. This series of talks is full of information.

A feature of the children's hour was the Armistice Day marimbalogue given by Dick Winslow, with the assistance of his brothers and sisters. Dick played the war-time songs and the others sang the choruses with him. The Johnson children are all quite musical, and their dear little mother is never too busy to teach them. They have their little period of French each evening, under their mother's tuition, and there is an orchestra composed of every member of the family, even the baby joining in.

Little Constance Jeannette McCoy, whose radio name is "Sweet Marie," is so full of life and interest in things about her that it is hard for her to keep her mind on just what she wants to say. She is a great favorite and full of originality.

Peggy Millholland is but 7 years of age, but she plays the piano very well. Other children on the program who performed enjoyably were Vivian Marple, Glenn Fitz, Patricia Randolph Eccleston and Lois Jane Campbell.

The Scripture reading was given by Rev. Irvin A. Engle, pastor of St. Mark's Methodist Episcopal Church. This was followed by an interesting talk on the planets by Dr. Mars Baumgardt.

Fred C. McNabb, vice-president of the Aggeler & Musser Seed Company, the "Radio Gardener," told his ever-growing radio family about planting California poppies and other wild flowers. Now is the time, before the rains commence, Mr McNabb said.

The noon program presented LeRoy Parry and his orchestra of "Seven Smiles" in tuneful numbers, with June Parker in "blue" songs.

The closing dance hour was given by the splendid ensemble under the direction of Jerry Grant.

A. J. Chotiner Weds Daughter of Sol Harris

Albert J. Chotiner, 21 years of age, deputy City Prosecutor, and Miss Anhaleah Harris, 20, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sol Harris, were married in the Fiesta Room of the Ambassador last night. Shortly after they were united by Rabbi Edgar R. Magnin, Mr. and Mrs. Chotiner were the central figures of a wedding reception attended by approximately 500 persons.

At 6 p.m., a Passover dinner was served in the India Room; 110 persons being present. The ceremony was performed at 8:30 p.m. After the reception the bride and groom left on a honeymoon trip to the Canadian Rockies. Upon their return a month hence, they will live at the Hawthorne Apartments, 727 South Mariposa street.

Mrs. Chotiner is a native of California, being a graduate of Hollywood High School, Cumnock School for Girls and the University of Southern California. Mr. Chotiner's father is an official of the Chotiner Theaters Company.

MRS. LOUISE HALL TO BE BURIED IN ILLINOIS

Word of the death of Mrs. Louise Hall in Phoenix, Ariz., Tuesday, was received here by friends last night. Death is thought to have been due to a heart attack. Mrs. Hall, formerly a resident of Los Angeles, was the wife of Harry C. Hall, head for many years of the Phoenix Wholesale Grocery Company. Mr. Hall and son, George Alder Hall, left Phoenix last night, accompanying the body to Pekin, Ill., where the funeral services and burial will be conducted.

COFFEE-CONTENTMENT

When winter comes, coffee-contentment means more!

COFFEE-CONTENTMENT means a lot every sun-up day of our lives. But at no time of the year does it mean so much as now! For nothing sends the sunshine-stream surging through your system these raw, blustery days like a bracing, cheerio-cup of coffee.

And no coffee can be counted on for contentment in the same degree as M·J·B. For M·J·B is the coffee of constant flavor. Make it as you will, drink it as you like—strong or go-between—the same rich, characteristic flavor of M·J·B is sure to show up in your cup. A lifetime of coffee experience puts it there.

That's why we say—

M·J·B

meets every taste in Coffee

The dotted line shows how much less of M·J·B you can use to each cup.

Ask Her How She Got Thin

In every circle you are sure to find some who have lost their excess fat. Perhaps some of your friends are among them. If so, why not ask how she reduced, and we dare say she will tell you Marmola.

The modern way to fat reduction is by the Prescription Tablets. It applies at once to the cause of the trouble, which is overfat. Then, with a reasonable exercise on diet to your liking, you simply take four tablets of Marmola Prescription Tablets each day. Your weight comes down to normal. The reduction is pleasant, prompt, safe.

Marmola has been used for 16 years by millions of ladies. Many physicians prescribe it. Many druggists have spread the use of Marmola. Over 4 million boxes of Marmola were sold in 1925. Ask your druggist, your physician, your friends about Marmola. Or write for our booklet. Learn how easily you can lose fat. Learn how many have found new health and fitness by aid of Marmola. Learn how easily overstout ladies may now be slender and graceful. Learn how easily countless ladies have regained their youthful figures. Learn how many have made persistent efforts to reach the Ninth-street standard of slenderness, only to find that they had sought to attain the impossible. Learn how to enforce your own will and influence to enforce your own demands, although you may be assigned to another school. Learn how Judge Willis Ward ended the case before Judge Tuthill, attorneys for Miss Saxton contended the school laws did not give the board power to dismiss finally a teacher who had been employed by the board for more than two years and who was considered then a permanent teacher.

It was asserted by Miss Saxton's counsel that in spite of any such action by the board the law provided that the teacher in the case might appeal to a court of competent jurisdiction for review of the case and final determination, while attorneys for the school board argued the board was empowered to dismiss an instructor if it saw fit to do so on testimony taken at a hearing before the board.

While no testimony was taken at yesterday's hearing, it was stated in all probability that the board's attorneys would take the point to the Supreme Court for a definite and conclusive ruling by the State's highest tribunal as to the power vested in the board in the dismissal of teachers.

Judge Keeler ordered the case submitted to permit opposing counsel to submit briefs on points of law involved. It was said to be the first time the issue has been presented to the court.

TEACHER FIGHTS DISMISSAL

Question Raised in Reinstatement Suit Vitally Affects Status of Local Pedagogues

A question at law vitally affecting the status of all teachers in the employ of the Board of Education for more than two years was submitted to Judge Walter Guerin yesterday in a suit for a writ of mandate brought by Lois Adele Saxton to compel the board to reinstate her as a teacher in the Los Angeles schools.

Miss Saxton, for fourteen years a teacher in the Los Angeles schools, was dismissed by the board for what, she claimed, was illegal, and in addition to being reinstated she asked that she be compelled to pay her salary from the date of the assertedly illegal dismissal.

Her counsel asserted that it had been the custom for "unprotected" teachers, and contended that Miss Saxton was justified and according to law. It was asserted that she had made persistent efforts to teach in the Ninth-street school, and that she had sought to enforce her own will and influence to enforce discipline, although she was assigned to another school. Judge Guerin is hearing the case before Judge Tuthill, attorneys for Miss Saxton

TO IMPROVE SLAUSON ROAD

Improvement of Pacific Boulevard through the city of Huntington Park between Slauson and Florence avenues is anticipated in view of the $225,000 bond election coming November 16, according to reports reaching the engineering department of the Automobile Club of Southern California. This is said to be practically the only rough stretch in Pacific, or Long Beach, Boulevard from Los Angeles to the ocean.

NEW HOTEL TO RISE AT LA JOLLA

Nine-Story Structure on Water Front to be Built at Cost of $575,000

A new nine-story $575,000 hotel is scheduled for La Jolla. The project will be crowned with a tower 150 feet high. The site is 105x204, opposite Casa de Manana. The new hostelry is fostered by the La Jolla-Del Mar Hotel Company.

This information was released yesterday at the offices of Norman W. Alpaugh, Los Angeles architect designing the building.

"The project will be of Class A construction," the architect announced. "It will be of reinforced concrete with cement and plaster exterior. The roof will be of tile. Two high-speed elevators will service the hostelry.

"The site has been purchased and the building financed," he concluded.

RAIL FLYERS TO LEAVE SUNDAY

Three Roads Will Start Fast Trains to Chicago

New Schedule to Save One Business Day

Similar Cut to be Effected in Westbound Service

Los Angeles will move one business day nearer the Atlantic Coast Sunday when the new transcontinental railroad service, cutting the running time five hours between here and Chicago, goes into effect.

Sunday night the new flyers of the Southern Pacific, Union Pacific and Santa Fe leave Los Angeles, to arrive in Chicago sixty-three hours later. Westbound trains will leave Chicago at the same time and will make the same record. This means that the loss of one business day in traveling will be eliminated, as the trains leave in the evening and arrive in the morning.

The finest equipment obtainable will be used in the new service. The trains will be made up of eight cars each, and will not be heavier. Special dining cars have been built for these trains. The trains will include baths, maid service, valet service, barber shops, libraries, writing rooms, hair-dressing, manicuring. Many of these services are included on the present trains.

Special observation cars will be attached to the trains, and there will be drawing-room cars, stateroom cars, buffets and other improvements.

NAMES OF TRAINS

The new Southern Pacific train will use the name Golden State Limited, while the new sixty-eight-hour train will be called The Apache. The Apache will take the place of the present Golden State Limited. The Golden State Limited will leave Los Angeles at 5 p.m., arriving in Chicago at 10 a.m. two and a half days later. The westbound train will leave Chicago at 8:30 p.m. and arrive in Los Angeles at 9:30 a.m.

The Chief will be the new name of the Santa Fe's sixty-three-hour flyer. Other train schedules will not be changed. The Chief will leave Los Angeles 6 p.m., arriving in Chicago 11 a.m. It will depart Chicago at 8 p.m. and reach Los Angeles at 9 p.m.

The Union Pacific will use the name Los Angeles Limited for its fast train, replacing the present train bearing that name with the Gold Coast Limited. The schedule for the Los Angeles Limited is, leave Los Angeles 5:50 p.m., arrive Chicago 10:50 a.m.; leave Chicago 8 p.m., arrive Los Angeles 9 a.m.

EXTRA CHARGE

An extra charge of $10 will be made by the railroads for the privilege of riding the fast trains but there will be a percentage refund in case the trains do not maintain schedule, it was stated.

A sixty-three-hour run between Chicago and San Francisco will be placed in effect the same day.

The new schedule, which is the greatest advance in train service in Western America since the World War, is the result of the efforts of Pacific Coast business men to obtain a faster schedule and to save them the loss of an entire business day on the road. Under the new schedule, a man may stay at his office, either in Los Angeles or Chicago, until the business day is ended, board the train, and arrive at his destination in time to go to the office and complete a day's work.

The Los Angeles Limited will be on exhibition all day tomorrow on the Union Pacific tracks at the Arcade station. It will be equipped with a full crew and the public is invited to inspect it. A christening ceremony will be conducted Sunday evening just before the train leaves.

Reservations have about filled up the three new eastbound trains, it was stated yesterday.

WORKERS RELEASED BY STUDIO

Blow at Union and Paring Down Process Both Seen in Fox Release of 276

Motion-picture circles were in a state of agitation last night over the news that 276 employees of the Fox studio have been released. In certain quarters this is regarded as a direct result of the action of officials of the Studio Mechanics' Alliance in notifying executives of all local studios that a walkout will follow refusal to place studios under union rules December 1. The Fox studio management emphatically denied that this demand was the cause of the dismissals.

Most of the 276 employees let out yesterday were men. The majority were carpenters, electricians and workmen. There were a few stenographers, photographers and other technical employees.

One report in circulation is that the studio is giving the union officials a taste of their own medicine by discharging employees before the date of the threatened walkout. According to this rumor, a number of the employees dismissed are union men. Sol Wurtzel, studio manager, declared the union situation has nothing to do with the action.

According to another report, the Fox company has turned out more "specials" than had been expected. These productions mean a larger investment, and the tie-up of such investment for a longer period than ordinary productions.

Wurtzel said the employees let out have been employed chiefly on "special" work, and there is at present no need for their services. The studio, he said, merely is getting back to normal. He denied also that financial conditions have anything to do with the action.

The Studio Mechanics' Alliance, which Monday made the unionization demands, includes motion-picture stage employees, operators, carpenters, painters, paperhangers and decorators. It has been expected that representatives of all the studios will get together to plan concerted action on the demands.

COUNTY AIDS PAVING

The Board of Supervisors has appropriated $6000 toward the cost of paving Indiana avenue from First street to Mines avenue within the city because of benefits county residents will receive from the improvement.

IMPARTIAL SAN GABRIEL QUIZ URGED

Supervisors Ask Chamber to Help Restore Public Confidence in Project

The Board of Supervisors yesterday adopted a resolution asking the Chamber of Commerce to recommend some plan or impartial investigation of the San Gabriel Canyon dam project, which is under fire of the Municipal League and from some partisan quarters. The resolution, which asserts the dam is of the greatest importance to this section, declares such an investigation will restore public confidence in the project. It reads:

Whereas, the building of the San Gabriel dam, which is of utmost importance to Los Angeles county, has become engulfed in differences of opinion and political accusations in which the people of the county are forming opinions and taking sides without definite information thereon, and

Whereas, the Board of Supervisors has endeavored to reach a just and satisfactory solution of the problem by employing able engineers to investigate and report thereon, which reports have been met by sectional and political differences of opinion, and

Whereas, the Board of Supervisors are sincerely desirous of solving the difficulties now confronting the construction of the San Gebriel dam to the end that the work may proceed in an orderly and harmonious manner free from all doubts and suspicions,

Therefore, be it resolved, that we hereby request the Chamber of Commerce of Los Angeles, a body of public-spirited citizens, to suggest and recommend to this board some plan for unprejudiced and unbiased investigation of the whole San Gabriel project to the end that public confidence in this great undertaking may not be misplaced.

ACCUSATION OF PERJURY SUSTAINED

Homer Millsap Adjudged Guilty on Second Trial; Defendant's Wife Collapses

A verdict of guilty in the case of Homer Millsap, attorney, charged with perjury, was returned by a jury in Judge McLucas's court last night. The jury retired about 5 o'clock and deliberated until 8:50.

The attorney's wife, who was in the courtroom with her husband, collapsed when the verdict was announced and a physician was called. Not until he had worked over her, however, for more than an hour, was she able to be taken home.

It was Millsap's second trial on the charge, the jury in the first one, last December, having been discharged when it was unable to agree. He was disbarred on February 10, 1925, however, following a hearing which grew out of the perjury charge. Disbarment proceedings were recommended by Judge Burnell.

The attorney was charged with having committed perjury in connection with a suit filed against him in 1922 by Ida A. Morgan Clark, a former client. The trial which resulted in his conviction began October 19. Sentence is expected to be pronounced within the next day or so. Millsap has four children.

J. G. Donavan's Son Succumbs After Operation

Daniel E. Donavan, 12-year-old son of James G. Donavan of the firm of Donavan & Seamans, local jewelers, died last night after an operation from which he failed to rally. He was stricken with appendicitis three months ago, but until shortly before his death, was thought to be in excellent physical condition.

Funeral services will be conducted tomorrow morning at 8:15 o'clock from the family residence at 2202 Western avenue. A requiem mass at St. Paul's Church will follow the services at the home. Interment will be at Calvary Cemetery under the supervision of Cunningham & O'Conner, funeral directors.

SHIPPING and Los Angeles Harbor NEWS

SOLANA DAMAGE FOUND SERIOUS

Tanker Salvaged from Sands Put in Drydock

Bottom for Entire Length Badly Riddled

Rough Estimate of Repairs Nearly $250,000

Shipping men yesterday gazed on one of the worst riddled bottoms ever in port when the crippled Associated Oil Company tanker "olana was lifted out of the water on the dry d ck of the Los Angeles Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Corporation.

Over practically the entire length of the 420-foot tanker the plates were bent or loose, while many of the fifteen isherwood-type longitudinal bulkheads appeared to be buckled. There is a four or five-foot hump about thirty feet long amidships where the ship was bent or twisted when she went on the sands a week ago at Point Purisima has not yet been determined.

Only superficial guesses were advanced yesterday, but several put the cost of the tanker's repairs at $200,000 to $250,000

A host of interested experts were on the scene yesterday from surveyors of Lloyd's and the American Bureau to United States steamboat inspectors; shipyard representatives from here and San Francisco, hoping to bid on the big job, and several Associated Oil Company chiefs. Among the latter were George D. Zeh, vice-president and general manager, and A. L. Becker, consulting engineer of the oil company's headquarters in San Francisco.

Whatever the cost, the success in salvaging the craft is not discounted, as the vessel was valued at upward of $1,000,000 by her owners. Details were discussed yesterday on methods used by Merritt, Chapman & Scott in pulling her off Beach tackle, rigged from two anchors starboard with two 15-inch Manilla hawsers handled by donkey engines, pulled the big tanker out of the noted ship graveyard and into deep water.

ARIZONA COTTON HIT BY QUARANTINE ORDER

Movement of cotton from Arizona to Los Angeles Harbor for shipment by rail has been seriously affected during the last few days, following a quarantine proclamation promulgated by the Federal Horticultural Board at Washington.

The proclamation requires shippers of cotton intrastate to secure certificates from officials of Arizona showing where the cotton is grown, and found many shipments of the staple being refused at Los Angeles Harbor piers, while others were held at Los Angeles for transit which failed to secure certificates. Many of these are being returned here, pending such identification from Arizona.

Quarantine officers caution shippers that hereafter, if they will secure certificates in advance of shipment, delay will be obviated.

The Federal Board of Horticulture was prompted to the present quarantine action by the discovery that the Thurberia weevil, now been found to attack only wild cotton, but the pink bollworm, which destroys cotton as well, in addition to the Thurberia area, only more pronounced in the cultivated areas. The only means of preventing the spread of the pink bollworm is to be obtained through the quarantine regulations.

Such quarantine applies temporarily on cotton, although between points in Arizona, the Arizona authorities surrending this rule over interstate movements.

The Manila Whaling Company's former factory ship Melville has been purchased by the Alaska Whaling Corporation and will be fitted out here for a whaling expedition to the Aleutian and Commander Islands, it was announced yesterday. They will be manned by two killer boats and two chasers.

The vessel is a part of the old submarine base at Point Loma, and is 415 feet long. She was built in Norway, and was originally named Admiral Farragut. Christiansen & Anderson has obtained a tax-free concession to operate the vessel under the Ecuadorian flag.

Many of the men who will go on the expedition are still at the Islands of the Galapagos, where they were left yesterday by Guillermo Andrade, secretary of Christiansen & Anderson company, speaking from here, as one of the favored spots of the world. Although on the equator, he compared the temperate climate of the Islands and said, descendants of lands, Spanish in origin, still live there, and then abandoned.

The island also has some three-inch types of ancient lizards as long as a man's arm, and as long, and spiders whose "web" will stop a fast moving bird.

Fish abound, as do wild goats. There are wild lemons, bananas, coffee, bread fruit; in fact, everything but women, and incidentally they are searching for them. The Galapagos Islands were discovered by Tomas de Berlanga, general eighty-eight years ago, and then abandoned.

The island also has some three-inch types of ancient lizards as long as a man's arm, and as long, and spiders whose "web" will stop a fast moving bird.

Two hundred and twenty-six bottles of sugar were seized on board the coal-burning steamer Martha Strathcona, in port yesterday from Puget Sound, by Arthur Lord, customs inspector, and his flying squadron of customs officers attached to Collector of Customs Schwabacher's office. It is said no effort had been made to conceal the sugar on board the ship, merely that it had not formally been declared as required, when the ship entered port.

Monday and Tuesday were the two busiest days in the history of the Municipal Port Pilots' office, the staff handling twenty-four ships the first day, twenty-six the second, and 225,000 tons of shipping. All seven pilots were on duty, and each of them worked straight through for forty-eight hours. One grabbed a cup of coffee and a doughnut on Tuesday and wasn't able to break away for rolls until 2 p.m.

R. E. Pickering office manager for W. H. Wiekersham, is entertaining a visit from his mother, Mrs. E. W. Pickering, and his brother, Dr. Pickering and his family, who arrived yesterday for two weeks' stay at Pickering's home. The latter is oil distributor in Napa county for the Shell Oil Company.

Half a hundred members and a score of guests dined at Hotel Rex last night, as the third meeting of the newly formed Masonic Club of the Los Angeles Shipyards, the first such organization in the port district. J. C. Baily, senior battalion fire chief in charge of the harbor district, was the principal speaker on "Fires; Their Causes and Prevention." Musical entertainment was given by the Hawaiian Quartet, frequent performers for KHJ dances in Mrs. Joseph Hays, wife of a member of the shipyard staff.

Ray Gamsel, marine superintendent for Struthers & Barry, arrived from San Francisco yesterday to attend the regular meeting of the Shipping Board tanker Solana in local yards this week-end.

Frank Goodale, purchasing agent for the Harbor Department several years, yesterday announced his resignation to the Harbor Commission, and will become associated with a newspaper house. He sought to resign several months ago but was persuaded to wait until important work under way was disposed of. The commissioners have not yet filled the appointment of the authority. Fish Harbor breakwater, over which waves now wash in heavy weather. The remaining 1,000 feet of rock will be laid the work being done by the Harbor Department.

$35 GUARANTEED SUITS and OVERCOATS $25 | $40 GUARANTEED SUITS and OVERCOATS $30 | $45 GUARANTEED SUITS and OVERCOATS $35

A recent writer in the Saturday Evening Post believes the American public is price-blind! That men "think the highest price is the best!" We know better. We know 500,000 men who see beyond the price, who find everything in these clothes which they would ask of clothes at $45, $50 or $60 . . . . and 83% of them come back year after year for more!

Trade Upstairs and Save $10.

Finer Woolens? Yes.
More Hand-Tailoring? Yes.
Re-Doubled Savings? Yes.

But something else—

We have no place in any F&C store for the professional retail-grouch. You know him, you've found him scowling behind counters and on selling floors, serving you with thinly veiled indifference. That's taboo here! You can't tire us out. We're glad to have you here.

Retail courtesy in these big upstairs stores doesn't wear off. Or wear out! We keep up our interest and service AFTER you've bought, with pressing, sponging and minor repairing as often as you say, and a prompt make-good if any garment at any time is not exactly right!
